Four Able Men "Doctorod."

It is gratifying to North Carolinians that at the quarter-centennial celebration at Johns Hopkins University conferred the degree of LL. D., upon four distinguished Southern educators, all in some sense, belonging to North Carolina. The four men were Dr. F. P. Venable, present president of the University of North Carolina; Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, a native of this State, former president of the University of North Carolina and now president of Tulane University; Dr. Paul B. Barringer, a native of North Carolina, now chairman of the faculty of the University of Virginia; and Dr. Chas. W. Dabney, president of the University of Tennessee, who was formerly at the head of the North Carolina Experiment Station.

These are four of the first men of the South—not only thinkers and scholars but men who bring things to pass.—News and Observer.

Items From No. 5. Tulin, N. C., Feb. 5, 1902. Mrs. Hettie Wiggins died very suddenly on the night of the 22nd near Huntersville. She was buried at Shiloh on the 24th. She went to bed as well as usual and was dead next morning. She was subject to another spells.

Mrs. Sarah Ann Baker is quite low of grippe. She is an aged lady and her friends fear the worst has not been reached, but she is holding well for one of her age.

Dan Johnson is down of pneumonia. The old adage that snow helps wheat has failed for one time, or at least it looks so. You cannot see that there is any worth saving on the ground.

Tried to End Her Life. Mrs. J. D. Moore, wife of an operative employed by the Charlotte Trousers company, made several desperate, but ineffective attempts to commit suicide at her home in Dilworth yesterday. The unfortunate woman slashed herself with a pen knife and a pair of scissors and was prevented from doing herself further harm by her husband. Her injuries are not serious.—Charlotte News of 26th.

Mr. Gray Promoted. Quick promotion has come to Mr. R. W. Gray, a Charlotte boy who for some time, has been connected with the office of the U. S. Weather Bureau. Mr. Gray has been called to Washington to take a place in the main office under the chief director.

Mr. Gray recently married Miss Lottie Moffitt of this city. His many friends here will rejoice in his good fortune.—Charlotte News.

Delighted With Soldier's Home. Our old veteran friend G. C. Chlins, writes from the Soldier's Home at Raleigh to Mr. J. S. Harris and is eloquent in his praises of the home and his treatment. He now has all of the heart's desire and heaven is the only improvement that a change can bring. He sends grateful messages to inquiring friends and specifies Messrs. Chas. McDonald, D. F. Cannon and Frank Smith.

Aged Negro Woman Suicides. An aged negro woman, Lovey Hosler, committed suicide in Salisbury on Thursday morning by shooting herself. The coroner held an inquest and found $750 secreted under her skirts and a bank book showing a balance of $320 on the bank in Washington, Ind., whence she came and whither she had made arrangements to return.

She was a miserly, beggarly looking creature and doubtless suffered a kind of mania.

Big Tree For St. Louis Fair. A twenty two foot cut of a fir tree nearly eighteen (18) feet in diameter will be sent to the St. Louis World's Fair by the Tacoma (Wash.) Chamber of Commerce as part of Washington's exhibit. A fund of $500 has been raised to pay the cost of removing it from the forest to St. Louis.—Daily Reflector.

WOMEN'S CLUB.

Their Rights to Existence—Their Benefit Influences. A woman's club! Who ever heard the like! What do women want of a club? Have you any aims or objects? These are questions ask day after day, by men, of course. And I answer that in our humble way we are striving to imitate your example. You have your exclusive clubs and why should we not have ours?

What is so pleasant and so promotive of your interests cannot be detrimental to us, and that you find these reunions helpful to yourselves we cannot doubt. Of our own knowledge we are not able to say what is so attractive in your assemblies, for it has not been thought best for our interests that we should even sit at your tables, or share in your councils and doubtless therefore in our blindness and ignorance we have made some pitiful mistakes.

But we in our club work propose the inculcation of deeper and broader ideas among women, propose to read and think for ourselves and get our opinions at first hand, not so much because it is our right as because it is our duty. We propose to study literature, philanthropy, self-culture and improvement in every way possible. To make all work honorable by each doing the share that falls to her cheerfully and faithfully—not going down to it, but bringing it up to her. To enter our protest against all idle gossip, all demoralizing and wicked waste of time—in short against each and every thing that opposes the full development and use of the faculties conferred upon us by our Creator.

Such are some of our objects and aims. We do not pretend as yet to have any clearly defined plans. We are as children feeling our way in the dark, for you must remember that it is only a half century since the free schools, even in the most enlightened portions of our country, were first opened to girls. How then could you expect of the fullness of wisdom, which you for whole centuries have been gathering from schools, colleges and the exclusive knowledge and manage of affairs.

We admit our short-comings but we are here, and here to stay; we have the necessary requisites, concert and harmony, to make our enterprise, finally, a great power for good.

Max O'Reil is quoted as saying that if he were asked to suggest a new coat of arms for the U. S. he would propose a woman under the protection of an eagle, with the motto, "Make Way for the Women." Our motto is, "Womanliness First, Afterwards What You Will."

"VIRGINIA DARE."

Punctuation Puzzle Solved. The Standard copied these words on Thursday which show the great need of good punctuation:

"That that is is that that is not is not that that is not that that is not that that is not."

It asked for the solution. Here it is:

"That that is, is; that that is not, is not; that that is not, is not; that that is; that that is, is not that that is not."

The successful solvers are in the order of their presentation: Dr. J. C. Davis, Wade Barrier, Miss Ida Blum.

Fishy in His Taste. Dr. N. D. Fetzer has always had something of a fishy taste in his aesthetical make up and has had a kind of large janderin in which some of the fanny tribe lave and sport when the admiring gazer saw the little mite assume positions to magnify himself to several times his size.

The doctor has also supplied himself with a good sized glass case or box in which sport a whole brood and over them on the surface float ducks, geese and swan to tickle an ex-prosident. It is a display of fine taste in the doctor (we like the taste of fish) and is an attraction at which one may gaze with rapture while waiting for a prescription to be filled.

COMPLICATED SUIT.

Mortgaged Property Sold and Re-sold—The Mortgagee Liens the Property. A legal contest was fought to-day (Friday) in Esq. Pitts' court that amounts to something of a lesson.

One Falt Murph bought a mare from Mr. Z A Morris which amounted to two animals and it was so included in the mortgage. He signed the mortgage himself though it is claimed that he was buying the mare for his brother Jno. F Murph, who at once, took charge of the mare. Later Falt Murph gave another mortgage to Mr Morris on another horse trade and included the co't. Mr. A G Moose bought this colt from Jno. F Murph for $11.57 and later sold it to Mr. G W Cook for $18.00. Mr. Morris found it necessary to foreclose the mortgage and sued on claim and delivery and gained the suit.

Mr. Cook will get back the $18.00 from Dr. Moose and he will get back $11.57 from Jno. F Murph. Each will lose his part of the raising of the colt and have the trouble as a schooling that you must watch when you are dealing with irresponsible men. Falt Murph is elsewhere at this time.

BOY GETS FOOT CUT OFF.

Little John Shoe Has Had Experience on Railroad.

John Shoe, Jr, the little son of Mr. John Shoe, got one foot so badly mangled at the Gibson mill siding Thursday evening that it had to be amputated at the ankle. We learn that his teacher, seeing his purpose to get on the train when it would start tried to prevent him from doing so but the boy was sly and escaped his vigilance with the result that he made the attempt and met with the accident. The unfortunate boy deserves sympathy in his calamity and also in his lack of appreciation of his teacher as a better friend to him than he to himself.

Happy Event.

Prof. Edwin B Setzler and Miss Una Lake were married on Wednesday evening, February 19th, in February, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Emma Lake. The ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. W I Herbert of the Methodist church. Mr. Setzler is the very efficient professor of English and modern languages in Newberry College.

The bride is a graduate with honors of Converse College and until recently was a teacher in the city schools. Both have hosts of friends who join in extending best wishes upon their marriage.—Lutheran Visitor.

Very Pleasant Hair Loom.

Orange (Va.) Observer; Mrs. T M Gillum, of Monrovia, this county, has the wedding dress worn by her grandmother who was a Miss Frances Bickley, and was raised near Trevilian, Louisa county. Miss Bickley cultivated and raised the cotton for the dress, carded and spun it, and when she warped it she drew the chain through her engagement ring, and wove the cloth for the wedding dress, which is now one hundred and thirty years old.

BURIED A BOY ALIVE.

Awful Crime of Chilkoot Indians in Alaska. Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 19.—A special from Seattle, Wash., says: "The steamer Dirigo, which has arrived from Alaska, brings news that Chilkoot Indians near Hine's Mission, Alaska, buried alive one of their tribe, a boy fifteen years of age. The boy had been converted to Christianity by Milo A Sellon, a Methodist missionary, and in a burst of religious zeal denounced the nummeries of the tribal medicine men.

This act aroused the anger of the superstitious old men of the tribe. Recently fourteen native residents of the village of Kluck-wandied of consumption, and this spread the belief that the boy, in league with the evil one through his knowledge of the white man's religion, caused the deaths.

The disappearance of the boy from school aroused the suspicions of Mr. Sellon, and he started in search. At the outskirts of the village he found tracks leading to a fresh grave. Digging down he found the boy still alive, his bloodshot eyes rolling in insane agony; his hair torn in handfuls from his head. His finger nails were torn off in his efforts to escape from his horrible prison.

The boy was lifted from the grave and carried to the village, where he lived several hours, howling and crying out like a maniac and then dying from the effects of suffering and fright. The man who is responsible for the act is Skun Doo, an old offender, who spent a term in San Quentin penitentiary for causing an old woman to be starved to death in 1894.

Judge Shepherd Not a Candidate.

The report started from Greensboro a few days ago that Hon. James E. Shepherd would be a candidate for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. This gave much comfort to those who cannot approve of the candidacy of Judge Clark. The Raleigh correspondent to the Charlotte Observer quotes from Judge Shepherd that the report is most positively incorrect and that he adheres to his original card.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Negro in Providence Meets An Awful Death. Morven Allison, a negro of the Providence section, was struck by lightning yesterday afternoon while in the field picking cotton.

Allison left his home yesterday about the noon hour and as he did not return, a searching party went out to look for him. His charred remains were found about nine o'clock last night, lying between two cotton rows.

Yesterday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock there was a sharp peal of thunder, preceded by a bright flash of lightning. It must have been at this time that the negro was killed. The clothes the negro wore were almost burned from his body. These were still burning when the body was found.

The accident occurred about one half mile from Allison's home. He was said to be a good negro, attended to his own business and gave no one any trouble.—Charlotte News of 28th.

The claim of other cough medicines to be as good as Chamberlain's are effectually set at rest in the following testimonial of Mr. C D Glass, an employe of Bartlett & Dennis Co., Gardner, Me. He says: "I had kept adding to a cold and cough in the winter of 1897, trying every cough medicine I heard of without permanent help, until on day I was in the drug store of Mr. Houlehan and he advised me to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and offered to pay back my money if I was not cured. My lungs and bronchial tubes were very sore at this time, but I was completely cured by this remedy and have since always turned to it when I got a cold, and soon find relief. I also recommend it to my friends and am glad to say it is the best of all cough medicines." For sale by M L Marsh's Drug store.

Not Permitted to Circulate There.

An error of a new clerk in the mailing department of an eastern publisher was responsible for the mailing of a prospectus to a world famous statesman who had been dead for some years. The letter was returned a few days later, with the following indorsement:

IN HEAVEN, — 1901. Gentlemen—As your publications are not permitted to circulate here, I believe it would be useless for me to subscribe for them. Yours respectfully—

And here followed the name of the famous statesman.

Budapest's Street Car System.

The street car system of Budapest is considered the best in the world and has been imitated by several American cities, including Washington. The underground railway is also a model. The stations are built of porcelain tiles inside and out. The cars hold forty-two people, they run by the electric third rail system, and the fare is 4 cents, the stations being at intervals of a quarter of a mile.

Manufactured Comb (T) Honey.

It was recently announced in a Chicago paper that a carload of manufactured honey in the comb had been received in that city from California. In reply to this the publisher of The American Bee Journal had offered $1,000 for the sight of a single pound of manufactured comb honey. He adds that he has been making this offer for twenty years without finding a taker.

How to Cook Tripe.

Tripe prepared in this fashion is served at a well known New York club as one of the most popular dishes. The tripe, about half a pound for a dozen oysters, is well washed, simmered for three-quarters of an hour in slightly salted water and then removed. To the broth add a tablespoonful of butter rolled in flour, salt and pepper, with more flour added to thicken if necessary. Return the tripe and the dozen of oysters, simmer and serve. This may also be prepared in a chafing dish.

NEW SHORT STORIES.

"Marse Henry's" Popularity. "The good Marse Henry" said a Kentuckian affectionately as Mr. Henry Watterson passed through the corridor of the capital recently. "He is Colonel Watterson to the world at large, but 'Marse Henry' to the little world in Kentucky that loves him, and I believe that he values the latter appellation more than any title that has been bestowed upon him.

"When I was a boy, I lived at a little railroad station in Kentucky which was reached by the mail train about 11 o'clock every morning. It was the custom for the inhabitants to gather at the station to await the coming of The Courier-Journal. No work was done in the meantime, the little group about the station discussing the affairs of state, with occasional reference to local questions of grave importance.

"When the train arrived, the single copy of The Courier-Journal which came to our place was handed out. Then came I into momentary importance and prominence. As the best reader in the crowd—being at that time eleven years of age and having progressed as far as the Fifth Reader in the Frankfort school—I was duly elected to read the paper to the assembled crowd.

"Mounting the well whitened store box that stood by the freight agent's door and pausing a moment to permit each guest to take a fresh 'chaw' of tobacco to assist meditation and mental digestion, I proceeded to read the paper aloud amid a most respectable silence from the audience.

"Read it all? By no means. I read 'Marse Henry's' leading editorial. That was all one people wanted. Little cared they for the leading of the news columns. The editorial set the pace for the day for our folks, and when the last word was read every man went his way about his work."—Washington Star.

Clerk's Wise Suggestion.

"I have lately been much troubled with dyspepsia, belching and sour stomach," writes M S Mead, leading pharmacist of Attleboro, Mass. "I could eat hardly anything without suffering several hours. My clerk suggested I try Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which I did with most happy results. I have had no more trouble and when one can go to eating mince pie, cheese, candy and nuts after such a time their digestion must be pretty good. I endorse Kodol Dyspepsia Cure heartily. 'You don't have to diet. Eat all the good food you want but don't overload the stomach. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests your food.'—Gibson Drug Store.
