Tried to Burn a Residence.
Charlotte News: Mr. J Watt Hood who was in the city today, reports that last Tuesday night an attempt was made by some unknown parties to burn the residence of the Misses McLeod, at Matthews. They are aged ladies, sisters to Maj. M. McLeod, of Charlotte, and live alone, their sleeping apartments being on the second floor of their residence. A pile of dry leaves and lightwood was placed under their house and fired, but fortunately the blaze did not communicate to the house. No motive can be imagined for this attempted incendiarism.

Two Deaths at Forest Hill.
Thursday night about 9 o'clock, Henry Lisk a young man 21 years of age, died at the home of his father at Forest Hill. He had been sick for sometime with typhoid fever. His remains were taken to Mt. Gilead church, Montgomery county, for interment.
The little three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, of Forest Hill, died Thursday night of membranous croup.

Lacked Two Months of 90.
"Uncle Jimmie" Bradford, of No. 3, died Thursday about 9 o'clock. He lacked just two months of reaching four score and ten. For a long time he was a member of Coddle Creek A. R. P. church, but after the erection of Gilwood church, near him, he joined there. He was the father of Mr. John R Bradford.
His remains were interred at Poplar Tent, Rev. Shaw, his pastor, conducting the funeral.

Dr. McInnes Dead.
Mr. G T Crowell has received information from South America to the effect that Dr. Andrew McInnes, his friend who visited him here last spring, had died on sea between Lisbon and Rio. The report has not been confirmed and Mr. Crowell hopes it is untrue.

McNINCH-THIES WEDDING.

A Pretty Home Affair Last Night—Miss Nettie McNinch the Bride—Mr. Oscar Thies the Groom—The House Decorations—Table Effect, Etc.

Charlotte Observer: Miss Nettie McNinch, eldest daughter of the late F A McNinch, and Mrs. S V McNinch, was married last night at the residence of her mother on North Poplar street, at 8 o'clock, to Mr. Oscar J Thies, of Georgia. Rev. Dr. Bowman, of St. Mark's Lutheran church, officiated. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the interior arrangement being especially pretty for a wedding. Between the parlor on the right and hall is a long arch. This arch was festooned with garlands and flowers, and here, on a large snow white rug, the young couple who exchanged vows, stood. The parlor was elaborately decorated with ivy, chrysanthemums and ferns, and the beauty of floral effect was enhanced by the glow from the pink shaded banquet lamps, which seemed conscious of the honor done them, in being allowed to lend radiance to such a scene.

There were no attendants, the marriage being a very quiet affair. The parlors were filled with relatives and special friends, interested witnesses of the pretty event.

As the clock finished striking the hour, the bride and groom entered the hallway and stood under the arch, and were made "no longer twain, but one," by Dr. Bowman in an impressive ceremony.

The bride wore a stylish tailor-made suit of blue cloth, which fitted her trim figure perfectly, and which was exceedingly becoming. Those who know her best are heartiest in their congratulations to Mr. Thies. Bright and attractive, she has always had friends, and by them has been loved and appreciated.

The groom is a son of Captain and Mrs. A Thies, of the Haile Gold mine, in South Carolina. He is general manager of both the Franklin and McDowell gold mines in Georgia, mines which are operated by the Charlotte Mining Company. He is a young man of excellent business capacity, and is held in high esteem by all who have business or social dealings with him.

After the ceremony the guests were invited to partake of the wedding supper. The table presented a beautiful and tempting picture. The centre-piece was a pyramid of fruits and flowers, at the top of which was a large bunch of La France roses, from Washington, which were as fresh and beautiful as when plucked. Four large cakes, which were real ornaments to the table, were made and iced by Mrs. J C Fletcher, of Monroe, and Mrs. J F Goodson, of Concord.

The design of icing was unique and beautiful. On the bride's cake were two large hearts; on another a summer house with flowers beneath, and two companion pieces, one iced in a design of bunches of grapes with leaves. The execution bespoke Mrs. Fletcher and Mrs. Goodson artists in the icing line.

The menu was full and delicious, comprising chicken, salad, turkey, tongue, olives, sandwiches, coffee, chocolate, jelly and ices.

Mr. and Mrs. Thies received a number of handsome presents, among the number a silver service from the groom's parents, and an heirloom from relatives in Germany a piece of silver over 100 years old. Mr. and Mrs. Thies left last night for Atlanta. Their future home will be near Mr. Thies mines in Georgia.

Among the guests from a distance were Capt. and Mrs. Thies, the groom's parents; Mr. and Mrs. T H Higgins, of Levoir; Mrs. Goodson, of Concord, and Mrs. Fletcher, of Monroe.

Made a Masonic Sign in Court.

ANDERSON, Ind., Nov.—In the Superior Court yesterday William H Freeman, of Henlock, appeared in the interest of his brother, Arthur, who has a case in court. William S Devin was the judge presiding. He is a Mason and prominent in other secret orders. Wm. H Freeman took a seat directly in front of the judge. As the case proceeded he gave the Masonic sign of distress. It was quickly recognized by the judge and Masons on the jury. The judge told Freeman not to interfere with the proceedings and sent him to jail for contempt of court. Freeman denies that he made any Masonic sign, but the judge declares he did it boldly and for effect on the case. Freeman says he will appeal to the grand lodge for vindication.

GENERAL NEWS.

The London Times prints a hitherto unpublished letter written by Wm. M Thackeray at the Clarendon hotel in New York on April 5, 1853. In it he says: "I have come here from the south not so horrified as perhaps I ought to be with slavery, which in the towns is not by any means a horrifying institution. The negroes in the good families are the happiest, laziest comfortablest race of menials. They are kept luxuriously in working time and cared for most benevolently in old age."

San Diego, Cal., has at least one woman with a genius for invention. Being bothered by neighbors' chickens invading her garden, she hit upon a novel scheme. She tied a lot of small cards with strong threads to big kernels of corn, and wrote on the cards: "Please keep your chickens at home." The chickens ate the corn and carried the message to their owners in a fashion that was startling and effective.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G Caillouette, druggist, Berversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial bottle at Fetzer's Drug store.

For Rent.

The store room, next to Dove & Bost, now occupied by Sims & Alexander, is for rent. It is 22x75, with good basement. Possession given 1st January, 1896. Apply to J. DOVE.

Slanders Wilkesboro.
Wilkesboro Chronicle: One "Henry Martain" a smart "Alec" writes the Progressive Farmer, that he doesn't like it because chief marshal Patterson appointed 22 of his cousins marshalls for the State Fair. He puts his postoffice at Wilkesboro. To begin with we may state that Wilkesboro is not in the criticising business of this kind, but it has always done all it could to assist rather than criticise the Fair, and it is a slander to say that any inhabitant of Wilkesboro wrote the piece.

In the first place, there is no such man as "Henry Martain" in Wilkesboro and never has been.

In the second place, a large number of his list is no akin to Mr. Patterson, and the list is therefore erroneous and false, as regards that feature.

In the third place, if the entire list of 22, out of over 500, were kinsfolks, who were willing to pay their own expenses in order to make the Fair a success, what objection could any one make, unless he be of that implacable type of Republico-Populo howlers at everything.

Squire "Martin" says he mentions this out of no harm, but insists that "nepotism is nepotism in North Carolina as well as in Washington." To which we may add that "lying is lying" even if done under the assumed name of "Henry Martin."

Gov. Carr in Atlanta.

Gov. Elias Carr is in Atlanta on a pleasure trip, accompanied by his wife and two daughters. When seen by a Journal reporter, Gov Carr said: "I am not here in my official capacity, but simply on a visit of pleasure to see the Exposition. I have no program at all and don't know what we shall do while in the city, except to take in the points of interest.

"We will remain here three or four days.

"Everything is quite in North Carolina," continued the governor. "We have had no election recently, and have taken no part in the prevailing political excitement.

"Last year we lost everything, you know," said he, "the fusionists electing both Senators."

Governor Carr was very much interested in the result in Kentucky, and was making inquiries early this morning as to General Watt Hardin's success.

He was not satisfied, he said, with the news from Kentucky. It was couched in very uncertain language, and gave cause for the belief that it was unfavorable. When informed that his fears were true, the governor expressed his sincere regret.

Cure for Headache.

As a remedy for all forms of headache Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It affects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headaches yield to its influence. We urge all who are afflicted to procure a bottle, and give this remedy a fair trial. In cases of habitual constipation Electric Bitters cures by giving the needed tone to the bowels, and few cases long resist the use of this medicine. Try it once. Fifty cents and $1.00 at Fetzer's drug store.
