CONCORD, AUGUST 11, 1895.

WILL THE RAILROAD DO IT?

STANDARD readers know of the movement to get the directors of the North Carolina Railroad to lay a track from the depot to the Fair Grounds.

This is wanted because it is desired to build up a cotton factory and other necessary buildings on these grounds. The reason for asking that a track be put down is too clear to discuss. If the track is placed down, and it can be constructed for less than $15,000, interested parties guarantee the erection of a cotton mill at the Fair Grounds.

Since this has been made known, Mr. Chapman, who owns considerable property in that section of town, has felt the pulse of a number of his moneyed friends and he too will erect a cotton mill if the railroad runs a track into the grounds.

THE STANDARD can see no reason why the Directors of the North Carolina Railroad will not put down the desired track. The railroad owes nothing; is in a paying condition and is financially able to do the work. But this is not the idea, it is this: By constructing the short line the road will be creating business for itself. In this it will soon be reimbursed for the outlay it makes in putting down the track. It is a broad and progressive spirit and good business, when a railroad reaches out and creates business not only for itself but for its patrons.

Concord has a right to ask this small favor of the North Carolina Railroad. This point furnishes the road with more business than any point on the line, Charlotte, Salisbury, Greensboro, Raleigh and Goldsboro not excepted, and yet we have gotten and demanded less.

But our people, not waiting for something to turn up, usually turn it up itself. They are not asking this at the hands of the North Carolina Railroad on the grounds of charity, but on the grounds of justice and as the means of advancing our own growth and material progress, together with creating business for the railroad.

These two mills will be built, if the Directors of the North Carolina Railroad do their part; unless they do, the mills will not be built.

Will the Directors act?

Rev. G T Smith, pastor of the Christian church, at Steubenville, Ohio, resigned his charge because the elders kicked about his hiring a substitute for $5 a week less than his salary while he went for a vacation. This makes five vacant pulpits in Steubenville.

CAN'T HIDE EAR MARKS.

The woman in boy's clothes doesn't score a success even when hunting work. She wears the clothes as awkwardly as she throws a stone at a dog, and in either case gives herself away. Miss Otto Dehman, of New York, didn't believe this until she tried it, but she knows better now.

Mrs. Lehman, the 17-year-old heroine of a runaway match, got tired of depending for a living on her mother-in-law and tried to pass herself off as a man, first in Philadelphia and then in New York. She fooled her Philadelphia landlady, but failed to deceive the employers of able bodied laborers, and when she returned to New York her girlish appearance and awkward imitation of masculinity betrayed her to a sharp-sighted policeman and she concluded to be a woman in appearance again as well as in fact.

Women doubtless do occasionally don male attire and go undetected for a time, but in the end nature asserts herself and the woman stands revealed. On the whole it is better not to undertake to dispute conclusions with the laws of the universe. The attempt usually ends in failure, as Mrs. Lehman can testify.

One dressed in male attire is really frightening.

To an old bachelor is attributed the discovery that "a woman keeps secret what she does not know." If men did the same thing there would be a good deal less lying and running down false reports of sundry kinds. It is the man who tells what he doesn't know that always creates the racket.

A Chicago man and his bride arrived in San Francisco a week ago on bicycles, having ridden the whole distance between the two cities.

THE BEST FAMILY MEDICINE

She Has Ever Known. Words of Praise from a New York Lady for

AYER'S PILLS

"I would like to add my testimony to that of others who have used Ayer's Pills, and to say that I have taken them for many years, and always derived the best results from their use. For stomach and liver troubles, and for the cure of headache caused by these derangements, Ayer's PILLS cannot be equaled.

When my friends ask me what is the best remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver, or bowels, my invariable answer is, Ayer's Pills. Taken in season, they will break up a cold, prevent jaundice, check fever, and regulate the digestive organs. They are easy to take, and are, indeed, the best all-round family medicine I have ever known."—Mrs. MAY JOHNSON, 38 Rider Avenue, New York City.
