Ralph Tennent — were centered around a table of subject material. Mrs. Wingham gave a background of the subject and action taken to the present. Following discussion of the topic, it was generally decided by all that A-bomb and H-bomb testings could be discontinued by the United States with limitations—one of these limitations being that Russia follow suit. All countries, including the Soviet, should be opened for inspection, and atomic energy should be put to use for peaceful purposes.
