How the Little Boy Was Killed.
THE STANDARD had just a mere announcement of the death of little Richard Wilson. We gather these particulars from the Raleigh News and Observer:
Richard Wilson, the seven-year-old son of T J Wilson, Jr., tobacco manufacturer of Winston, was run over and killed by a street car on Fourth street this afternoon. The little fellow was returning from dinner to school, and in attempting to cross the track when the car was close to him, fell, and the car passed over his body nearly severing it. Both arms were cut off. Life was extinct in a few minutes. No blame is attached to the motorman on account of the terrible accident.

Bridge Dangerous and Water Stagnant.
Not a few have noticed the danger there is in haying no side arm to the bridge that crosses the Big Cold Water stream on the Mt. Pleasant road. On the right-hand side going east the arm is partially down, and on the other side the lumber is rotten and can't last long. It seems, too, that the water which stands in great pools on either side of the bridge in the road is stagnant. The water should be drained off and the road bed raised.

Loan Street a Pretty One.
Only a limited number of our citizens, seldom see Loan street, but the street force has put in a few days of hard work on it, it is now one of the many pretty streets of the town. The force has also graded a portion of Church street in turnpike style and built a sidewalk from Cannon avenue to Chief of Police Boger's residence. It removed the ragged appearance of that portion of the city. The force is now finishing up Valley street at Cannonville.

Sam Jones Shakes Hands.
Among the many passengers who passed northward this (Thursday) morning, was the Rev. Sam Jones, of Georgia, who was on his way to Winston, where he opens a series of meetings Friday. When this great evangelist alighted from the train he gave the few who were about the ticket office a hearty handshake and "God bless you." He looked quite natural, showing no signs of overwork or declining health.

Mr. Miller Gets a Patent.
Mr. Uriah Miller, of this county, who invented a hitching attachment some time ago, has received a patent on it, and has given Messrs. Long and Workman the contract for making a hundred set. The attachment is very simple and does away with hitching the horse, and at the same time prevents him from moving.—Salsbury World.

The Holland Farm Sold.
The James R Holland farm down on the Air Line road in Gaston county has been sold for $8,000. Mr. H G Springs, of Charlotte, is the purchaser.
This farm, with all its improvements' stock etc., is worth $20,000. But thus ends a sad story.

SHOT IN THE HEAD.
One Brother Accidentally Shoots Another While Hunting This Morning—The Wound Not Serious.
John Pence, aged 16 years, and his little brother Cicero, aged 11 years, were hunting for game in the Buffalo creek bottoms near the depot this (Thursday) morning with a gun. The boys got separated, a hedge row between them. Their dogs flushed a large bird, and John, who had the gun and not seeing his brother, fired at it, when a stray shot struck little Cicero in the right temple, lodging under the skin. The blood spurted and the little fellow yelled. He was carried to his home at Cannonville. After the flow of blood ceased, the boy calmed down, and is now running about with his playmates as if nothing had happened.

Had a Nice Time.
Dr. D. D. Johnson returned Wednesday morning from his old home at Connelly Springs, and reports having had a nice time. Among the many things he did while there, he told a STANDARD man this: "I walked out into the orchard and looked at about 400 trees, every one of which had 40 bushels of apples on them, and I ate one from each tree. I went on until I reached the peach trees, which were also loaded, where I ate several bushels of peaches. On my return to the house I passed through the vineyard and ate a bushel and a half of grapes, after which I began to feel as if I had taken on too much, but when I got to the cider mill I couldn't pass, so I drank a gallon or two of cider, and then retired to my room. I won't tell you how I felt the next day." The Doctor unquestionably had a good time, but got a little excited when relating his experience.

Southern Conductor Offers Indignities.
Wednesday, Conductor Stuart, of the southbound through freight, dumped four nicely-dressed tramps from his train near the depot. They were getting free transportation to the Atlanta Exposition.

Mr. S Sidenberg, of Richmond, Va., has opened a clothing store in the Reed store room.

A Live Letter.
The following letter has just come into our possession. We give it verbatim et literatim:
"LAW OFFICE
OF
D. L. RUSSELL.
"WILMINGTON, N. C., }
August 14th, 1895. }
"DEAR SIR:—
"You are one of the friends in various parts of the State to whom I have concluded to write with regard to the Republican nomination for Governor. I think my nomination would be very acceptable to the Populist Party. It would insure successful fusion in 1896.
"I have many reasons for wanting to be Governor, not the least of which is the fact that Democratic Politicians would rather have any other man in the State. They know that, with Russell for Governor, Democratic influences will not prevail in the executive office. Neither abuse nor flattery nor the power of their newspaper press nor the blandishment of what they call "society" would avail them.
"I would like to hear from you and have your views about things in general.
Yours truly,
Four Big Successes.
Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale: Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for Liver, Stomach and Kidneys.
