ADDRESS ALL COMMUNICATIONS TO
THE STANDARD, CONCORD, N. C.

FRIDAY, MAY 18, 1888.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

The flower yards and gardens look magnificent.

Strawberries are on the market at 10 and 12 cents per quart.

The picnic fever has not as yet struck the town.

Mr. George Reagan, of Asheville, spent last Sunday in Concord.

Now don't forget to come to the great Railroad meeting on the 26th.

Our newly elected Mayor has his headquarters over the Farmers' Store.

Tomorrow is the Democratic county convention and we hope to see a big turnout.

Now that the campaign is opening up you will want all the news—subscribe for THE STANDARD.

We welcome to our list of township correspondents X from No. 7, and we hope to hear from him often.

College commencements will now be in order and the embryo orator will expatiate to appreciative audiences.

The material for the new Lutheran parsonage is being put on the ground, and work will be commenced at once.

Brown brothers, our livery men, have purchased the commodious livery stable property now occupied by them.

The wall of the bank building is being pushed rapidly along under the supervision of contractor Propst.

Our old friend, Jas. K. Deaton, of factory fame, has the prettiest twenty-five acre cotton field around town. Much of it has five and six leaves.

Dr. R. S. Young tells us that the attendance at the Medical convention lately held in the town of Fayetteville, was the largest he has ever had the pleasure of meeting with.

Mr. Marshal Harris, now flits from Concord to Bileville et vice versa each week in the interest of his mercantile trade. If push insures prosperity Marsh will be on time.

Concord is badly in need of street lamps. As a corporation we are able to have electric lights and our worthy city fathers would do everybody a favor to consider the matter.

On Friday last, the police of Charlotte arrested eight colored boys on the charge of being a nuisance. A lesson of the same sort should wholesomely be applied to some of Concord's rising generation.

On Saturday last, this office received from drayman, Pleas Miller, col., a bunch of strawberries that deserve mention. The largest one measured 3 1/2 inches, and the smallest one 2 1/2 inches around. To the donor we tender our thanks.

Dr. W. F. G. Young, who shocked the sensibilities of Winston society and who was afterwards arrested and jailed here, has again come to grief. A Baltimore judge has sentenced him to eighteen months in the penitentiary.

Mr. A. J. McKibbins, for many years a citizen of Concord, died in Greensboro. The older inhabitants will remember Mr. McKibbins as the assistant at the depot for many years.

Ye local with a most profound salam thanks Mr. J. B. Caldwell, salesman at Cannons & Fetzer, for a bran span fired new style straw hat of the first quality, and in return we wish him a steady increase in sales of all goods pertaining to his line, and which his employers so liberally advertise in THE STANDARD.

The glorious season last week has buoyed up the spirits of our farmers. Many fields of cotton where the seed had not sprouted has now a good stand. Wheat and oats that seemed as if they would never get long enough to cut, have stretched out wonderfully and the corn crop is growing finely. But thus the grass is keeping pace and every one is busy.

Four miles north-west of Concord is quite a business place. Each year has added to the number of dwellings and out houses. The place is sometimes called Cooke but from away back in the dim distant past it has borne the name of "Possum town." Its present population notwithstanding the lack of a town charter, held an election on the first Monday in May for town officers with the following result: Mayor, David Cook, Town Marshal, Allen Shoe, Aldermen, D. E. Perry, Samuel Steel and Dr. J. S. Lafferty.

—Fire feels "powerful" good this week.

—There will be a hose and reel practice this afternoon at 4 p. m.

—Ball playing has not struck this town a center shot yet. It's not too late.

—The corn crop is looking unusually well for this season of the year.

A big crowd is expected to attend the County Convention here tomorrow.

—The young people had quite an interesting dance at the St. James Hotel Monday night.

—We regret very much that No. 5 items and other communications came in too late for this issue.

—Rust is getting on the wheat in some sections of the county, but fortunately not to any great extent.

—We return thanks to Miss Mollie Fetzer for an invitation to be present at the examination of her classes.

—Fetzer's Drug Store wall is adorned with a great big sign, and the chief lettering on it is three great big B's. It is well done by E. F. Correll.

—The doctors generally are having a rest in these quarters. We wish them an abundance of this commodity. The fact of the matter is, we have a healthy country.

—Mr. Alfred Litaker displays considerable taste in "fixing" up around his block of buildings. He has just completed the job of casing up the entrance to the cellars with stone. The work is splendid.

—Little Theodore Quantz is reaping a splendid harvest of strawberries. He sells 15 to 20 quarts every morning, and then reaches school in time for his duties. Master Theo. is a smart boy, and such to make glad the heart of any mother.

—The roads leading out from Concord are miserably rough. A ride over some surpasses any tonic as an appetizer. But then "the winter has been a miserably rough one," is the universal excuse.

—Capt. Reed has forwarded the papers of application, bond, &c., to Gen. Jones, and expects at an early day to have the company organized and at work. Verily Concord ought to throw up her hat and give three cheers for her own progress.

—Dr. L. S. Flow, of Mecklenburg, who has just completed his course at the University of New York, and received license at the late meeting of the State Medical Association, has located at Flow's Store. The doctor will find those people among the kindest. We welcome him to the county.

—"Didn't I tell you," said the wise old man to his friend as he reminded him of his prophecy, "that there would be snow in the north, a flood in the Mississippi, cold weather and too much rain in this country, because new moon occurred on Ascension Day?"

—The Volapuk Club met last night in Dr. Archer's office and began work in the prosecution of this the greatest wonder of the 19th century. It is certainly a pleasure to be able to write and speak to representatives in every known country. This fact is all the more interesting, when you take into consideration the simplicity and regularity of the language and its principles.

—We learn through a private letter from Mr. John A. Miller, a Cabarrus boy, who left this county about 8 years ago for the far west, where he has been engaged in mining, that it is his intention to return to the old North State—on a visit only. He has many interesting things in his letter about Silver City, Idaho. John, like everybody else, likes gold.

People You Know.
Mr. B. F. Rogers is on a business trip to Lynchburg, Va.

Miss Annie Holmes, of Salisbury, is visiting at Mr. W. A. Smith's.

Mr. Rosenberger, of Warrenton, N. C., is in town on business.

Mr. Henry Ritz is spending a few days among his Concord friends.

Mr. Will Caldwell is again in town visiting the home folk, and arranging the electric lights in the factory.

Miss Kate Reed returned Friday night from an extended visit to friends and relatives in Winston.

Miss Annie Johnston, of Salisbury, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Brown, has returned to her home in Salisbury.

Mrs. M. L. Scott, sister of our townsman, J. N. Brown, Esq., returned to Concord Monday morning from Oxford, Miss. She will make this her future home.

Mrs. Haar and Mrs. Glameyer, two of Wilmington's most estimable ladies, who were visiting friends here and at Mount Pleasant, returned home Monday. They bestowed many compliments upon our town among the hills.

Mr. H. A. Deal, of Charlotte, honored the Standard with a visit on Friday evening. In the newspaperitorial line he is a prince of good fellows. Although the Standard office is small, the hearts of its editors are as big as a barn door, and opens wide to all such brothers of the press.

That's the Way!
THE STANDARD has many reasons to feel proud of the success that has thus far attended the efforts of its editors. The subscriptions being sent in daily from every section of the county and from other counties and states, is indeed gratifying to us. But for all this we are greatly indebted to the kind words and substantial aid from our many friends. Don't forget to call at our office, opposite the postoffice, and give us an account of what is going on and what you see in your section.

The Railroad.
The grand railroad mass meeting to be held on the 26th promises to be a big and interesting occasion. The voters of this county have an opportunity presented them which, if they accept, will open up untold fields of wealth and industry. Concord needs the road; what helps Concord helps the whole county. The eastern section needs the road; what improves the condition of one section exerts a telling influence upon the entire county. Who objects to having railroads? We trust no one.

A New Car Coupler.
Tuesday morning Mr. Ed. Hall, our efficient express agent, exhibited a car coupler lately invented by himself. Of all things receiving so much study and time, the car coupler is pre-eminent, since the lack of a perfect one has resulted in the horrible death of so many men engaged on our railways. This coupler by Mr. Hall we believe to be the best yet invented. It needs no one to insert the pin as the cars come together, an act which so often results in death, but adjusts itself without the aid of human hands. Mr. H. sent the model to the patent office with but little doubt of receiving a patent.

A Mean Bull.
Joseph F. Misenheimer, of No. 4, had quite a painful experience with a vicious bull on last Tuesday. Mr. F. had gone to the pasture for his cattle, when this animal made for him in a storming way, knocking him down, pawing and butting him promiscuously over ditches, briars, &c. It was not until parties, seeing the trouble, hurried to the scene, and with a well directed aim made way with his bullship, that Mr. F. could be rescued. He is most painfully bruised. Dr. Archer spent the night with him, and reports his injuries to be many, the extent of which could not be ascertained up to Thursday morning.

A Model Farmer.
The oft reiterated assertion that any man has sense enough to farm is simply a not-so. Besides requiring many laborious tasks, the amount of mental ability or good common sense, is by no means little.

Mr. Henry Leifer, of No. 10, has both the energy and the brains to grapple with the requirements of this field of work. With one eye to harrowing cotton, he made two small harrows—a left and a right handed one—so constructed as not to interfere with the work of each other, but in such a manner as to be drawn by one mule. The result: two small boys at the handles, with one mule, go easily and quickly between the rows, doing the work that usually required two men and two mules. As the old saying is, they take a whole middle at a time. It takes brain to carry on advantageously and profitably even a little farm.

Sunday School Conference.
The Sunday School conference of the Salisbury District, M. E. Church South, convened in the Methodist church at this place on Friday of last week. All the charges were represented and a very interesting session was held, various topics on Sunday school work were freely discussed, and doubtless a new impetus given to this important part of the church. The week was made especially interesting by the sermons and lectures given by the different ministers present, climaxed on Sunday by the Missionary Society, in open session, which was a grand success. Among the ministers who aided in the public services were Revs. W. C. Wilson, J. C. Rowe, C. W. Byrd, J. W. Clegg and others.

The other churches of the town were supplied by members of the conference on Sunday morning and night.

The conference was ably presided over by Chas. G. Montgomery, Esq., and Prof. H. W. Spinks, secretary. Mount Pleasant was selected at which place to hold the conference next year.

Our citizens extended their usual hospitality to the delegation, and many expressions of appreciation were made in favor of Concord, whose liberal greeting is a unit to all denominations on similar occasions.

—Messrs. J. M. and W. R. Odell attended the meeting of factory officers, held in Charlotte on the 15th.

Sad Death.
A sad accident occurred at the High Point depot on Saturday last. Mr. Isaac Snell was killed by the Charlotte bound train. The Charlotte Chronicle of Saturday says:

"Mr. Snell was walking towards the depot on the side track, and when the train reached a point within twenty feet of him, he left the side track and stepped to the main line, without once looking back. It is the general opinion that Mr. Snell was absorbed in deep study at the time he heard the approaching train and made the fatal error of supposing that he was stepping from the main line to the side track for safety. At any rate this is the only explanation that can be given by those who witnessed the affair. Mr. Snell was struck square in the back and was thrown into the air, falling to one side of the track. A crowd quickly surrounded the unfortunate man, when it was found that he was still living, though it was seen that there were no hopes for his recovery. His head was crushed and he was injured internally. He died a few minutes later."

Mr. Snell was formerly a citizen of Cabarrus, and if we mistake not a native of the county. At the time of his death he was living with his son, Walter Snell, section master of the road at High Point. One of his sons, Mr. F. V. Snell, is a resident of our town, but at the time was on business in Greensboro. From Mr. Henry Ritz, who is now a resident of High Point, we gather the information that Mr. F. V. Snell was on the train that caused the death of his father, and that the old gentleman was at the depot for the purpose of meeting him, stating to his friend just before the accident that he was that day going to have a reunion at the dinner table of all his children once more, and probably this might be the last, as he was growing old. Mr. Snell was about 60 years of age.

The Primaries Last Saturday.

Odell, W. G. Means, Col. P. B. Means, A. B. Young, M. L. Brown, H. S. Puryear, C. M. McDonald and R. S. Harris.

On motion of Col. Means the chairman and secretaries were added to the delegation.

No. 5 township was well represented at its township meeting Saturday. Five delegates were appointed to attend the county convention, viz: M. Scott, Will Misenheimer, Nelson Barnhardt, F. V. Barrier and H. A. Blackwelder.

The primary in No. 4 was well attended. J. V. Petzel chairman.

Noah Blackwelder, J. B. Wineoff, Rufus Cline, R. V. Caldwell, J. H. Earnhardt and C. M. B. Goodnight were appointed delegates to the county convention, with instructions to vote for delegates to the state convention who would support a farmer for office.

There was no primary in No. 11, so we understand.

Score Another.
The efforts of Mr. John Leslie in getting up a Building and Loan Association are being crowned with abundant success.

Already about 600 shares have been taken. The friends of this enterprise are anxious to have it reach 1000 shares. Why not? Where's the laborer, clerk or any one engaged in any work that is unable to carry one share—twenty-five cents per week only, or $13 per year.

Go to Cannons & Fetzer's store at once and learn something about this wonderful opportunity for a splendid and safe investment, and a good means of helping you save a considerable part of your hard earned wages. Mr. Leslie will take pleasure in waiting on you. Be sure to go at once, or you'll be too late.

Temperance Meeting.
The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will have services conducted in Caton's Hall every Sunday evening at 4:30 o'clock. Exercises will be devotional, conducted by one of our resident ministers, and a short address. Music by the united choirs of the several churches. We earnestly invite everybody to come out and unite with us in prayer for divine guidance and blessing in the moral issue which is again before us.

We the undersigned merchants, agree to close our stores at 10 o'clock (except Saturdays) beginning Monday, May 21st, and continuing until Sept. 1st.

FROM THE DIFFERENT TOWNSHIPS

Mr. Pleasant Items.
Six miles north of this place frost was seen on Thursday morning.

Mr. G. W. Dry, of Foil's Mill, says there is more wheat in his neighborhood than a year ago.

Rev. D. A. Sox and family, of China Grove, were visiting at the Bangle House last week.

Mrs. Peschau, Mrs. Haar and Mrs. Glameyer and little daughter, of Wilmington, were visiting at Prof. Linn's last week.

Mr. W. A. Elliott went to Tyro Shops on Thursday. He goes to see his little granddaughter who is dangerously sick.

Although commencement is nearly at hand, students are still coming to the college. Two "new" students entered the institution on Thursday last.

Mr. Mathew Petrea, of St. John's, had a finger nearly severed from the hand by the bite of a pig, on last Monday. Mr. P. says the pig got a good hold on the finger and would not "hold up" until he choked him off just like a hog.

Rev. Geo. H. Cox, of Copal Grove, N. C., will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of North Carolina College in Holy Trinity church on Sunday, 24th inst.

The ladies of Holy Trinity church will serve refreshments during commencement week. The proceeds of which will be given to a charitable purpose.

Messrs. A. C. and D. D. Barrier, the executors of the late Daniel Barrier, deceased, have just had erected by Berryhill and Johnson, of Charlotte, in the Lutheran cemetery, a very pretty $300 granite monument to the memory of said Daniel Barrier. The monument is a real beauty and of high polish. The act of love is commendable, especially so since Daniel Barrier was a christian gentleman of a generous and noble impulse. While living, he chose the part of an humble citizen, and dying he left a character worthy the emulation of all men.

The Democratic primary for this township was held in this place on Saturday last. C. G. Heilig, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee occupied the chair and H. C. McAllister secretary. The sense of the meeting was taken to the choice for governor, there being about an equal division for Fowle and Steadman. The following are the delegates to the county convention to be held on the 19th inst: J. A. Hahn, John Lipe, John D. Barrier, D. H. Ridenhour, Ransom Blackwelder, T. A. Moser, H. C. McAllister, C. G. Heilig, J. D. Barrier, J. F. Moore, I. F. Lineberger and G. W. Blackwelder. The following resolutions were passed: Resolved that it is the sense of this meeting that conventions for nominating county officers are necessary and good; but that we do not deem it wise to attempt such procedure this year, except for holding a joint convention with Stanly county for nominating a senator to represent us in the next general assembly of North Carolina. The convention then went into an election for township executive committee, which resulted as follows: H. C. McAllister chairman, C. G. Heilig and T. Moser.

Adjourned.

It is to be deplored that the rank and file of the democracy find it necessary to declare against their convictions. Convention is the right thing and should be adhered to as the best expression of the people's wishes. The people ought always to keep complete control of them and never allow them to be run in the interest of, or engineered by designing men to the begetting of factions. It is this that has brought odium on conventions; and until the people shall rise above and become independent of intrigue, and express their convictions regardless of dictations, it cannot be otherwise. But to cure this evil shall we abandon conventions? Kill the patient to get rid of the disease? No, sooner kill the office seeker, and let us have people's conventions, in the interest of the party and not men. Beware of the man who walks into your conventions with a list of delegates in his pocket to be appointed. He means self, or mischief.

China Grove Items.
The closing exercises of the school at the Academy began Tuesday at 10 A. M. The first on programme was a literary address by Rev. H. P. Cline, of Lexington, N. C. His discourse was general and practical, though pure and noble.

In the afternoon the large audience was entertained by comic recitations and music.

The cantata given at night by the music class and the programme of all the exercises were carried out with success in every particular. The walls on either side and in rear of the rostrum were beautifully decorated with fresh cut flowers, and the occasion was one of great pleasure to all.

Mr. Jno. C. Corther and family are visiting relations in Lincoln county. Mr. C. will go west before returning.

Miss Maggie Fisher is attending commencement at Conover this week.

Dots From Flyler.
Rev. Mr. Bivins will preach at Salem on Sunday at 11 o'clock.

This community has been visited by refreshing rains during the past week. It did not come before it was needed.

We are pained to chronicle the death of Mr. Lewis Carter, which occurred at his home on the 10th inst.

We cannot announce any improvement in the health of Mr. D. C. Honeycutt, who has been lingering for some time with consumption.

Almost every newspaper that is read contains some news about Stanly county and building Railroads. Stanly county needs a railroad and she is going to have one, and that before very long.

Mr. D. H. Lowder says he will have to get him a reaper to cut his wheat with this year. It is so large and well matured he thinks he can't hold out to cut it by hand.

Cotton is coming up fine. About six weeks you will hear one farmer ask his neighbor if he is done chopping his cotton to a stand.

No. 7 Items.
The Isehour gold mine is booming under the management of George Isehour. It is on the lands of H. M. Isehour, near Gold Hill.

The farmers have organized two clubs in the township, and it is thought that an Alliance will be organized at an early day.

As a reader of your valuable paper I notice items from different townships, and thinking that a few lines from No. 7 might be of some interest to your many readers, I will say that the recent rains have put a smile on the farmer's face. Wheat prospects are good, as is also that of oats, the stand is excellent and the late rains have given to all grain crops the rich dark color that pleases the eye of all passers by. Cotton is a surplus crop in this township (as hog and herring come first.) The stand is good. Corn did not come up well, and will be very irregular for awhile until the replanting catches up.

Across Under Water.
PITTSFIELD, Ill., May 16.—The break in the Sny levee in creases and 102,000 acres of land that have been protected will soon be the bottom of an immense lake. Owners and tenants are hurrying to the uplands for personal safety, only having time to take their already loaded wagons and live stock and leaving most of their property to the floods. Hundreds of families are camped in the open field, out of reach of the water, having nowhere to go. A cold rain has set in, making their desolation more dreary and complete.
