It grows better and better each year. Dr. Branson circulates, edits and publishes his own Almanac, and guarantees its reliability. There is no other like it. Dr. Branson does good in many ways.

One hundred and thirty bales of cotton were marketed here Wednesday, some of which brought as much as 885. The farmers had some spending money and the merchants enjoyed a very good trade.

The cotton crop for this year is estimated at 6,560,000 bales against 9,901,000 for last year, which will average a two-third crop. Up to the time of going to press Cabarrus marketed 125 bales of this year's crop to day.

If your child is puny, fretful, troubled with glandular swellings, inflamed eyes, or sores on the head, face, or body, a course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla is needed to expel the scrofulous humors from the blood. The sooner you begin to give this medicine the better.

Mr. William Russell, 75 years of age, arrived in the city this (Thursday) morning on his return trip from the Atlanta Exposition. He is a native of Stanly county. He reports having seen sights that he had never, in all his born days, dreamed of seeing.

"For several months, I was troubled with a persistent humor on my head which gave me considerable annoyance, until it occurred to me to try Ayer's Hair Vigor. Before using one bottle, the humor was healed."—T T Adam; General Merchant, Turbeville, Va.

Bees Walked Off.

Mr. Charles Dry, who recently returned from Albemarle, tells a story on some good farmer down in Stanly who has a large number of bees, and seems to have had considerable trouble in keeping them in their hives. Mr. Dry says that after the old man had tried many methods of capturing the roving, gauze-winged honey-makers as a last and sure resort caught the queen and cropped her wings, feeling sure that would keep them home. The next day, says Mr. Dry, the old man had business across the creek from his hives, and on his return to the bee farm he met the bees walking on the foot-log, the queen in the lead. The log was a mile or more from the house. The old man stepped aside and let the bees have their way.

By the Democratic Route.

Since the Populists have been pulling the reigns during the past year, every day you can hear some good old farmer who pnt the blame of the low price of cotton in 1894 upon the Democrats, denouncing the Populists and fusion people and making declarations of their intention to come unto us again. On Wednesday a gentleman from No. 2 and for several years a strong Populist, stated that he was done with them; that the Democrats were not responsible for the low price of cotton at all; that taxation was higher this year and that he was "going back to glory by the Democratic route in 1896."

A Free Pass.

As a reward for his saving the wreck of the vestibule train last week by informing the agent of a misplaced switch, the Southern has given Rev. W H Bryant a pass over its system for five years. The reward is merited, for had the discovery not been made the consequences would have been disastrous. —Salisbury World.

Badly Bruised, But Not Seriously Hurt.

A missionary meeting was held at Rocky River church Saturday night last, October 5, to which Mr. Will Davis and his sister, Miss Loula Davis, had been in attendance, but in returning home the horse ran away and threw Miss Davis from the buggy, inflicting several very ugly bruises. Fortunately she was not seriously hurt. They are children of Mr. and Mrs. E O Davis, of No. 7 township.

People were under the impression that they knew when to eat soup until a French soupologist bobbed up and announced that it was all wrong to eat at the beginning of the meal, but that it should be reserved for the last. He says it is too much of a strain on the stomach to fill up on soup and then try to pack in a solid meal on top of that.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
