

Choice Bits

Well, kids, here we are again with no more gossip than usual. In fact, we had a simply horrible time finding out what we do have. Guess people are not getting into the things they used to, or else their pals have just quit talking about them. Sumpin's gotta be done.

You know, we asked Tommy James for some gossip and he said that he didn't know any as he didn't get around very much. We know better, though, cause we saw him out at the Plantation with some cute gal. And you know, Tommy isn't all we've seen, either. We've been looking at Kanela's billfold and there is the cutest little cut-out in there. We also saw Kitty out at the river in a good looking convertible.

There have been some puzzling questions hopping around in our heads. See if you can answer them.

1. What is Louella going to do now that Bill is working on Saturday nights?

2. How did Allen get that ring on his finger?

3. Why is Emma Hartsell so anxious to get to High Point this fall?

4. Is it true that Margie Clark has given up dates for her studies?

After you have answered the above four, then you are qualified to find out how many fish Harriet, Doodles, Jan, Martha, and J. C. have been catching lately at the river.

That's about it for this time, folks, so, Goo by for now.

STUDENTS OPINIONS

MARJORIE LOTSHAW—Going to C.C. for the past two years has meant a lot to me as well as the rest of the students here, and a passing of this bill will enable all of us to enjoy the same.

Now here is a quotation from one of our former students. I can vouch to this being a sincere quote because the one being quoted is a brother of mine.

JIMMY KILGO—I, for one, am very interested in this oncoming tax election. If C.C. should close; and I'm sure it won't, some of the best students in N. C. would have to do without a college education. I am going to do my part and I'm sure that you students will do yours. Let's work as a unit to see to it that C.C. will always be a part of our community.

think that the coming election is one of the best things that could happen to C.C. I believe that if the students show a lot of enthusiasm for the college the election will be in our favor. C'mon gang, let's win!

MARGARET FALKENBERG — This is our big chance to put C.C. on the map so to speak. Let's not let our big chance go by.

Congratulations

On April 14th one of the most important elections of the entire school was held. At this time the Student Council officers for the year 1954-55 were elected. Very interesting campaign speeches were given at an earlier date. New officers are: William Crabtree, President; Don Payne, Vice-President; Louella Robinson, Secretary; Jimmy Brady Treasurer. All these officers were running on the Independent Party ticket. The Independent Party also won all four offices last year. This year's Student Council has very successfully fulfilled its duties and responsibilities, and the student body may rest as-

JOYCE DUNN—Over 3600 people have benefited from Charlotte College and I certainly hope the citizens of Charlotte and especially our own students aren't going to let us down now. Urge all your friends and family to register and vote.

SLADE JOYNER—I think it is a very good thing because C.C. means a lot to us students.

DON PAYNE—The outcome of the tax election will affect many of us here at C.C. C.C. needs this support; so urge your family and friends to vote.

LEWIS HOOVER—The passage of the tax election is a necessity for Charlotte. Charlotte's municipal colleges are a sign of and a partner of progress. Please don't fail to register and vote.

LARRY BROWN—Being a student at Charlotte College, it is not difficult for me to realize the great necessity of the success of this tax election; so therefore we students of C.C. must ban together to sell sure that its government is in good hands for the coming year. Congratulations, Independents!

The winning party was up against strong competition, let me tell you. The other slate of officers included Jim Fitzgerald for President, Dan McCaskill for Vice-President, Marjorie Clark for Secretary.

There are two more elections this year—that of editors and business managers of the annual and paper, and the Sophomore Class officers. It will be a great help if you, the students, will (1) nominate any person who you think fills the qualifications and (2) vote for the candidates of your choice.

Marjorie Lotshaw, Chairman, Elections Committee.

our bill of goods to every citizen of Charlotte.

WILLIAM HOOVER — I think this tax election is a wonderful thing for C.C., and that every student should urge his friends and relatives to vote "Yes."

tion will no doubt decide whether or not hundreds of Charlotte students will have the privilege of a college education. I just hope they won't be denied this privilege.

There you have a few quotes on what present-day and former-day students think about this tax election. I'm sure that all of us want this election to go through, but it is up to us to see to it that it does go through.

We are proud of our student body and we are also proud of our great faculty and wonderful director. We can't let them down and we will not let them down. Make sure that all your friends and relatives vote "yes" for this election.

JOHN KILGO

LETTERS FROM ALUMNUS

Have you ever worked seven and one half hours per day and then gone to school from two to five hours each night for two years? I did, and it was not easy, as so many other Charlotte College students know! Yet, I am proud of the opportunity Charlotte College offered and I believe my sentiments are the same as all the alumni that have done the same thing. Charlotte College gave us an opportunity to continue school while we worked.

The combination of work and school was a drain on my physical health and at the same time a vital stimulant to my life, feeding my hunger for learning and furthering my education. But my need and interest in Charlotte College is not so important as the Charlotteans' need for a college. And why not Charlotte College? It is a very good school. Charlotte College gives the people of Charlotte a need that is vital to the growth of the city. It affords an opportunity for those high school graduates who have to work to continue their education and to enable them to do a better job for their employers and to climb higher in their field of work. Also, for those graduates who do not know in what direction to turn their talents, Charlotte College gives them a chance to study and to build a foundation on which to base their vocations.

Charlotte College to me means more than my own personal gain; it has opened the door to a new way of life for many people and I hope that the door may not be closed.
