A BATCH OF LOCAL NEWS.

Picked Up and Put in Shape By Our Hustling Pencil Pusher.

The graded school board met yesterday afternoon.

Miss Corinne Harris, who has been right sick for a week, is much better to day.

Good wheat wanted. Will pay highest cash price delivered at mill door. Cabarrus Roller Mills. o71w

Company G was inspected Monday night. A fair attendance of the company responded to the roll call.

A small child went to a music teacher of this city and asked: "How much will you charge me for a dollar's worth of lessons?"

Stop at D M Walker's if you want anything in the grocery and notion line. Don't forget the place opposite D C Furr's at Forest Hill. tf.

Green Weddington, the negro convict who has been sick at the jail for several months, has been taken to the county home.

Mr. D M Stallings, of the University, is off for a week to attend the Teachers Association of Rutherford county.

A Wadesboro correspondent says: Mr. J David Mills, deputy jailer, is to be married to Miss Emma Moore, of Concord, on Wednesday.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Heathcock, of Forest Hill, died last night and was buried today (Tuesday) at the cemetery.

The remains of a colored man named Whitley, who left here some ten years ago, were brought in Monday night for burial. He was working in the coal mines of Virginia.

Mr. C A Dry and family have arrived here from Albemarle. They come now to stay after several years of absence and residing in Albemarle. They are welcomed back.

D M Walker pays the highest market prices for all kind of country produce, cash or barter. Don't forget the place opposite D C Furr's at Forest Hill. tf.

THE STANDARD had a very pleasant and cordial letter from Paul Caldwell. He says he's glad to see his good friend, Mr. Marsh, start out in business right—advertising. Paul's a trump.

George Fraley, a brother-in law of Mr. J M Burrage, and a good farmer of Stanly county, is in the city, with a view to moving his family here, consisting of seven girls and one baby boy.

THE STANDARD almost envies the luck and fat time of the Salisbury Dailies. The circus men—Sells and Buffalo Bill—seem to be editing the papers with big ads and other choice matter.

Mrs. R E Gibson left Sunday night in answer to a telegram stating that her mother, Mrs. Magruder, was seriously ill at her home in Virginia. Mrs. Magruder has many warm friends and acquaintances in Concord who will be pained to hear of her illness.

If your child is puny, fretful, troubled with glandular swellings, inflamed eyes, or sores on the head, face, or body, a course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla is needed to expel the scrofulous humors from the blood. The sooner you begin to give this medicine the better.

A splendid $125 organ for sale cheap—in good condition. Can be bought for cash or on installments. For particulars call at THE STANDARD office. o71w.

The Herald is glad to learn that Mr. I F Patterson, of China Grove, continues to improve. He was out in his yard a short while Saturday afternoon. We hope he will soon be fully restored to health—Salisbury Herald.

"For several months, I was troubled with a persistent humor on my head which gave me considerable annoyance, until it occurred to me to try Ayer's Hair Vigor. Before using one bottle, the humor was healed."—T T Adam, General Merchant, Turbeville, Va.

Rev. R H Parker returned to Concord last night. Mr. Parker filled the pulpit at the Methodist church Sunday morning and evening. He is one of the best preachers in the conference and his sermons Sunday were excellent. They were listened to by large congregations.—Salisbury World.

Mr. S Phileo, who for so long has been in the city and made many warm friends, bid them adieu this (Tuesday) morning when he left for Salisbury, where he joins the Ogden Opera Company, to play the "heavy part in "Only a Farmer's Daughter." He may return to the city in a few weeks.

Still Passing Them.
Some one dropped in at Clegg's Saturday evening and passed a $2.00 bill of the Mecklenburg variety.

Mr. Clegg was not present, one of his little brothers being at the counter.

Officer Pearce went out with the boy to look for the man but he could not be found. He no doubt knew what he was doing and kept well out of the way.

A large number of these bills are around this part of the country and it would be well to keep an eye open. They were stolen from the U. S. Court House several years ago.

[There is no such trouble and fright about a bill of a broken National Bank. They are good until worn out or destroyed. There's the difference.]

May Go to Atlanta—First Grade Crowded.

At the meeting of the school board Monday afternoon the matter of closing down the graded school during Educational Week of the Atlanta Exposition, when a great united congress of school teachers will be held, was freely discussed. Prof. Shinn was instructed to look into the matter, and if it was the desire of the teachers to attend, the board would then take action.

Prof. Shinn stated to the board that the first grade was entirely too large and crowded, that many children entering this grade had been turned away, and asked for assistance.

No one was elected to the position for the term. Miss Lena Leslie has been employed temporarily to assist Miss Dodson in this primary department.

Marshals for the State Fair.

Rufus Patterson, the chief marshal for the State Fair, has found himself during the last month in possession of more patronage than a Congressman has in a service of ten years. There are upwards of 500 sub-marshals, and these Mr. Patterson has appointed, a list which the Raleigh News and Observer publishes. The selections from Concord are happy ones and are as follows:

Frank L Smith, A Jones Yorke, F L Robbins, Jno. F. Yorke, G L Patterson, John C Wadsworth, Ed Hill, Robt. Keesler, Robt. Black, S J Ervin.
But who, in the world, is Robt. Black?

THE RUSH OF HUMANITY.

Wind Blown Horse.

Uncle Joe Grier, an industrious old colored man, lost his horse, "Bud," Sunday night. All day Monday he said to himself:

"I had a little horse,
I fed him on hay;
There came a little wind,
And blowed him away."

The tune is changed. Uncle Joe has his horse—the same wind, perhaps, blew him back.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
