Mr. J. Whit Burkhead Dead.

This (Wednesday) morning about 3 o'clock Mr. J. Whit Burkhead passed away.

It was known throughout the town that Mr. J. Whit Burkhead, who for six months has been in declining health, was nearing the end. The announcement of his death was no surprise, though one that carried pain to many and many who held him in the highest of esteem. For the last six weeks he has been unable to leave his room; during all this time the dread disease was wasting his life and bringing him closer and closer to the end. Nothing was spared to make his suffering as light as possible.

Mr. Burkhead was a son of our venerable citizen, Mr. J C H Burkhead, was born in June 1860 and was raised here in Concord. On October 2, 1884 he was married to Miss Alida Woodhouse, sister of Mr. H I Woodhouse of Cannons & Fetzer, and this union was blessed with 2 boys and 3 girls, all of whom survive Mr. Burkhead.

Mr. Woodhouse was a model man, upright and pious. For years he was a salesman at Cannons & Fetzer's, and several years ago he raised the stock for the Cabarrus Cotton Mills, of which he was elected secretary and treasurer, a position he filled with capacity and accuracy until some weeks ago, when ill health prevented his further attention.

To know Whit Burkhead was to like him and esteem him; his own quiet, courteous and business manners won friends for him. The death of such a citizen, with so much promise, is indeed sad and a loss to Concord.

To the bereaved wife, whose fondest and most devoted attention was given him in health and especially in his illness, the little children and to all the bereaved, Concord's warmest sympathy goes out.

In the death of Whit Burkhead, as his many friends familiarly called him, Concord sustains a loss and the Presbyterian church a devoted and faithful member.

A Little Boy Kills Himself.

William Miller Huff, the 5 year old son of John G Huff, a prominent citizen of East Bend, Yadkin county met with a sad death last Saturday while in the room alone. The little fellow found a loaded pistol in the bureau drawer. He took it out and was playing with it when it was accidentally discharged, the ball entering the abdomen and coming out in the small part of the back. He suffered intensely until 3 o'clock in the afternoon when he died. After the accident he ran to his sister and told her that he had shot himself but that he did it accidentally. He then call for each member of the family, saying that he wanted to kiss them all goodbye before he died.

A Case of Poisoning.

Robert, the four-year-old son of Mr. Willis Nail, had a narrow escape from death by poisoning Sunday afternoon. While out in the yard playing he ran across a "jimpson" weed, and thinking that it was good to eat, began chewing some of the seeds that he picked from the pod. He was suddenly taken violently sick and his parents not knowing the cause at once summoned medical aid. Dr. McCombs was soon at the bedside of the little sufferer and at once pronounced it a case of poisoning. Later on in the night both Drs. McCombs and Gibbon, were sent for and this time the boy was relieved. He is now doing well.—Charlotte News.

Chapter of Accidents.

Mr. R V Caldwell, of No. 4, has had a chapter of accidents at his home recently. He had a fine horse to lie down and die. He had just returned from the springs and he got sick on the road.

Dead lay the horse. Mr. Caldwell said he has a big hog that will weigh 500 pounds; the hog came up, it seemed, to take a last look at the horse. While viewing the remains, a large Jersey bull came up and ran his horn into the hog. The hog turned upon the bull and cut a big gash into the bovine, whereupon the bovine again run his horn into the hog's side just behind the fore leg. The wound reached the hollow. Both, however, survived, and Mr. Caldwell will kill this fall the biggest hog in Cabarrus county.
