CONCORD, OCT. 17, 1895.

The people of Cabarrus county are to be congratulated that no demonstration was made after the arrest of the negro rapist there Monday. They acted wisely in relying upon the law to mete out the merited punishment to this brute. The eyes of the world are upon the South today. She has been so long the object of vilification and her methods of dealing with criminals so grossly exaggerated that the swerving of a hair's breadth from the path of strictest law and order, subjects her people to many a fierce onslaught of criticism from their enemies. But regardless of what unfavorable comments it is productive of, it is the best school in which to teach the law's majesty when we show to our own people as well as the outside world that at all hazards a criminal must receive protection and be granted a fair trial. And we have given notable illustration of it in more than one instance. —Salisbury World.

A novel clock has a bronze figure of a nude on top of it which automatically smokes cigarettes. Is this another way to kill time?

A funeral in Indiana was indefinitely postponed the other day because the occupant of the coffin, a woman, got thirsty and sat up and asked for a drink.

A school is to be established in New York city where policemen will be taught how to shoot, so that when they shoot at a dog they may not hit a man.

Policeman O'Rourke, of New York, has just retired from service with a fortune of $300,000 saved from his salary and perquisites. Many a president went out of office with less than that.

Big buttons got a boost in Burlington, Vermont, the other day. A jealous lover shot at his sweetheart, and thinking he had killed her, killed himself. The girl was stunned, but soon came too, when it was discovered that the ball struck a button on her dress and went in another direction.

That Missouri bride of seven hours, who left her husband and scooted off to California with an old lover named Angel didn't behave in a very angelic way towards the man who had paid for the marriage license, footed the squire's bill and confidently took her for better or worse, mostly worse.

Men have been known to die for their friends, to go to jail for them, to pay their debts, to believe their stories and to do various other things requiring self-sacrifice and confidence, but there never was a man who would become so much interested in a conversation with his friend as to allow a "bloomer girl" go by unnoticed.

The sugar planters of Louisiana who call themselves Republicans, but refuse to train with the colored brother, will have a lonesome time of it. A Republican party in the South without the sable element, would be Hamlet with Hamlet left out.

That picnic party which picnicked recently on the top of the Longuard, in the Southern Switzerland, at an elevation of 10,500 feet above the sea, had what might be called a high time.

According to a London report, James Gordon Bennet will soon wed Mme. Annkoff, widow of the Russian general who constructed the trans Caspian railway.

Senator Sherman says they'll win in Ohio by 50,000. McKinley isn't prophesying, as McKinley prophets are not what what they were.

Capt. S A Ashe is again to enter journalism. He will, beginning Oct. 23, issue The State, from Raleigh. It will be a weekly paper. Capt. Ashe's ability is well known in North Carolina, and as a strong writer he will have no superior in the State press. His paper will be Democratic and sell for $1.25.

DIES UNDER THE KNIFE.

Ex-Governor Jarvis Reached the Baltimore Hospital Too Late to See Him Alive.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 16.—Congressman L O Latham, of Greenville, N. C., died at the Maryland University Hospital in this city tonight. He had suffered for some time from stomach trouble and came to Baltimore for treatment. An operation was performed but on account of the weakened condition of Mr. Latham, he could not stand the shock. Mr. Latham was 55 years of age.

He represented the first North Carolina district in Congress several times. He fought on the Confederate side and reached the rank of major. Ex-Governor Jarvis, of North Carolina, arrived in the city tonight to be with him in his suffering, but Mr. Latham was dead when he arrived. He left for home almost immediately, taking with him the remains of his friend.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had Consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St., San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result everything else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in Coughs and Colds. Free trial bottles at Fetzer's Drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.

PECTORAL

"Two years ago, I had the grippe, and it left me with a cough which gave me no rest night or day. My family physician prescribed for me, changing the medicine as often as he found the things I had taken were not helping me, but, in spite of his attendance, I got no better. Finally, my husband,—reading one day of a gentleman who had had the grippe and was cured by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,—procured, for me, a bottle of this medicine, and before I had taken half of it, I was cured. I have used the Pectoral for my children and in my family, whenever we have needed it, and have found it a specific for colds, coughs, and lung troubles."—EMILY WOOD, North St., Elkton, Md.
