Proposed to Three in One Day.

A young gentleman in the city recently went out in No. 1 township, where he spent the day. He put up at a prominent farmer's home and found himself in the midst of a throng of beautiful young women. The young fellow became somewhat confused before leaving, having found the young ladies so agreeable that he proposed to three of them, all of whom accepted.

The proposition was of quite a different nature from what many would infer. It was that if the young ladies would bring him a bushel of scalybarks, he would go beyond the market price and pay them $1.50 for them. He was very much surprised when several days later the ladies entered his place of business, bringing with them the scalybarks. The young fellow was embarrassed, but paid the price, whereupon the ladies thanked him for his special favor.

The Pardon of Lena Cline.

Raleigh Observer: Goy Carr has pardoned Lena Cline, a very pretty and innocent-looking young girl, who was sentenced to the penitentiary for one year for larceny; "on condition that she be placed in the House of Refuge, Baltimore, and remain there as long as the authorities deem it best for her welfare, or until they are satisfied of her complete reform."

Mrs. Hays, of the King's Daughters, accompanied her to Baltimore. The King's Daughters and the State Board of Charities used their influence to secure her pardon.
