

A BATCH OF LOCAL NEWS.

Picked Up and Put in Shape By Our Hustling Pencil Pusher.

Attention is called to the advertisement of Mr. Pounds. Look it up.

Mrs. Moose, wife of Rev. J R Moose, of Cannonville, is quite sick.

Anticipating a hot wave, Mr. D P Dayvault got in 500 palm leaf fans today.

Our exchanges have given but little prominence to the mosquito this year.

As it has been running: one cold week and then one hot one. This is to be the hot one.

Esq. J O Witherspoon was in Concord shortly after breakfast. He came in on his wheel.

Capt. J M W Alexander was in town for a coffin for a colored man that died on his place, Sunday.

Mr. John A Blackwelder on his way back to Newberry, S. C., spent the day in Concord. His friends were glad to see him.

The libel suit of Judge Whitaker against Mrs. Pattie D B Arrington has been set for trial at the January term of Wake court.

Judge Boykin gets no rest. He goes direct from Lexington to Greensboro, where a special term for civil cases only is to be held.

Said a Concord wife: "It's the little things that worry." Said her husband in reply: "Especially when there are six of them."

Mr. H McNamara, who made it convenient to canyas Lexington for his marble yard heard all the famous trial. He returned Friday night.

Mr. Charlay Railey was, Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock, married to Miss Alice Eudy, the marriage taking place at the home of the bride, on Buffalo street. Rev. M A Smith officiated.

Rev. Dr. C M Payne and wife will arrive in the city to-night and during their visit will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. J P Allison. Concord will be delighted to see this very popular people.

Prof. P E Wright has withdrawn his resignation of the principalship of the Enochville Academy. He will be assisted by Miss Essie Fisher, one of Cabarrus' most excellent young ladies.

No. 11 township Sunday school convention will be held in the Coldwater Baptist church on Thursday, August 1. This is one week sooner than formerly announced. Public cordially invited.

Miss Bessie Sims was bitten by something several nights ago, which caused her eye to become swollen to such an extent that she could scarcely see. The swelling has gone down and all is right again.

"Well," said an Englishman, "I have taken a powder for my headache, a pellet for my liver, a capsule for my gouty foot. Now, what puzzles me is, how do the things know the right place to go after they get inside?"

The attempted runaway of Mr. G W Patterson's dray horse was enough to excite a little. This is the horse that ran in several tournaments and that aided the Knight to win. The horse just thought he was in a tournament.

It was announced Sunday morning at the First Presbyterian church that Rev. C M Payne, formerly pastor of that church and a beloved citizen of this city, is expected to conduct services at that church Wednesday night. His numerous friends are rejoiced to know that he is to visit us.

Firmen: There will be an important called meeting of the hose and reel company tonight at 8 o'clock in their hall. A full attendance is desired.

Few medicines have held their ground so successfully as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. During the past fifty years, it has been the most popular of all cough-cures and the demand for it today is greater than ever before. Prompt to act and sure to cure.

A certain clerk, becoming rushed and somewhat excited Saturday afternoon, pumped a barrel of molasses into a kerosene oil tank and sold it nearly all before the discovery was made. He is quite an aged man, but, it is said, he is matrimonially inclined.

Mr. J A Richie, of No. 6, was in the city Saturday and brought us a radish that rises to the dignity of a freak. It was ploughed up. It is shaped like an Irish potato, but it grew without a top or any outside growth. The only root it had was a slender one ten inches long.

To prevent pale and delicate children from lapsing into chronic invalids later in life, they should take Ayer's Sarsaparilla together with plenty of wholesome food and out-door exercise. What they need to build up the system is good red blood.

The "Stars," the second nine of this city will play a game with Salisbury Thursday afternoon at the Fair Grounds. An admission fee of ten cents will be charged to help defray the expenses of the visiting team. Give the boys a good crowd. It will be an interesting game.

No. 5 township Sunday school convention will be held at Mt. Carmel on Saturday, July 27. Rev. Shealey, of the Lutheran church, Rev. McLaurin, of the Methodist church, and Rev. Davis, of the Reformed church are all expected to deliver short addresses to the convention. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance.

About one month ago THE STANDARD made mention of some one taking the taps from the buggy of Mr. W A Stone while he was in attendance upon preaching at Bays chapel one night during the recent revival. On Saturday the public well at Cannon's factory was being cleaned out, and the taps from the buggy were found. The wrench is yet missing.

An opportunity you can't afford to lose is the round trip to Richmond on Monday, July 22, when an excursion will be run, the cost of which is only $4.00 from Concord. Everybody is going. Special arrangements will be made for ladies. Refreshment cars. Good discipline guaranteed. Train will leave Concord at 8:40 o'clock Monday morning, July 22. For further particulars call on agent, Mr. D L Bost, at Dove & Bost's. 1w

A "Hen-pecked" Boy.

Almost every reader of THE STANDARD has read of the "hen-pecked husband," but in this case it is fortunately an unmarried man. While working with his chickens Sunday, Master Roy Thornburg's eyes were almost pecked out by a bantam hen. They are not seriously injured, however.

To the Springs Sunday.

The following composed the party that went to Misenheimer's springs, Sunday morning: Mrs. Laura Moss, Misses Agness Moss, Elizabeth Gibson, and Messrs. O W Swink, J S Smithdeal, C R Montgomery, Maury Richmond, Earl and Luther Brown and Fred Smith. All returned Sunday evening, except Mrs. Moss and Mr. C W Swink.

The Association—No Fair.

Secretary Ludwig, of the Cabarrus Fair Association, tells a STANDARD reporter that the association will not hold a fair this fall. The association has, however, decided to let at reasonable rates the grounds to any party who may desire to hold an exhibition or to have races. If there are such persons and wish any information as to the prices etc, they will call upon Treasurer J C Gibson, at the court house.
