THE FIEND IN JAIL.

There is no pleasure in printing the news of the horrible crime that was committed in Cabarrus county last Friday night. The black fiend, having assaulted a defenseless woman in her own home in the dark of midnight and committed this foul deed, now lies behind the bars in the county jail. Our people are law abiding, even under gross insults from foreigners as has been recently demonstrated. The law will be allowed to take its course. But where are the people who would wait the slow process of the law, were such a deed to be committed several times in the same section, as has been the case in other sections of the South? The great North itself has its lynching bees, and subjected to such insults and crimes as occur in the South she would rise up and surpass us in speedy penalties and punishments.

Away with this slandering of the South! Away with the mean spirits that break down the barriers that separate and the spirits that make no distinction! The negro has made a full confession; and the authorities have him in safe custody for the process of law.

ACTING A NOVELIST'S CHARACTER.

Mrs. Amelie Rives Chandler has dropped the last name by virtue of a divorce.

"Incompatibility" was the wedge that broke the marriage yows of Amelie Rives and John Armstrong Chandler. She applied and he made no resistance. "Incompatibility" that big word comes in and breaks marital yows, and adds two more to the divorced column, one that is too large now or indicates that there are too many rushings in where angels fear to tread.

Amelie Rives' alpha and omega, so far as the public is concerned, are sensations. She suddenly became famous about eleven years ago when she thrust upon the public a "feverish volume," which she was pleased to call "The Quick or the Dead." Of it a critic said: "The book was well written, fairly plotted, but succeeded rather for the reason of fever in it than of any merit whether of the story itself or the style of the English employed in telling it. Altogether, it was not of the sort a cold or careful judge would describe as a healthful literature."

She's made several attempts since at novel writing, but her efforts never produced the excitement and attention as did "The Quick or the Dead." Her first effort reached, at one bound, the zenith of her career as an authoress.

John Armstrong Chandler is said to be 35 years of age, large, athletic, frank, intelligent, handsome, and wealthy and yet the record says incompatibility was the rock on which that matrimonial vessel went to pieces.

Amelie Rives suddenly thrusts herself into notoriety again—divorced!

Her alpha and omega are somewhat sensational, to be sure.

Mrs. Armelia E Barr, writing to the editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, says: "I want a minister who will preach the gospel, and not politics, prohibition, sanitary science. Ministers who think to draw people by preaching everything but the gospel, make a great mistake. There is nothing that draws like this old-fashioned gospel. People may be temporarily attracted by these outside subjects, but many more are grieved and disappointed. It is always safe to preach the preaching that is spiritual and old-fashioned. It is the only thing that satisfies."

The Chicago negro preacher who advised the colored people of the South to ply the torch to avenge the lynching of negroes, gave some very unhealthy advice, and took mighty good care to give it for a long time. He would get his folks in trouble while he would be safe out of harm's way. He might make himself very useful to his people if instead of giving such foolish advice he came South and started a crusade against the crimes which provoke lynching.

Old man Mora got a little over $700,000 out of his $1,500,000 claim against Spain, which has been pending since 1870. The remainder goes to attorneys who appeared for him and pushed the claim for him, advancing necessary money to defray costs, etc.

As good stickers, the delegates who attended that congressional convention in Iowa, held for three months, took 7,135 ballots and then adjourned without making a choice, are entitled to the blue ribbon.

A Wilmington Street Railway Car Jumps the Track and Injures Three Men.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 12.—This afternoon an electric car of the Wilmington Street Railway jumped the track while crossing a bridge on North Fourth street, over the Carolina Central Railroad track, and fell a distance of about 30 feet, landing upside down on the track. There were three men on the car: all employees of the street car company. Motorman J. W. Rittenhouse was seriously injured, and it is feared fatally, inured. Rivenbark, White, and Jones, colored, were severely hurt, but will recover. The car had just been repaired at the shops of the company and the men were testing it when the accident occurred. No blame is attached to any one.

Complete Recovery by the Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. HINSON, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

SPECIAL TAX NOTICE.

The law of North Carolina. See Chapter 116 Secs. 34, 35, 36 and 37 acts of 1895 requires every Physician, Dentist, Lawyer and Hotel or Boarding house keeper to pay a license tax and take out a license, under a penalty of thirty days imprisonment or fine of fifty dollars, for failure to pay the license tax. The law further makes it my imperative duty to see that the penalty of fifty dollars is enforced. Very few have complied with the law. Unless the parties liable to pay this tax, come forward promptly. I will be compelled (unwillingly as I am) to see that the law is enforced.
