

Cheerleaders lead a student rally.

To Repeat Pep Rally

Studios efforts within the library were disrupted on Friday, November 1, as the cheerleaders held their first pre-game pep rally on the library steps.

The rally began with an introduction of the basketball team by Tom Winstead, then an introduction of the Cheerleaders by Carol Holden, followed by several cheers.

A follow-up of this student pep rally is in the making. On order will be a bonfire, 49'ers from the CC gold mines, torch-light burning of an effigy, and plenty of singing, cheering, and dancing for all.

Anyone interested in a snake dance?

- - Student Poll - -

By BILL NEWMAN

Hopes still rise at Christmas time, long after any direct assurance of Santa Claus has faded. A recent poll reflected, however, that student taste runs more this year toward simple gifts like automobiles and money, when asked: What do you hope to get for Xmas?

Ted Eurey, freshman: One corvette.

Harvey Gouch, sophomore: I've already got my present -- a boat.

Ken Gasque, freshman: lots of money, money, money.

Evelyn Brice, freshman: Let's see . . . I just hope that Santa gets here! I don't know just exactly what I want. I've been a good girl all year.

Jerry Vassey, sophomore: A dozen roses for Mr. McRae-- and sweet memories of Physics, which is a healthful course.

Heath Strawn, sophomore: I want a . . . uh . . . a . . . I want six new Physics books, all autographed by Mr. McRae, and a slide rule with his picture on the handle.

Barry Hinson, sophomore: I'm hoping for thirteen semester hours of credit in hopes of becoming a junior.

Charlotte Brower, sophomore: I'm hoping for a car, but most of all I want to stay home for Christmas.

Jeanie Cox, sophomore: Santa Claus.

Jerry Haney, sophomore: A Ferris 49.

Danny Hoffman, sophomore: I don't want anything.

Mary Sadler, sophomore: I want it to snow.

Beth Groom, sophomore: I haven't had time to think about what I want this year.

Harry Spoon, freshman: I would like to have a Christmas vacation in the Bahamas.

Carol Holden, sophomore: Let's see the 49'ers beat Davidson-- revenge!

Fay Thompson, freshman: More school spirit at CC ball games.

Rolly Blyth, sophomore: Peace and quiet and harmony. I could use a few A's for Xmas.

Marion Prager, freshman: a . . . uh . . . a poodle . . . really nothing in particular.

Louise Biggers, freshman: I want more than anything else a white Christmas and then a car for good luck.

Fan Tabs

Approximately twenty - five 49'er fans found their way to Laurinburg last Saturday week, December 1st, to see CC play its first game. Their sample of school spirit is great encouragement to the team and the school.

I'm not sure who he was, but my hat is off to the 49'er who wore a Charlotte College sweat-shirt to the Wingate game. Participation such as his is exactly what the team needs Interesting facts include a count of 70 fans plus 8 cheerleaders cheering for Wingate here last December 5. Charlotte College, with a student body of over a thousand, ran up a count barely double the strength of the visitors. One outstanding fact about CC, they really go all out to support the team! . . .

The social committee sends its regrets over the failure of the sock-hop and its appreciation for the observance of the no-smoking-or-drinking rules in the gym. These are little things

Charlotte College

SPORTS

TOM WINSTEAD
SPORTS EDITOR

49'er star heads for a basket.

49'ers Battle Competition

SCOREBOARD

St. Andrews ----- 101
Wingate ----- 80
Charlotte ----- 74
Davidson ----- 107
Charleston ----- 82

Charlotte ----- 73
Charlotte ----- 57
Kings Col. ----- 68
Charlotte ----- 47
Charlotte ----- 64

CC cagers have placed four games under their belts this season with a score of three losses and one win.

Losing out in the final period against St. Andrews and Wingate after a hard fought game, the 49'ers took their first two losses. The game with Davidson really proved what experience can do, for Davidson's five took the lead throughout the entire game.

A called game which appeared from nowhere with Kings College put the 49'ers in possession of their first victory. Taking the lead early in the game, the squad kept a good margin of points, only challenged once during the rest of the game.

Real Cool Carpooling

(Continued From Page 2)

new and original system of traffic signals. Tapered fingers extended through a window crack will signify either a left or right turn. If they flutter briefly, the signal may mean something else.

When good old Friday rolls around, all that remains of a week of laughing, studying, and singing commuters is a mound of crumpled candy wrappers left on the floor of the jalopy. Some of these are usually swept out on Saturdays.

What! A four-legged player on the 49-ers?

Charlotte College was represented on the Singing Christmas Tree last week by Bill Farson, bass, and Mr. Sidney T. Stovall, tenor.

A former student of Charlotte College, Nancy Carolyn Miller, was married on Saturday, December 15, to Ted Moore Williams. The wedding was at 7 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Charlotte, Dr. Carl E. Bates officiating.

which boost CC's reputation.

Young college students? No, just the three children of one of our teachers. They're wearing baby-size CC sweatshirts to the basketball games . . .

Ruckus? What ruckus? Oh, that! It's recorded cheers by the cheerleaders that you hear in the lounge. There's no fight!

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

Home Games at Garinger Gymn

Thur.	Jan. 3	Kings College (Park Center)	8:00
Tues.	Jan. 8	Warren Wilson Here	8:30
Thur.	Jan. 10	Asheville-Biltmore There	7:30
Sat.	Jan. 12	Davidson Frosh There	6:30
Tues.	Jan. 15	Wingate There	7:30
Wed.	Jan. 16	Kings College (Park Center)	6:45
Tues.	Jan. 22	Spartenburg Here	7:30
Thur.	Jan. 31	North Greenville Here	7:30

McDonald's
tasty food... thrifty prices

the drive-in with the arches

3300 N. Independence Blvd.
Charlotte, N.C.

CC Impresses Marine Corps

By ANDRIA PRUTNICK

The United States Marines have established a beachhead at Charlotte College. On December 11, two lone recruiters, Captain Marks and Staff Sgt. J. B. Weaver, invaded these hallowed halls of learning with their posters, which heretofore have usually graced the sidewalks before the post office.

A large percentage of boys responded to the miniature recruiting office set up in the lobby. Captain Marks stated that they were impressed with the interest shown at Charlotte College.

Students interested in careers as officers with the Marine Corps were interviewed and tested. The standard test consists of three parts -- English, mathematics, and mechanical comprehension, or "horse sense."

A student who enters this program continues his college education without any interruption, participating in summer training only. Upon graduation, he receives his college degree plus the rating of a second lieutenant in the U.S. Marine Corps.

It PAYS To Advertise Regularly In
The Collegian

Have fun in your spare time... drink Coca-Cola

the ANDERSONS

1617 Elizabeth Avenue

BOYS' BRING YOUR DATE

Famous Blue Ribbon Steak

Pizza Pies

Spaghetti

Soft Music

ITALIAN foods
PIZZA — SPAGHETTI
LASAGNA — SALADS
ALSO STEAKS & SEAFOODS
Dine by Romantic Candlelight
in An Old World Atmosphere

THE GONDOL RESTAURANT
W. Independence Blvd.
At Morehead