COUNTY, N. C.
AY, NOV. 23, 1894.
CROP OF THIS YEAR.
meeting of the er's Convention, at y, Ala., it was decided to s acreage in cotton, and wing resolution was ad-olved. That the honest opinhis convention, as practical growers, is that the estimates are being sent out by the cotton anges in reference to the crop excessive, and it is the belief convention, based upon practiervation and the best statistical formation, that the present crop will not exceed eight and a half million bales."
It is clear that if the present crop does not exceed eight and a half million bales, the price will go up when that fact is demonstrated.
This resolution was introduced by Gov. Stone, of Mississippi, a wise man and well posted. It was adopted unanimously by representative men.
It is to be hoped that the prediction "based upon practical observation and the best statistical information" is correct. But we fear that their estimate is too low.
If so, it can hardly be expected that the price will be higher this season.
Mr. H. M. Niel, a veteran statistician of New Orleans, believes the crop will reach 10,250,000 bales, and gives the reasons for his predictions.
1. There has been no loss of land on rivers by overflow. 2. No land planted in cotton has been abandoned to weeds, as is often the case. 3.
There have been good stands from Texas to Virginia. 4. Little or no damage this year has been reported from worms, rust, shedding, etc. 5.
There has been practically no frost.
6. Texas alone will make 530,000 more bales than last year. Concluding, Mr.
Niel says:
"I am, therefore, compelled by my convictions to adopt this large estimate of the actual growth. Whether supply so largely exceeds any possible requirements of the year from consumption, is a question which only the future can settle. If prices grow very low much may remain in the country, but any important advantage would not only bring it out but encourage continued and extended planting, with still more disastrously low prices another year."
LITTLE SNAPS.
Now grip is in the country.
Many a person is wondering who he will have for a pastor and many a preacher is now wondering where his home will be.
It is now asserted that the late Cox is entirely buried. Those people certainly hang on a long time to spoil meat.
Grover Cleveland is the most hated man and, at the same time, the most admired man living today.
Fusion fused, the best thing the Democrats can do is to fuse, fuse now, with themselves. Pull yourselves together and gather in the parts everywhere.
Zeb Vance Waler, of Lexington, claims that he was the cause of the landslide. "Heavens!"
The cotton crop estimate goes up and the price comes down.
Raleigh Observer: "If Vance could know he was to be succeeded in the Senate by a Republican or Populist, he would turn over in his grave, if such a thing were possible." What about Adlai? No such a waterloo could have followed him.
A prominent gentleman of Concord, and a good man too, thinks the trouble in the last campaign was due more to the press having quarrelled at President Cleveland in the early part of his term. There may be much truth in it.
KOLB'S BIG BLUFF.
Of all the fussy and pestiferous political frauds in the land I denbe F Kolb, of Alabama, is one of the most disgusting.
His latest manifesto shows that he either lost what sense he had or is a complete idiot.

there and see that he gets his rights.
Governor Jones probably made a mistake in taking any notice of Kolb's foolish talk, but in an interview he says very plainly that he will see that William C. Oates, the duly elected Governor, is installed in the office to which he has been called.
Governor Jones can be relied upon to suppress Kolb and any mob he may be able to raise, but we have no idea that any considerable number of men in Alabama will be fools enough to follow Kolb in open defiance of law and authority.
Should he, however, collect a crowd and attempt to carry out his threat to take possession of the government there will be but one course to pursue, and that, we are quite certain, will be promptly and effectually followed.
We do not, however, apprehend any serious trouble from Kolb. If he wants to go through the mockery of being sworn in as governor, nobody will object. He may afford some amusement by setting himself up as the rightful executive of Alabama.
It would be a scene similar to that which Pauma made in the exercise of supposed authority, and the results would be harmless. If Kolb attempts anything beyond such an exhibition of himself, he will of course be taken in hands by the police and checked in to the calabroom.—Atlanta Journal.
ORDS AND ENDS.
The Woman's Christian Temperance Union is nearly twenty years old. The fact that it attains voting age on the 23d day of December next probably inspired President Frances Willard in her opening address at Cleveland yesterday when she said, "we shall always have a double standard of morals while we have a double standard of voting."
Miss Ella Cooney, who mysteriously disappeared from Weedsport, N. Y., about three weeks ago, has returned home, but it is able to tell of what happened to her except to say that a gang of negroes captured her and imprisoned her in a cave. It is supposed that her mind has been unbalanced by reading novels.
Mr. Coff, who ran for Recorder in New York and was elected spent 15 cents. Another man who was running spent 30 cents and was beaten but he cheered up when another fellow who spent $14, 980.40 was laid out. Mr. Morton, whose salary as Governor will be $10,000, he spent $19-790.
A thrifty citizen of Hulse-ville, Pa., struck a big bargain the other day and bought coffins enough for the whole family, at an auction sale, at 10 cents apiece. There is one thing about coffins, they will keep, but in this case some of the young folks may outgrow them.
General Nelson A. Miles was opposed every campaign against the Indians in the last 14 years. He is described as being quick, decisive and a stern disciplinarian; but courteous and gallant withal. He was born in Massachusetts fifty-five years ago.
The Woods Full of 'Em.
A young woman from the treeless plains of the West had gone to Boston to a music school on her first East, and among the first persons she met at her boarding house was a youth from Bangor. As their acquaintance ripened she told him of what had interested her on the journey.
"Why," she said with an exultant spirit, "I saw at one place in Pennsylvania a hundred sawlogs in one pile."
"A hundred?" he asked, with a tinge of a smile.
"That's what they told me. You know we don't have sawlogs where I come from."
"Is that so? You ought to come to Maine once."
"Do you have them there?"
"Do we?" he replied magnificently.
"Do we? Why, my dear young lady, logs grow on trees in Maine," she said in open-eyed amazement.
"A literal fact," he asserted proudly.—Detroit Free Press.
If the U. S. had as great a relative population as Japan, it would have 100,000,000 people.

GROVER SPRAINS HIS ANKLE.
Shipped on a S. M. Road Stone Which Suddenly Rolled Away from His Foot.
Washington, Nov. 20.—The regular cabinet meeting did not take place owing to the absence of the President. When returning to his home at Woodley last evening, from a walk, the President trod on a small round stone which rolled away causing the sprain of one of his ankles. The sprain was slight, but because it was sustained by a foot which had been afflicted with gout, it was so painful that walking was not easy. Mrs. Cleveland drove in this morning and informed members of the cabinet. The President is getting along nicely, but his walking being still painful, he would not make the trip.
[There are anarchists and outthroats all over the country that will be sorry it is not his neck broken instead of an ankle sprained.] next is an uncommon revolu-but that is what happened to William Atwater, of Montreal.

He was out of work and without a penny in the world, hungry and alone, and found himself compelled to go to the begging and shelter. The next morning, after breakfasting on bread and water, he dragged him unwarily to the postoffice, hoping for what he knew not, and found a letter which informed him that his mother's uncle in Switzerland had died and left him sole heir to $1,000,000.
Tom Watson Accepts
Atlanta, Nov. 20.—Tom Watson, the Populist candidate from the Fifth Georgia district, has accepted Representative J. C. Black's offer to settle the controversy whether the Populist or the Democrat was elected on November 6th last, by trying the thing over again. Black, in the returns had 7,000 majority, but the same counties in the election for Governor a few weeks previously, gave a decided majority for the Populist candidate. Mr. Black will take the commission as member-elect but will resign on the 4th of next March when his term commences, and it is understood the Governor will order a new election at which Black and Watson will be the only candidates.
