Former Collegian Editor Weds Miss Boland

On Sunday, September 1, Bobbie J. Butler and Elizabeth Ann Boland were married at St. Mark's Lutheran Church, in Charlotte. The Rev. John Brokhoff officiated at the religious, double-ring ceremony.

The bride wore a white floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle. She carried a mixed bouquet of tuberose and valley lilies.

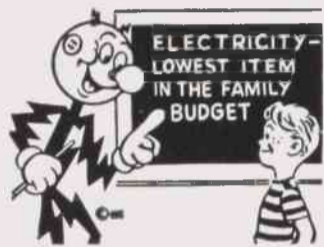

Butler, twenty-seven, is a graduate of Charlotte College. A resident of Charlotte, he attended the United States Military Academy but was forced to leave because of an injury sustained in football practice. He then entered the armed forces and served overseas prior to entering Charlotte College. He plans to study veterinary medicine at the University of Georgia.

The bride, a native of Charlotte and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Boland, was given in marriage by her father. She is twenty-four years old.

For their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Butler spent a week in Western North Carolina. They are now living in Athens, Georgia, in an off-campus apartment.

William F. Drinkard, Jr. was best man, and the matron of honor was Mrs. Donald G. Sharpe. Ushers were Thurmond Butler of Atlanta, Georgia, brother of the bridegroom, and Charles G. Couch of Charlotte. Junior bridesmaid was Jenette Boland of Burlington.

From The Night Owl

by Marc Taylor

Let's get something straight right now. There are certain things I like, and there are certain things I don't like. For example, I like beautiful women, Tchaikovsky, bridge, the new 'Tonight', Carolina's basketball team, Shakespeare, Charlotte College, our advertisers, Kays Gary, Julian Scheer, and "Peanuts".

And I don't like exams, Dick Haymes, conceited women, Kasper, unions, people who park their cars to block mine, Paul Douglas, Communists, Mickey Spillane, and people who talk during movies.

A lot of work went into the Collegian's 'New Look'. I hope you like it.

Those wedding bells are breaking up that old gang of mine. Hal Parker, Bob Butler, and Bill Wagner went this summer, and Bill Drinkard will be going next spring. Sounds like mass hysteria.

I have seen the College's new site, and it looks pretty good. Lots of room for expansion. Which is what we need. And thanks to the nice people who donated surrounding areas to provide entrances.

I wish that Dorothy Brown would hurry up and 'be somebody'. It would be refreshing to pick up a local paper and read current news.

Features I would look for in the Collegian because they are new or special: Night Owl (of course), Poet's Corner, Editor's Report, Showdown, and Girl of the Month.

Opinion: Dvorak's 4th Symphony is better than his 'New World'.

Dave Harmer doesn't have a telephone, but he can usually be reached at a friend's house. A female friend. Named Sandra.

Gay Hinson and committee have worked hard this summer to revise the old constitution. It should be ready for your approval soon. Of course it won't take effect until next year. Unfortunately. But they have done a good job, and I urge you to vote to accept it.

Anyone wanting to comment on the 'New Look' Collegian please write to Letters to the Editor, in care of the Charlotte Collegian, Charlotte College.

New Student Council Feted By Director

The first meeting of the 1957-58 Student Council was held at the home of Miss Bonnie Cone, director of Charlotte College. The council was treated to an outdoor supper before the meeting was called to order.

After Dickie Matthews, president of the council, had formally opened the meeting, Miss Cone welcomed the members and expressed her hope that it would play a large part in making the coming school year more pleasant and profitable for everyone.

Appointments to chairmanships of the school committees were discussed and made. Plans for the various social activities were also debated.

Members of the council who were present were: Dickie Matthews, Ann McRorie, Jon Bass, Marvin Pridgen, Joe Pickard, Fred Collins, Gay Hinson, Charles Couch, Judy Spurrier, and Mrs. Winningham, faculty advisor. Guests were Dr. Wheelock, Miss Denny, and Ann Cone, niece of Miss Cone.
