Owls Warm Up For Season's Final Game

—Lose To Jaycees In Final Game

The Jack Love Basketball League came to a close last Thursday night. Few people were there to see the final action, but the same type of play that has marked the games all season was witnessed by this writer. The Jack Love Basketball League is a fast one and each member of every team plays hard to win. The men who play for the teams that compose the league give their all to give the fans the type of action that they want to see.

All of the games have been marked by close scores. Often the team that was leading at half time came out on the short end of the score. Such happened to Charlotte

College last Tuesday night. The young men of "OWL LAND" played a good first half and managed to stay a few points ahead of the Jaycees until half time. After intermission, the Jaycees pressed the "Owls" and took command of the game. During the middle of the second half of the game, the Owls staged a comeback and were gaining on the Jaycees — UNTIL — Bradford Mills and Larry Powell fouled out. The 1956-1957 basketball season came to an end for the Owls when the final horn sounded, but most of the members of this year's team are looking forward to next year.

MIDWINTER DANCE

The highlight of the dance was the announcing of Mr. and Miss Charlotte College and the eight attendants. The highest honors went to Ann McRorie and Bill Reid. Attendants to Miss C. C. were Nancy Fisher, Janice Rozzell, Judy Mauldwin, and Gayle Hinson; those attending Mr. C. C. were Doug Bidy, Bob Butler, Bill Drinkard, and Blake LaMar.

All in all, everyone seemed to have a very good evening.

Special thanks go to Miss Raney, Brona Foster and the Social Committee for helping to make the dance a success.
