

THE NEWSPAPER

ciple of newspaper teamwork. An editor must be able to depend upon every working member at all times or the wheel loses balance and becomes rusty. Also enthusiasm can play a great part in keeping the wheel spinning merrily along. School spirit and a belief in the necessity of the forthcoming product are the essential aids.

When the proofs from the printers have been checked and rechecked for errors, and are finally scuttled off for the last time, a feeling of satisfaction and great achievement, and sometimes of complete exhaustion lies in the hearts of every student who has taken an active part in their production. Yet another result of honest toil comes from meeting a deadline. That is the lasting feeling of oneness, of brotherhood, of rejoicing together in the sight of a job well done.

For the lonely freshman, for the busy senior lacking an interest in college life work for the paper is the solution. Then college will be his and only his to protect and to work for.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The Future Teachers of America Chapter was organized for the first time last November.

Under the leadership of our advisor Miss Mary Denny the F. T. A. elected a chairman and a membership committee at the first meeting. At the second meeting the seven members of the F. T. A. elected their officers. Jane Anne Carmichael was elected as president, Johnnie Green was chosen as vice-president, Joanne Hovis became secretary and Patsy Hartsell became treasurer.

The F. T. A. enables a future teacher to become an integral part of state and national education associations. It is designed to develop ideals in the lives of its members, to enrich the spirit of college life, to advance the interests of the teaching profession, to promote the welfare of children, and to foster the education of all people.

This year the F. T. A. Chapter has been asked to send a Miss and Mr. Representative Student Teacher to be presented to the members of the North Carolina Education Association during the Annual Convention to be held in Asheville, N. C., March 22-24.

Any student at C. C. who is majoring in education is invited to join our C. C. Chapter of the F. T. A.

THE OWL'S ROOST

Many times during the past years there has been something lacking at C. C. It wasn't the hard work, the teachers, or the warmth of friendship to be found here. No, it wasn't any of these; yet, there was one thing missing. But now-a-days that something is fulfilled because the students have their own little restaurant where they can grab a snack and rest between classes. Yes, its true that C. C. has had an Owl's Roost for many years but never any thing to compare with the caliber of the present Owl's Roost. This empty space at C. C. has been filled only because of a few fellows who have put their heads together and have given us our own little restaurant at the school. If you've got only about a minute to grab a snack, where else is there to go but to the Owl's Roost? And if you want some conversation from anything from sports to women's wearing apparel where can you find it? You guessed it, The Roost.

The other day I was walking along the hall minding my own business and who else but the assistant to the assistant hot chocolate jerker, Ralph Abercrombie, should stick his head out from the Roost and yell, "Hey you, got a little proposition for you." Now listen, here's the dope; for just ten cent you can have some of this refreshing, tasty, exotic, hot chocolate.

Now I ask you, where can you find such salesmanship? But speaking of a real nice and energetic fellow, you can surely find one in the spit fire supervisor himself, Lacy Saunders. Yea, man, Lacy has made this place like home. But watch out if you see a flash of bright light coming down the hall, for its probably Lacy making a B-line for the Roost. Makes me perspire just to watch him.

No kidding folks, its really great to have a place so convenient to grab a snack. Just the other day I heard a High School girl remark that she wished that Central had a place such as the Owl's Roost. The fellows hope that you really appreciate their little store. If you want to know how big a success the Roost really is just ask Miss Cone about it because everytime its mentioned you can see her burst out with pride. And it should be that way because the fellows have worked hard to make it a success. So when you've got a little extra time and feel that hunger pang coming on, go on down and visit the Roost.

COFFEE HOUR BIG SUCCESS

The Charlotte College Student Council was the host and hostess to the students at C. C.'s last coffee hour which was as usual a festive occasion. Coffee hours at C. C. are becoming one of the most popular aspects of life at C. C. This is only one of the advantages of attending a small school. For the past years the school has presented these get-togethers so that students could have a time to relax and meet with their fellow "book-worms" in an off-the-cuff conversation.

What some people never seem to comprehend is that there is an over abundance of work, sweat, and tears that goes into presenting one of our refreshment hours in order to make it a success. This column would like to explain some of the problems involved in the process of holding this activity.

In the first place sandwiches have to be ordered, cookies must be bought, coffee has to be made, and these things must be estimated with the number of people who will attend and also with their appetites. In other words its like a merry-go-round, you've got to have enough there to complete the circle and to serve the endless flow of people flocking through the entrance. You've also got to have some able bodied souls to be waiters and waitresses. They scramble around like squirrels collecting nuts, dropping things here, tripping over there, trying to keep the show on the road. Yes, its a tough job to plan, execute, and clean-up after a successful and enjoyable coffee hour. The next time you are at a coffee hour, how about dropping a word or two of thanks to these girls and boys. Believe me, they have a rough job.

SCHOOL SONG

Them owls, them owls, them hoot owls.

Them owls, them owls, them hoot owls.

Them owls, them owls, them hoot owls.

Now hear the word of the coach. Dribble, dribble down the floor.

One more basket, one more score. So come on boys let's get some more. We're going to win tonight.

Watch our center, forward, guard. Come on boys let's hit 'um hard. Hit 'um high, hit 'um low. Come on team . . . let's go.

Them owls, them owls, them hoot owls.

Them owls, them owls, them hoot owls.

Them owls, them owls, them hoot owls.

We're going to win tonight.

NEW COURSES FOR WINTER QUARTER

C. C. is always trying to expand its curriculum so that our students will have a larger choice of subjects from which to choose. We have in the past years added many new courses and this year is no exception. C. C. has added two brand-new courses to its roster this quarter.

A Creative Writings course is now being offered with Mr. Legette Blythe as the instructor. This course offers an opportunity for persons who are interested in doing creative writing to carry on their efforts with the guidance and supervision of an instructor. The emphasis is on writing rather than on the theory of writing. The class will be conducted as a laboratory, with the student concentration on his special interest whether it be in the field of short story, drama, radio script, or magazine article writing. The course began January 10 and will conclude March 16th.

The second of our two new studies is a Grocer Checkers' Course with Mr. Lewis H. Warwick instructing the class. Some topics to be included in the grocer checkers course are as follows: a good grocery checker, simple grocery arithmetic, the use of the cash register, the use of scales, suggested grocery checking procedures, handling of special procedures, marking and stocking merchandise, handling customer telephone orders, and good customer relations. Upon satisfactory completion of this course the individual will receive a certificate. This course began January 30th and will conclude March 12th.

Two other new courses have been instituted for the first time at Charlotte College during this quarter. Business Administration 6 (Retail Merchandising) and Business Administration 7 (Textiles) will make their debut this quarter.

NEW INSTRUCTOR

Charlotte College would like to announce that it has acquired the services of one new instructor for the Winter quarter. Mr. John G. Wheslock will teach a course in Economics 31. C. C. is continually trying to broaden its faculty membership and have taken a step in the right direction by obtaining Mr. Wheslock. This is the first quarter he has taught at Charlotte College.
