CONCORD, NOV. 9, 1895.

Probably the oldest steam railroad car in this country is side tracked at Pullman's car shops in Wilmington, Del. It was on exhibition at the Columbian Exposition, and would have been sent to Atlanta had the trucks not rotted from under it.

In Montana, where he is one of the boys, Senator Carter drinks his whisky straight, chews plug tobacco, greases his boots, and uses double negatives and other forms of bad grammar.

Believe nothing against another but on good authority; and never what may hurt another, unless it be greater hurt to some other to conceal it.

The "senior medics" of the University of Michigan have elected a Chinese lady "May Stone," or Meiyil Shei, secretary of the class.

Even in Chicago they won't let you throw newspapers and unreceipted bills into the street any more.

Whatever his physical ailments it seems now as though Corbette would never be subject to Fitz.

The gobble of the Thanksgiving turkey is heard through the pumpkin vines.

The city of Wichita, Kansas, is built above a subterranean lake.

Bring to its Senses.

MR. EDITOR:—The elections have come and gone, and you are not to be blamed for being proud of the place of your nativity. We are still Democrats, and will remain such as long as the old party stands by the fundamental principles upon which it was founded.

The result last Tuesday ought to bring the party to its senses, if it has any to be brought to. There must be a coming together and a stopping of fighting one another. The sound money democrats had been abused by Populists and free silver Democrats, until it looks as if the whole country had turned against them. There was no use for the Republicans to say anything, Democrats so-called and their Populistic allies in the work of wrecking the party did the business handsomely enough. The lesson taught in Kentucky is a pointer. The American people will not have free silver, and the more quickly we put ourselves in a mental condition to see the inevitable the better it will be for us as a Democratic party. A house divided against itself cannot stand. A party that possibly might flood the county with cheap money cannot succeed. Tampering with the standard of value is political foolishness, and threatening to lower it is sufficient to brand any political party with incompetency in the field of statecraft. The sound money standard and the parity of the dollar must be stamped on our banner, under that sign Democracy will conquer. No. 8.

Made it be said to the Women's Charleston News and Courier:

In his day and generation Zeb Vance was the most popular man in North Carolina, and his life was devoted to the service of his people. They followed him wherever he led and followed him without question, and when he died there was mourning in nearly every home in the old North State. But, alas! how soon we are forgo. Shortly after Senator Vance's death, a Vance Memorial Association was formed to raise a sum to build a monument to his memory. It was proposed that at least $10,000 should be expended for the purpose, but the times were hard and the people were poor and Vance was dead. The treasurer of the fund reported last week that he had only $600 in hand. An effort is now being made to resume the long neglected work and it has been suggested that the women be enlisted in the undertaking. We hope that they will take it up. The men are too busy looking after the living to remember the dead, but the women do not forget, and the women of North Carolina should not forget Zeb Vance. Let them build his monument.

Destructive Fire at Dalton.

Mr. Airy News: Monday afternoon the little town of Dalton, in Stokes county, about 25 miles southeast of Mount Airy, suffered a severe loss by fire. The tobacco factory, store house, two tobacco barns, two tenant houses, two work shops and a lumber house were burned. The property we believe all belonged to the estate of the late D N Dalton. The tobacco factory was operated by Maj. Marshall and Tom Dalton, and contained about 40,000 pounds of manufactured tobacco, which was burned with the building. The fire caught in the prize room from the stove, and when the train passed there about 5 o'clock, was under good headway. We are not informed as to the amount of the loss. There was some insurance, but not enough to cover the loss.

Women.

Men never get tired of talking about them, fighting about them, thinking about them; and they never will.

Men laugh at them but love them; curse them, but adore them; lose them, and mourn for them.

Men try to appear at their best before a good woman. A bad one can set them a competitive examination in wickedness.

Men still occasionally think they are the masters of women. But by degrees the truth is getting to be pretty well understood.

Men demand that women shall be better than themselves. And women fulfil the demand, though it is not very just.

Men are in the hands of beautiful women helpless. The women deserve the more credit by using their power more mercifully.

Men claim to be the lords of creation—and so they are. But Lord knows how much their lordship amounts to.—New York Recorder.

CANCER CURED —AND A— LIFE SAVED By the Persistent Use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in this treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it."—Mrs. S. A. FIELDS, Bloomfield, Ia.
