CONCORD, NOV. 7, 1895.

FIVE YEARS AND SIX MONTHS.

With this issue THE DAILY STANDARD enters upon its 12 Vol.—or the latter half of the sixth year of its ministration.

During all this time it has had lots of fun, and feels that it has done much good, at least many of our patrons are good and kind enough to tell us so. THE DAILY STANDARD has a larger circulation of real subscribers now than at any time in its life, and it has more self-constituted complimentaries hanging around public places and elsewhere ready daily to peruse its columns. For all these it is grateful—they know a good thing when they see it and are among that class that love to get things on easy terms thus demonstrating their financial abilities.

During all this time we have endeavored to talk for the best interest of Concord and its people. We have tried to note and follow up the progressiveness of all, whether they ticked our coffers or not.

In this connection we wish to say that the WEEKLY STANDARD has a larger following than for several years. It sends more papers throughout and is read by more people in Cabarrus county than any publication issued. Over 5,000 people read it weekly in Cabarrus and its county subscription list has, for the last four months, been increasing from two to ten per week.

With thanks to warm, sincere friends and a sympathetic public, with malice towards none, we hope to merit a continuance of the good patronage.

I am a Democrat. In the thing that struck the country last Tuesday there is some consolation: Mt. Pleasant, my native home, and Concord, my adopted home, are still largely Democratic. Thank the Lord!

The result of the election in Virginia and Mississippi is quite orthodox.

Duke is married, at last.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Caillouette, druggist, Berversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle, and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. I won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial bottle at Fetzer's Drug store.

From Tom Dixon.

Greensboro Record: "When I was a boy there were three things I vowed never to do when I went to work on my own account.

"One was that I would never pile brush, second, that I would never tend a gap, and third, never nurse a baby.

"The two first I have stuck to closely, but the third I have had to modify considerably."

"I'm glad I was not born a girl. Fact is I wore a girl's garment until I was a great big chap and the fun that the older boys made of me will linger with me as long as I live. I shall never forget the joy I felt over my first pair of pants—never. I wore them right along—slept in them. Yes I did. I said I had made a step forward and was going to hold my ground; not going to pull those pants off until another pair was in sight, and I didn't. I was afraid of that girl's dress I had worn as long as I could remember."

"Give woman the power to vote and in their first legislative aldermanic board they would pass a bill requiring every man to be at home by 10 o'clock at night.

"Next thing they would do would be to make a law declaring no man should smoke more than three cigars a day. Then their would be war—a great big war. Every man whose wife was an alderman would make her resign or beat her."

"Ninety-four per cent of the women marry. If women had the ballot and didn't vote as did their husband there would be another war. If they voted with their husbands what good could they do? Multiplying by two is not helping matters."

OLD DR. ODOM.

Pops Not Overly Rejoiced.

Charlotte News: When the Democratic party was snowed under, in 1893, there was much rejoicing among the pops in Charlotte. They could not restrain themselves. There is something in the result of yesterday's elections, however that does not set right with them. They are very quiet and are far from dancing with joy. In conversation with a News reporter today, Richard Razor, who is the Populistic mouthpiece in this section, said that he was disappointed with the result of yesterday's elections. The Republican gains surprised him, and Gorman's defeat delighted him. "I would have been willing to have seen Gorman defeated," said Richard, "by a set of yaller dogs."

"In this State next year," he continued, "we are not going to let the Republicans have everything. We (meaning the Pops) are going to insist on an equal division. You can state by authority that there is going to be no fusion on the electoral ticket. We will fuse on the State ticket, but on that only."—Charlotte News.

Come "Little Fivvie."

That's the song Chief of Police Boger sang to Amzi Phifer, John Pressley, Frank Coleman, and Cab Freeman and this (Thursday) morning when he ran on an interesting crap game in the old bowling alley in rear of M E Castor's cabinet shop. The game was delayed considerably when the chief gave chase to a couple of the sports. He got them all, however, but the bones are yet to be hauled.

CANCER CURED

—AND A—
LIFE SAVED

By the Persistent Use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in this treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it."—Mrs. S. A. FIELDS, Bloomfield, Ia.
