Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a secret preparation. Any physician may have the formula on application. The secret of its success as a medicine lies in its extraordinary power to cleanse the blood of impurities and cure the most deep-seated cases of blood disease.

Mr. John Bridges, the blacksmith at Forest Hill, unknowingly dropped his purse, containing $41 in cash, in the street on Wednesday afternoon, which caused him considerable uneasiness. It was found by Mrs. Heywood Dennis, who delivered it to its proper owner this morning.

A Prominent Citizen of Fort Mill Dead.

Mr. R A Fulp, a prominent citizen of Fort Mill, S. C., died at his residence at that place yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, of typhoid fever, after several weeks illness. Deceased was 40 years of age. He was esteemed an upright man, a good citizen, a kind neighbor and friend. He conducted one of Fort Mill's largest dry goods stores, and was well known in Charlotte and surrounding towns.—Charlotte Observer.

Several years ago Mr. Fulp married Miss Lucy Parker, of this city, whom he leaves with several children, to mourn his death. The tenderest sympathy of a large circle of friends goes out to the bereaved widow in her sad affliction.

The Old Gate Post Stands.

Thirty-five years ago, when Mr. T D Miller was a boy, he remembers an old disused gate post that stood on the farm in Alexander county where he was raised. Many a time he tried to catch blue birds in a knot hole in that post. Well, he was at the old home a few days ago and he saw that old gate post still standing and apparently as sound as it was when he first remembers it as a boy, and it was considered old enough then to have fallen into disuse.—Statesville Landmark.

[Even our former representative was an enemy to blue birds, in his youth.]

They are Now in Charge.

As stated in these columns before, Messrs. J C Wadsworth and Chas. A. Dry have bought the furniture store of Cannons, Fetzer & Bell. They are now in charge under the firm name of Dry & Wadsworth.

The first thing of importance to the public they did was to mark down everything in the store. Now is the time to buy your furniture.
