CONCORD, SEPT. 23, 1895.

IT SEEMS TO BE GENERAL.

THE STANDARD has several times spoken of the amount of sickness in Concord. This is true, and it cannot be denied. Many thought it due to the lack of sanitary precautions, and said so publicly, and THE STANDARD published it. This paper knows that it is not customary with newspapers to publish such news, but regards it as legitimate and necessary, thereby causing us all to be more careful.

In this connection, while we do not doubt its in it, but greatly deplore it, THE STANDARD learns from reliable sources that several towns along the Southern road are having more fever than is Concord. It is also in the country districts and small villages.

The affairs of the town are not to blame more than the private individuals. The new order of things is such that the authorities cannot appropriate funds for sanitary purposes.

The being the case it becomes the duty of all to be cautious and responsible.

This is a dangerous time everywhere, and Concord is not alone, but among the many.

The newspaper speaks of this matter as an act of duty, and not in a spirit of spirit. It is, and no honest man can deny, as jealous of the health of Concord as any individual within its gates.

A Northern paper says the Chinese have decided to hang some of the fellows who took a hand in murdering the missionaries. If this is so it looks as if the Chinese were getting the hang of things, and are departing from the old style of chopping heads.

Foreign immigration is on the increase. The arrivals last month at New York numbered 27,199, which was nearly 10,000 more than for August of last year. The total so far for this calendar year is 212,773, as against 166,581 for last year.

There was a great silver rally in Salisbury on the 19th. Just 300 met the little U. S. Senators.

Hon. Lee S. Overman, a probable candidate for Governor, as his name is often mentioned, was taken in Lynchburg, Va., for a railroad conductor. Mr. Overman humored the joke. This is one on the Carr.

It is said that there are twenty-four duels pending between Spanish editors, who seem to be oblivious of the fact that there is a racket going on in Cuba where they could have a splendid chance to slake their thirst for gore.

Remedy for Headache.
As a remedy for all forms of Headache Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It effects a permanent cure and most dreaded habitual sick headaches yield to its influence. We urge all who are afflicted to procure a bottle, and give this remedy a fair trial. In cases of habitual constipation Electric Bitters cures by giving the needed tone to the bowels, and few cases long resist the use of this medicine. Try it once. A Seaside Incident.

Writing from Narragansett pier to the New York Recorder, a correspondent says: Wednesday night's hop was a practically merry one. When the music ended something lay upon the floor, glittering from its lowly position, which caused every one to stop until a circle was formed about it. Yet no one touched, no one approached within three feet of it, and it began to look as if it might become the property of the Casino. Yet any woman there would have grasped it eagerly had she been alone, for it was a dainty silken garter in light blue, clasped with a beautiful pearl and diamond buckle.

"To whom does it belong?" said the smooth-shaven footman, as he approached it.

"Stand back," commanded one of the chappies.

The footman stood back and the silken circle remained on the floor. It was not for his hands to touch.

"To whom does it belong?" repeated the chappie.

No one replied, and the girls looked at each other, while the chappies stood spellbound.

"How could any one hesitate to claim it?" exclaimed one ardent little fellow. It was a delicately mottled thing, and had not yet lost the hue of curves it had assumed by contact with the wearer's lovely limb. As it lay on the polished floor it looked warm and almost pleasing.

The ensnared man stooped over the silken thing and murmured: "If it isn't claimed instantly I shall constitute myself a fairy prince and go about matching for my Cinderella."

Needless to say, he was blazed out, and then the footman approached and insisted that the garter must be taken to the office, where the owner could claim it.

"Oh, no, no!" exclaimed a sweet, blushing creature, "anybody could claim it and describe it now!"

All eyes turned upon her. She stood with blushing cheeks and downcast eyes, and the footman queried: "Is it yours, miss?"

A moment's hesitation and the fair girl was inspired with a bright idea. Tugging at her companion's coat sleeve she whispered: "Oh, my dear, say it's yours!"

"Not on your life!" was the quick rejoinder, but I'll say it's yours and be proud of it."

He stretched forth his hand and closed the coveted thing beneath his fingers. Then he passed through the doorway with garter in his hand and the girl on his arm.

And the band played a waltz.—New York Sun.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Caillonette, Druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep keep store or house without it." Get a free trial bottle at Fetzler's Drug Store.

TURNING GRAY AND THREATENED WITH BALDNESS
The Danger is Averted by Using
AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. Barrow, Avoca, Neb.
