CONCORD, SEPT. 4, 1895.

THE "MEANEST MAN."

Much has been written concerning the mean man, who is described as being in much abundance, a very numerous man. The late Mid-Continent Magazine said this before it expired:

"A man living in Clay, who owes us over two years' subscription, puts his paper back in the postoffice last week marked 'refused.' We have heard of many mean men. There is the man who used the wart on his neck for a collar-button, * * the one who got rich by giving his five children a nickel each to go to bed without supper, and then stealing the nickel after the children were asleep; but for pure, downright meanness, the man who will take the paper for years, mark it 'refused,' and then stick it back in the postoffice is entitled to the first premium."

He is the very same numerous fellow who sold dirt from under his finger nails for manure, put bogus cents in the plate on Sunday, stole the communion wine, sat in the dark in his home because too stingy to burn a candle or lamp, who stole the money on the eyes of a dead friend whose body he was watching during the night, and who sat always undressed in the dark room at night to save his clothes.—Wilmington Messenger.

There is a beautiful old legend that at creation's dawn an angel came down seeking something to take back with it to heaven. It returned with a bouquet of flowers, a baby's smile and a mother's love. When it reached the pearly gates of paradise again, the flowers had withered, the baby's smile had vanished, but the mother's love was found to be as pure as the waters that flowed by the heavenly throne, and all the angels exclaimed: "There is nothing on earth pure enough for heaven but a mother's love!" What a sublime thought and holy moral this old legend illustrates and to mortal creatures.

The great moral North needs some instructions. The missionary field South has been looked after so much to the neglect on the North until old Adam is broke loose of the other side of Dixie line. A bank cashier in New York has eloped with a preacher's wife.

Judge Timberlake weighs only 120 pounds, but he's large enough to make a stir in Albemarle. It was all about people going without a coat into the court's presence. The judge may be one of those extremely modest men that would blush to see even a stack of undressed lumber. Wonder if he requires the men to wear socks when coming near his place of business? We take it for granted that he would expire to see a man with ducks on. In the words of Mr. Jacob Littles, of Cabarrus, some people are getting "mighty hifolutin."

It would take a line of cradles extended entirely around the globe to accommodate the 37,000,000 babies that are born into this world every year. And if they all started up their favorite tunes at once, it would produce an earthquake, more or less. The candidate in campaign times, if turned loose along this line, would have a picnic. He could hardly get up a monopoly, about which the Statesville Landmark is pleased to ask a very personal question.

A man, while playing "drop the handkerchief" in Hillsboro, Ill., broke his nose in a collision. This is one of the dangers of society.

Holmes has started a literary bureau, which offers the newspaper world a field of high clover. It may sidetrack the financial bureaus. This would be a calamity.

The Populist convention at Syracuse last week declared for flat money; government ownership and management of all mines—coal, zinc, lead, stone, salt and iron as well as silver and gold mines; confiscation and operation of the railway and telegraph lines; and also the exclusive ownership and sale of all liquors. Humph! This is refreshing.

Richmond and Atlanta both desire the honor of having the memorial museum for the establishment of which Mr. Charles Broadway Rouse, of New York, subscribed $100,000. The first meeting of the committee to examine and report to the next reunion which will be held in Atlanta.

The United States Supreme Court is now only a little more than a year behind in its work, the number of cases on hand having been reduced from over 2,000 when Chief Justice Fuller was appointed, to about 600. It is expected that the docket will be cleared up in two years more.

In an address last Thursday Neal Dow said reluctantly that they had been at work since 1851 trying to enforce the prohibition law, but "we haven't succeeded yet." He says the politicians are responsible for the failure.

From almost all sections of the country come reports of an immense corn crop. The hog and hominy campaign seems to have been a success.

The State Treasurer yesterday received $90,000 as the semi-annual dividend on the North Carolina Railway.

There is no little interest in the proposed new census of Concord. Several parties here indicated their desires to chip in to a fund for the purpose. Possibly by Saturday the work will begin.

Gov. Carr added an "O" and gave the State Secretary Gooke.

For years and years different governments have tried to get the metric system adopted. If there is so much trouble about a matter that does not affect the people's money, is it possible to bring about international bimetalism, before the 20th century commences business?

Prof Dra er says that the descendants of a single pair of wasps may number as high as 20,000 in one season. The professor has evidently gotten himself into a pest, hence this remarkable calculation.

NOT A SICK DAY For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USING

AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day in all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. WETTSTEIN, Byron, Ill.
