Carriers will leave Concord about 10 o'clock, when the principal morning mails will be in and will return in time for the outgoing mails by the evening trains.

Now the matter to which we wish to call especial interest is that subscribers to The Standard must direct us about sending their papers, that is, on what route they live. If they have boxes their papers will reach them promptly.

RURAL FREE DELIVERY MAIL.

Four Routes in the County—How They Run—Post Offices That Will Be Abandoned, Causing the Mails to Remain in Concord Post Office if Boxes are Not Put Up.

Now that we are to have four rural free delivery routes in the county there is much that should be borne in mind.

Route No. 1 goes southwest from Concord along the Charlotte road to the Pitts school house, thence northwest along the Poplar Tent road to the Henderson place, thence west along the Springsville road to Cox's mill, thence east along the Springsville road to Concord.

Route No. 2 goes northwest from Concord along the Salisbury road to A M Cook's store, thence northwest and north along the Stateville road to Erskine post office, thence south along the Charlotte road to Tulin post office, thence southeast along the new road to the D C Furr place, thence southeast along the Salisbury road to Concord.

Route No. 3 runs northeast along the new Salisbury road to Mt. Mitchell church, thence southwest (returning) to the Shive place, thence southwest along Cline's store road to the Fink place, thence northwest along the Mt. Gilead road to Rufus Cline's place, thence southwest, west and northwest along the Center Grove road to the Murph place, thence southeast along the Salisbury road to Concord.

Route No. 4 proceeds along the Mt. Pleasant road to St. John's church, thence along the Kirk's Ferry road to the crossing of the Mt. Pleasant and Salisbury road, thence northeast along the Salisbury road past Foll's mill to the cross roads at Furr's store, thence along the Gold Hill and Concord road to Concord.

EDUCATION THE HOPE OF THE SOUTH.

Breadth of View and Liberality of Thought Must be its Aim.

On education the hope of the South must rest. Education is the only means of elevating and broadening the individual type. Great attention must be paid to this in order that the best results may be worked out with the unusually favorable materials and resources at hand.

The constant elevating of the individual through the process of education is the only means by which the best can be accomplished. The aim of this education must be to create breadth of view and liberality of thought.

The South must broaden its base along these lines. Men are needed who will see the public good, and who will stand for it and their convictions.

MAMMOTH FOUND IN SIBERIA.

Dr. Herz Tells of His Discovery—Huge Animal Perfectly Preserved in the Ice.

Cable dispatches from this city have already told of Dr. Herz's discovery of a mammoth preserved in the ice in eastern Siberia.

Dr. Herz now says he discovered it on September 22 near the river Ebroswka at the foot of a declivity just over 100 feet above the water. It was lying down with its feet curiously bent under its body.

When Dr. Herz's party began the work of excavation the cold was so severe that a shed had to be erected. A fortnight was occupied in thawing out the monster. Meanwhile the stench had to be cut out and refrozen elsewhere.

Eventually the huge animal was found complete save a small piece of the back and half of the trunk, which had been eaten by wolves. The mammoth was covered with a coat of rather thick red-brown hair.

The return journey, 3,000 miles, to Irkutsk began on October 23. The distance was covered on skates, the mammoth having been dissected for convenience in transportation.

London March 10.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Mail says that he has seen the tongue of the mammoth, which is nineteen inches long, and the tail, which, with the hair on it, is more than fourteen inches long.—St. Petersburg Dispatch, 6th.
