The ladies of the First Presbyterian church have collected and shipped to the orphans at Barton Springs a box containing a nice supply of fruits, jellies, etc.

If the authorities would pay strict attention to the unlawful and great amount of blind tiger liquor sold here on Saturday nights and Sundays, it wouldn't be long until such sneaking work would cease.

Esquire Rufus Cline was called upon Sunday to perform a sacred ceremony, which united Mr. Charles Orinshaw to Miss Esther Fink in the bonds of holy wedlock. All are of No. 4 township.

In the foot ball game between the Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College and the University of North Carolina teams on Saturday last in Charlotte, the Carolina boys, of course, came out victorious.

You may eat cheap food and not be seriously hurt by it; but you cannot take cheap medicines without positive injury. If you use any substitute for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, you do so at the peril of your health, perhaps of your life. Insist on having Ayer's, and no other.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary G Huie was conducted Sunday from the Presbyterian church, by Rev. W C Alexander. The interment took place at the Presbyterian graveyard. Messrs Noah Foard, of Roanoke, Va., R A Foard, of Greensboro, and Hiram Foard, of Leaksville, were here to attend the burial.

Few people take as much interest in pleasing the public as does Mr. John K Patterson, who is always up to date in the greasy line. He has just received a fresh lot of Heckler's Buckwheat, macaroni, ginger snaps, pretzels, cakes, crackers, figs, dates, nuts, raisins, cocoanuts, plain and fancy candies, lemons, apples, oranges, canned hams, leaf and country lard, cottolene, Daisy cheese, the finest ever brought to the city, an assortment of molasses, and in fact everything that is found in a well regulated and first-class grocery store. n18

Death of Mrs. Castor.
 Mrs. Sarah A Castor, wife of Mr. Elam Castor, of Concord, died today (Monday) at her home on West Depot street at 11:35.

For over a year Mrs. Castor has been in very feeble health, the lingering effects of the grip. She was born January 25, 1236 and married in the year 1858, being aged 59 years, 10 months and 23 days at her death.

Mrs. Castor was a most excellent lady, very kind and affable, and in her gentle and modest life she attracted to herself many warm friends and won the esteem of all acquaintances. Around her bedside in the last hours, though her strength was gradually wearing away and earthly ties that kept the pure soul from going to its reward were slowly but surely loosening, watched loved ones and near friends but they did not expect the end so near. After a useful life in doing good and after seeing all her children grown, she is taken from this world of sorrow and pain to a better life in a better world.

She leaves a husband, one son and three daughters to mourn the loss, and in their sad bereavement there goes out the tenderest sympathy of the community.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
 When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
 When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
 When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

For Benevolence.

On Saturday night at the business meeting of the Epworth League of Forest Hill Methodist church it was made known to that order that several families on the Hill were in distressing circumstances, whereupon a collection was taken, the proceeds of which will be devoted to charitable purposes. The sum of money subscribed was quite a handsome one and is a pleasing evidence of the good that is being done through the League.

M in the Midst of Darkness There is Light.

The above would have been a very appropriate text for the ministers of the various churches Sunday night. In the midst of the services the light went out, caused by the dynamo having to shut down for four minutes on account of the jam nut on the piston rod loosening. There was no delay in the discourses, however, as lamps were quite ready and the old-time light resorted to.

Christians Endeavoring.

Rev. W C Alexander announced from the pulpit Sunday night at the First Presbyterian church that a basket had been placed in the vestibule by the young people's Christian Endeavor Society to receive good, Christian literature of all descriptions, which will be put to good usages. Let the public generally assist this society in its endeavors to render a benefit to others by contributing good selections.
