Lots of Whiskey.

LOCUST LEVEL, N. O. Sept. 7 '95. Sunday school students of Benlah, were pleased to have their friend Miss F. E. Ufford as teacher on September 1st, she and Miss Minnie Marke, of Albemarle, then being on a visit to friends in and near this place.

At Albemarle, court was in full blast. It was an active court. We understand it has made provision for the reception and entertainment of several, at the county hotel.

Unmistakable evidence of an over abundant fruit crop or of a misguided application of the same, is often revealed to the cold, glittering eye of a careful observer, while perambulating over the streets or plodding through the "high-ways and hedges." Our fruit canners have sustained considerable loss. The fruit sours. Is it possible, that in this glorious nineteenth century, fruit should become so depraved as to take an insane delight in going through a degenerating process, fermentation?

Owing to drought farmers of this municipality will realize a crop not above the average. King cotton will soon evince his usefulness, and the jolly, indestructible corn-dodger will still reign quite extensively, unless an inordinate amount of corn vaporizes into "topsy-turvy."

Litigation seems to be the prevailing craze here. So many of our citizens were involved in litigation matters, one way or another, that the present court left our village almost defenseless. During the absence of these many, the quiet, unassuming village might have fared badly, had there been an Indian insurrection or some other sort of a blood curdling performance.
