At the September 13 meeting of the Charlotte College Student Council, held at the home of Mrs. Edyth Winningham, John M. Kirby and Aubrey L. (Al) Palmer, Jr., were approved as editor and business manager, respectively, of the Charlotte College yearbook, the Si Si.

Mr. Kirby, a member of Central High School's 1957 graduating class, received his background in publication in a high school journalism class. An engineering student at Charlotte College, he is a member of Phi Theta Kappa Honor Fraternity, the Freshman Advisory Committee, and the Writers Club. He hopes to take part in the basketball program during the coming year. In addition to delivering a paper route for THE CHARLOTTE OBSERVER, he is employed by R. H. Boulogny, Inc., at 433 West Morehead Street as an engineering draftsman.

When asked about his plans for the 1959 edition of the Si Si, Mr.

Kirby made the following statement: "Although the annual is in a prenatal stage, I can safely say we plan to have a strikingly different annual—an annual students can be proud to claim as a memoir of the days of C. C. residency. We plan to inject more of student individuality and get more life into the annual."

Mr. Palmer, also a 1957 Central graduate, is a student of business administration at Charlotte College; he is a sophomore and hopes to continue his education at the University of North Carolina. He is employed at the First Union National Bank at the Plaza branch.

In regard to the business arrangement for the yearbook, Mr. Palmer said that he has "high hopes of going over $1,000 in advertising and high hopes of having the best yearbook that C. C. has ever had." He further stated that he is in need of two or three people to assist him in the sale of advertising.

New Teachers Join Faculty Of College

Two new instructors have joined the Charlotte College faculty this year, and two faculty members who have taught heretofore on a part time basis will begin the fall quarter as full time faculty members.

Mr. Cloyd Goodrum, Jr., came to Charlotte College for the summer term. A resident of Davidson, North Carolina, Mr. Goodrum will teach engineering mathematics. He holds a B. A. E. in aeronautical engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute of Troy, New York; he studied mathematics at Davidson College and received his M.A. in mathematics from the University of North Carolina. Before coming to Charlotte College, Mr. Goodrum taught at King College in Bristol, Tennessee, and at the University of North Carolina.

Miss Martha Lawrence, a native of Clover, South Carolina, will begin as a teacher of mathematics at Charlotte College the fall quarter. A graduate of Winthrop College, Miss Lawrence received her master's degree in mathematics from Duke University, where she later taught.

Mr. Jerome O. Darholt will return this fall as a full time instructor, having previously taught at Charlotte College on a part time basis. Mr. Darholt was graduated from N. C. State College with a major in mechanical engineering. He will teach engineering graphics and various courses in the mechanical terminal program.

Also returning to Charlotte College on a full time basis for the first time this fall is Miss Evelyn Baker. Originally from Pageland, South Carolina, Miss Baker received her A.B. from Winthrop College with a major in Latin and French; her A.M. was conferred by Duke University, and her graduate major was English, which she has been and will be teaching at Charlotte College. Miss Baker has taught at Myers Park High School for the past four years.

C. C. Library Adds Volumes

Starting into its second year, the Charlotte College library will have an increase of 4,611 volumes. This increase includes new books and bound volumes of periodicals.

In its first real year as a library there was a circulation increase of three hundred books over the previous year.

The College library has books located in the Central High School library, in the counseling room on the third floor, and in a room adjoining the Central library.

Students in Central and Charlotte College have access to both libraries, although the two libraries are separate and have separate catalogs.

The library has been used often by the college students between classes; it has also been utilized for club meetings.

Charlotte College students are reminded that the library is maintained for their benefit; that they should use it often but not abuse it.

Student Council Approves New Committee Chairman

BY BOB ROBERTSON
Collegian Staff Reporter

The Charlotte College Student Council for 1958-'59 met three times over the summer holidays. The first meeting was held on July 23, 1958, in the student lounge, and meetings of August 13 and September 3 were at the home of Mrs. Edyth Winningham.

Initial business undertaken was essentially the receiving of recommendations for the chairmanships of the various standing committees. Subsequently approved were Peggy McCrorie and Jack Helms, co-chairmen of the Social Committee; Gay Hinson, co-chairman of the Elections committee; Rose Erwin and Van Litaker, co-chairmen of the Assembly Committee; Lorna Byers, chairman of the Publicity Committee; Treasurer James La Roach, chairman of the Finance and Budget Committee.

Officially approved by the Council were George Killough, Editor of the Charlotte Collegian, and Gene Cadieu, business manager. John M. Kirby and Al Palmer were approved as Editor and Business Manager, respectively, of the Si Si, the Charlotte College Yearbook.

Selected to serve as orientation chairman of the Freshman Advisory Council was Wayne Kenimer. Bob Allen was placed in charge of the Owl's Roost, and Mrs. Edyth Winningham, receiving a unanimous vote of confidence, was again elected to serve as Student Council Faculty Advisor for the new school year.

Other salient business included authorizing the Handbook Committee to effect its revision, delegating responsibility to have student activity cards printed, and formulating for the first time the policy of paying commissions to any individual who sells ads for the school newspaper and yearbook.

Yarbrough Joins College Staff As Business Manager

Mr. W. L. Yarbrough recently joined the Charlotte College staff as Business Manager; his duties will include supervising the school's bookkeeping.

Mr. Yarbrough attended Moravian College in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania; he was graduated from Appalachian State Teachers College in Boone, North Carolina, with a B.S. in education. He studied accounting through correspondence with the International Accountants Society of Chicago.

In addition to teaching in high school, he has worked for Queen City Coach Company as a traveling auditor and passenger agent. He has been employed as office manager and bookkeeper by Transportation Supply Corporation, and before coming to Charlotte College, on September 22, he was office manager at Brown Equipment and Manufacturing Company.

Miss Mildred English, who was formerly in charge of bookkeeping at the college, will now devote all of her time to serving as Director of Student Personnel and Bookstore Manager.

U. N. Collegiate Council Chapter To Meet October 2

The Charlotte College Chapter of the Collegiate Council of the United Nations will hold its first meeting of the year in the student lounge at 8:00 P.M., October 2. An interesting program has been planned featuring a Hungarian Refugee as guest speaker who escaped during the Hungarian Revolts of 1956. All students who are interested in becoming members of the CCUN are invited to attend this meeting.

The Charlotte College CCUN was organized in January, 1958, by a group of students who had represented Charlotte College at a collegiate model UN Assembly held at Raleigh in October of 1957. It is a member of the N. C. CCUN as well as the national CCUN and the international CCUN. The national CCUN now has member and affiliate groups on more than 320 campuses in the U. S. The international association, known as the International Student Movement for the United Nations (ISMUN), is organized in more than 30 countries.

Charlotte College CCUN members took an active part in helping to organize an intercollegiate area council of the Colleges in the Charlotte area—Davidson College, Queens College, Johnson C. Smith University, Belmont Abbey College, Carver College, Sacred Heart Junior College, and Charlotte College.

Other Colleges may join this year. Plans are being made by the area council for an intercollegiate meeting during UN week, October 20-26. A model UN Assembly is also being planned for December 11-12 at U.N.C. in Chapel Hill.

Dr. Macy Tells Plan for Assemblies

Dr. Pierce Macy, chairman of the Lecture and Artists Committee at Charlotte College, announced that the first program in the 1958-'59 series will take place Monday, December 8, at six o'clock P.M. At that time the College will feature Stanley Babin, a young pianist of good report.

The next program will occur on Tuesday, February 3, 1959, at seven o'clock P.M. The artist to be featured will be Miss Ellen Faulk, an operatic soprano.

Third and final in the series will be a lecturer, Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, who will appear on Monday, April 20, 1959, to speak on the topic "The World of Tomorrow."

Dr. Macy said that the overall number of programs for the coming year had been reduced to three, one per quarter, because of excessive cancellations in class periods.
