Ransom Meyers, white, about 50 years of age, died at the county home this (Wednesday) morning. He had cancer of the stomach and had been sick for about three weeks.

"For years," says Capt. C Mueller, "I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than anything else in the medicine chest, to regulate my bowels and those of the ship's crew. These pills are not severe in their action, but do their work thoroughly."

There were 55 bales of cotton on the market today, the price for which was 8.65. A few bales brought 8.75. The decline was about 10 points, but indications are that the price will rise again within a few days.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a secret preparation. Any physician may have the formula on application. The secret of its success as a medicine lies in its extraordinary power to cleanse the blood of impurities and cure the most deep-seated cases of blood disease.

There were fifty-one applicants in the law class which was standing the Supreme Court examination for license Monday morning. Thirty-two of them were from the University law school. There were no negroes and, strange to say in the day of "new women," there were no female applicants.

A very interesting and sensational crime of years ago is about to come to light. The only information THE STANDARD could obtain would criminate parties, therefore we withhold it from the public for a day or two, to await developments, when, if found to be true, will be revealed a mystery and a crime.
