THE OXFORD ASYLUM MATTER.

At another place in this issue there is printed a letter from Superintendent Lawrence, of the Oxford Orphan Asylum. THE STANDARD very gladly gives space to Mr. Lawrence's letter and regrets the lack of space at hand to publish a number of certificates accompanying said letter.

Without entering into a controversy with Mr. Lawrence or anyone else THE STANDARD desires to impress upon his mind the fact that this paper did not at all "arraign the conduct of the Oxford Orphan Asylum for cruel and inhuman treatment to children etc." There has always been and always will be, we presume, a difference of opinion among men as to what ought to be published and what ought not.

THE STANDARD did not make these charges, it did not father them, but in its news mission it deemed it not at all wrong or imprudent to publish them. And in the light now before us, we cannot see that any injury has been done, but on the other hand it will bring people to know the institution who otherwise never given it any thought or interest.

The statements THE STANDARD published were made in public and were on their rounds before this paper took them up. It did so, not in a spirit to endorse or deny (for it did not have the facts on both sides) but to bring them to that point where the authorities might reach them and have an opportunity to make their own defense and thus correct any erroneous impression. If there was error on THE STANDARD'S part, it was an error of the head and not of the heart. And, in leaving this subject, it must be said that THE STANDARD has not changed its opinion about the wisdom of publishing the statements of the little sick boy, of whom Mr. Lawrence himself speaks so well. THE STANDARD did not quote Arthur at all.

We would gladly publish the certificates Mr. Lawrence sent had we the space; and if he thinks necessary and so desires, we shall do so in another issue. There seems, however, no lack of satisfactory information for the public in this letter of Mr. Lawrence, the prompt and clear cut letter of Mrs. Smoot and the published interview with Mr. Gowan Dusenbury.

The whole matter sent us would make fully seven times as much as that published.

We have in possession letters of commendation and great praise for the present administration of the Asylum, from Dr. G. A. Coggeshall, a tending physician; Director J. M. Curran; T. H. Christie, manager of his farm; J. F. Hill, head of the shoe department; Mrs. Belle Austin, matron; Rebecca Morrison, cook at the boy's building; Irene Grimsley, Laura Newland and Elva Blair, teachers and lookers after the dining room.

HISTORY GETTING RIGHT.

A question, in the following words, was put to the Self-Culture Magazine, published in New York and Chicago:

"Which was the greatest general, Grant or Lee? Was Grant's success due to his superiority as a general?"

After saying many nice things about Lee and his father, "Light-Horse Harry," the editor of this excellent Magazine follows up the elements of generalship of these two great generals and soldiers to the disparagement of neither until it answers the last question in these beautiful, truthful words that, coming from the source they do, make an unpolluted and uncontaminated Southern heart full to overflowing. Here is the brief sentence:

"We see not how any historian, at even the remotest distance of future time can recall the colossal memories of Gettysburg without shrinking from the task of disparaging the generalship of Lee, pitted there against Meade instead of Grant; and if we follow Lee and his beaten army to their last stand, face to face with Grant there seems to be no escape from the fact, that the awful frown of destiny and not the failure of Lee gave to Grant the final triumph of the Union."

The further away we get from the war and more pensioners die, easier it is for the historian to tell the truth as it is.

The South to the front on both feet: Some time ago a Birmingham, Ala., firm, bidding against the world, secured a contract for iron piping for sewers in the city of Tokio, Japan, and it has just been announced that a firm in Bessemer, Ala., has secured the contract for piping for the city of Honolulu, which will require something over 20,000 tons.

This shows what advantage woman suffrage would be: In a separate registration of women in Lexington, Ky., to vote for members of the board of education, 1,958 women registered. Of these 1,048 were colored and 910 were white. The white women did not begin registering until after they heard how numerous the colored women were putting down their names.

OVERWORK -INDUCED- Nervous Prostration Complete Recovery by the Use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. HINSON, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

SPECIAL TAX NOTICE.

The law of North Carolina. See Chapter 116 Secs. 34, 35, 36 and 37 acts of 1895 requires every Physician, Dentist, Lawyer and Hotel or Boarding house keeper to pay a license tax and take out a license, under a penalty of thirty days imprisonment or fine of fifty dollars, for failure to pay the license tax. The law further makes it my imperative duty to see that the penalty of fifty dollars is enforced. Very few have complied with the law. Unless the parties liable to pay this tax, come forward promptly, I will be compelled (unwillingly as I am) to see that the law is enforced.
