The Honorable Reginald M. look for the chartreuse RCA dog Flaggart, the declared cocktail presidentian candidate, caused an uproar last night in a movie theater, which was showing 'Seven Days in May", by making a speech during the color cartoon. This reporter was on hand when he was escorted out of the show.

Mr. Flaggart, did you enjoy the movie, sir?

Yes, that "Seven Days in Mayy" gave me some ideas which I may put into effect if I am defeated in November. I would also like to suggest that the public see the picture "The Best Man" and try to figure out which one of the characters represents me.

To Change the subject, how do you plan to attack poverty if you are elected?

Send the marines.

Will you continue the country's physical fitness campaign?

Yes. I have a wonderfully muscular man who has consented to be my head of the Youth Fitness Council. This man is so muscular that he has letters tattooed on his chest which normally read "Tall" but which spell "Tallahasee" when he takes a deep breath.

Odds and Ends

Have you Spanish 101 and 102 students noticed who wrote your book? Why it's none other than L. H. Turk. This is O. K., I guess, but it started me wondering- if we had a textbook for Turkish, would it be written by J. P Spaniard?

Well, those reasearch scientists have done it again. Now they're sayin gthat peanuts cause lung cancer. I think they've gone just a little too far this time. After all, have you ever heard of an elephant dying of cancer?

Alumni Holds Reunion

The Alumni Asociation of Charlotte College is being reactivated this spring after several years of inactivity. The group plans a reunion on Saturday May 23, at 3 p.m., in the College Union. Faculty and trustees are invited also.

The speaker will be Dr. Stephen Malhaey, a graduate of Charlotte College, who is now a neurosurgeon at Duke Medical Center. His topic will be the "Challenge of What We Are."

Bill Reid will preside over the EX festivities and welcoming remarks will be given by Dr. Bonnie Cone. The program will also Mon feature the Merwin Foard interpetation of "Blind Plowman". The clmax will be furnished by the Alma Mater of Charlotte College.

Tue

Kenneth Sanford has published a newsletter for all grads, which will become a regular publication. This will tend to keep them in touch with the goings on at individually.

The Circle K will again sponsor a book exchange for the Summer School Session. The dates will be June 8, 9, and 10. This will be registration day and the first two days of classes. Hours will be published at a later date. The location will be under the steps leading to the cafeteria in the

The Circle K is also planning a banquet on May 29 at 7:30 p.m. at the Stork Restaurant in Freedom Village Shopping Center. New officers will be installed and members will hear addresses by College officials and Mecklenburg Kiwanis, the club's sponsor.

Due to cirmustances beyond their control the Circle K Club will be unable to have the Car Wash on Wednesday, May 13th as planned. The loss of water caused by a broken water main dictated conservation of what water we have. The additional strain upon the campus water system caused by the new Construction Project and the need for water of our newly planted trees was considered a maxum load without the further strain of a car wash." YRC

Members of the Young Republicans' Club heard addresses from two guests speaker at their May 11th meeting, Monday night. The guests were, Betsey Kelley, a Charlotte housewife and mother of three school-age children, running as a candidate for the Charlotte-Mecklenburg School Board; and Charles Kincaid, a candidate for a Mecklenburg County Commisssioner subject to the primary on May 30th.

Mrs. Kelley is running on her past record. A former teacher, she has attended all School Board meetings for the past three years for the League of Women Voters; she has an A.B. degree in Education; and has been the Legislative Chairman of the Mecklenburg PTA Council for two years. Mrs. Kelley says that Charlotte-Mecklenburg needs: 1) Adequate pay for our well-trained teachers; 2) Improved learning conditioned, such as smaller classes; 3) Challetters to new members will go lenging curriculum to better fit out this week. The new members lege to study for his Ph.D. degree every student from "slow learn- will be installed at the banquet ers" to the "gifted"; 4) up-to-date and receive their Sigma University.
