In addition to other improvements on the front of his store room, Esquire W J Hill will put over the sidewalk a beautiful awning, such as are in other parts of the town. It may save some snow sweeper a cold job this winter.

You may eat cheap food and not be seriously hurt by it; but you cannot take cheap medicines without positive injury. If you use any substitute for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, you do so at the peril of your health, perhaps of your life. Insist on having Ayer's, and no other.

Mr. W T Tucker, formerly a citizen of Mt. Pleasant, but now of Anson county spent Monday in the city. He has a brother at Cannonville. Mr. Tucker lost one leg in the war, and two years ago while hunting he accidentally shot his foot which had to be amputated.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the funeral service of the late Mrs. M E Castor was conducted from the home of her husband on West Depot street, by Rev. M G G Scherer, her pastor, which was concluded at the cemetery where the remains were put in their last resting place.

An apple wagon man from East Tennessee came up West Corbin street. He stopped his team at the Allison square, then he mounted St. James church steps and began knocking at the door. Getting no answer he turned and remarked to a little negro "there mustn't be nobody at home" The young African American took great pleasure in saying "why mister, dat's a church."

Forest Hill News.

Mr. C M Suther is off duty today, he having stuck a nail in his foot yesterday.

Messrs. B E and F E Bates, of the Whittin machine shop, Whitinsville, Mass, are setting up five new spinning frames in No. 2 Mill, containing 28 spindles, each of the latest make.

There is a great demand for houses up this way; it seems the supply is not equal to the demand.

Mr. W B Zimmerman has gone to the Exposition to see the sights.

The oyster supper which is to be given by the Ladies Aid Society, of the Forest Hill M. E. Church is looked forward to with much anxiety, to us especially who haven't had a square meal since roasting ears and beans vanished from the market. Many thanks to the brave firemen, who so kindly postponed their entertainment in order to help out the good ladies in this work, and it is hoped that they all may have a good patronage.

Mr. T R Peinger, of this hill, is in hard luck; he bought a pig and, as he thought, safely penned it, but when he went to exhibit it to some friends, to his great astonishment, the pig was gone. It had either crawled down a crawfish hole or climbed out. I will give a description of the lost swine: A black pig with long snout and eye brows—a liberal reward will be given for information leading to the recovery of the swine. "R."

November 19, 1895.

Kit Was Naughty.

Kit, the black mule that Mr. J A Cline drives to his milk wagon, acted very naughty early this (Tuesday) morning by making a dash down West Depot street, frightening several people and running the back against an electric light pole, knocking all the spokes out of the hind wheel, turned the cans out and spilling milk all along the street, which bore evidence that this is a land that flows with milk. Kit was halted on Spring street as she confronted Mr. Will Goodman's team, into which it looked as if she would plunge.

A Strike in Charlotte.

The strike of last week at the furniture factory in Charlotte is still on. This morning's Observer says: "The trouble is entirely confined to the machine shop. Out of fifteen hands employed in there eleven have quit. As mentioned Sunday the cause of the trouble was, the hands state on account of a negro being put on a machine and, and then the white men refused to work in the shop with a negro. They claim that a negro was also given a white man's place as engineer. Mr. Elliott doesn't seem much concerned about the matter. He told the hands he would run the shop if he had to do it himself. The hands say he cannot do it. Two more men quit last night."
