A BATCH OF LOCAL NEWS.

Picked Up and Put in Shape By Our Hustling Pencil Pusher.

Forecast for tomorrow: "Sunday fair and warmer."

Mr. James N Bell is slightly improved, but not yet able to be up.

Mr. James F Dayvault is quite sick at the home of his brother, Mr. Smoot Dayvault's, on Bell avenue.

Gray enameled stew pans, bread pans, dish pans, cake pans, coffee pots, etc., at W J Hill's. Open at night.

M J Corl is having his omnibus overhauled. It will be a "beaut" when complete and will be out in a few days.

A singing class has been organized at St. Andrews' Lutheran church. Practices are held every Saturday evening at 7:30.

Cooking stoves, heating stoves, wood stoves, coal stoves, gasoline stoves, oil stoves, lamp stoves at W J Hill's. Open at night.

It is very annoying to some of the citizens in the west end of the city to be awakened after midnight by the explosion of firecrackers, which has been going on for several nights past, it is said.

Dr. W H Wakefield, of Charlotte, will be in Concord at the St. Cloud on Friday, November 29. His practice is limited to the eye, ear, nose and throat.

Salisbury World: Mr. John Corriher whose sickness at China Grove has been noted in the World is worse today. His brother, Dr. C W Corriher, went out this morning to see him.

Mr. D W Snyder, the sewing machine man, has spent a while in Rowan in the Rocks neighborhood. He says many nice things about the hospitality and goodness of these people.

D M Walker pays the highest market prices for all kind of country produce, cash or barter. Don't forget the place opposite D C Furr's at Forest Hill.

Rev. H M Blair announces this week that at the approaching session of the Methodist Conference he will retire from the editorship of the North Carolina Christian Advocate.

B F Bost, of No. 11 township, killed two 1-year old hogs Thursday last, one weighing 437 and the other 381 pounds. Twelve months old swine are hard to beat at this weight.

Judging from the way the streets were blocked with wagons and the large crowds in town today, one would think that there was an enormous country trade. Such was the case, too.

Mr. James W Long died this afternoon just as we go to press. No arrangements had been made for the funeral.

Eight cents is the ruling price for cotton, although some very fine Stanly cotton brought 8.10 this morning. Several hundred bales were marketed yesterday and today.

Miss Ida Weddington, for a long time assistant to her father at the Register of Deeds office, has gone to Harrisburg to teach school. Miss Alice Sims accompanied her and will spend Sunday at Harrisburg.

Under a threat of a suit, we retract, Jno. Julian came to Concord on the top side of a freight train, not on the trucks. He rode where the conductor, had he wanted to, could have seen him. Is this to your liking, Salisbury Word?

G U Hatley and family, of Snootherly, Stanly county, have moved to Cannonville to live. Within the past month twenty-five families have moved from that county to this city to live. There is room for many more, who will be received cordially.

The week of Thanksgiving and Prayer announced by the Woman's Missionary Board, will be duly observed next week by the auxiliary of Central church. Services will be held at 4 o'clock every afternoon. Monday afternoon at Mrs. D B Coltrane's, led by Mrs. Hartsell.

"I escaped being a confirmed dyspeptic by taking Ayer's Pills in time." This is the experience of many. Ayer's Pills, whether as an after-dinner pill or as a remedy for liver complaint, indigestion, flatulency, water brash, and nausea, are invaluable.

A cup of muddy coffee is not wholesome, neither is a bottle of muddy medicine. One way to know a reliable and skillfully-prepared blood-purifier is by its freedom from sediment. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is always bright and sparkling, because it is an extract and not a decoction.

Prof. F H Noble, formerly a member of the faculty of Livingstone College, was yesterday sworn in as an attorney at this court. He is the first negro lawyer who has ever practiced in Salisbury, but as he is a highly educated man and fluent speaker he will doubtless do well.—Salisbury World.

Some one went to the home of Mr. James Loman Friday night while he and his wife were absent, picked the front door lock and so arranged it that when he and his wife returned, about 11:30 o'clock, entrance could be gained only by means of a window. Nothing was disturbed within, however.

$5.00 for School Funds.

Several days ago Mary Boger swore out a peace warrant against Hammet Montgomery, and before the case was brought up for trial, Hammet took out papers for Mary, and upon trial Friday before Esq. C A Pitts, he was found guilty and fined $5.00 and cost. The fine goes to the county public school funds. Mary was acquitted. Hammet will be tried for disturbing Mary's peace on Monday.

Had a Tree Attached.

A large bird, resembling a turkey, passed over the city this afternoon with a small tree attached to its feet by means of a long string. It may have been a Thanksgiving turkey that some one had tied out in their yard. Several little boys followed the huge fowl with shot guns. They showed signs of excitement when telling what an immense bird they had seen and expected to bring back with them.

Expositioners.

The vestibule this morning carried quite a pleasant party to Atlanta, composed of Mrs. W J Montgomery, Misses Mary Lewis, Emm Watkins, of Clinton, Misses Mary Montgomery, Lilly Patterson and Master William Montgomery. Judge Montgomery and daughter, Miss Lucy, joined them at Spartanburg.

On Wednesday next Misses Mary Bennett, Carrie Dunlap and Kate Cassel, students of the Normal Institute at Asheville, will pass through to the exposition and will be accompanied from this city by Mr. Burton Bennett, Miss Bennett's brother.

Shooting Near Mt. Pleasant.

On Thursday afternoon Mr. W M Barrier, who lives near Mt. Pleasant, became indignant at the insinuations of a negro cropper working on his plantation and after a brief quarrel, got his shot gun and fired five times at the negro, one load taking effect in the negro's back and hands. He was not hurt more than severely stung. Both parties were tried before Esquire A W Moose, at Mt. Pleasant and placed under a $100 bond for appearance at court.

Will Lecture Tuesday Night.

Prof. J E McCorkle, the phrenologist of Mooresville, writes to Mr. M W Stuart that he will be in the city and give a free lecture on "Love, Courtship and Marriage" next Tuesday night. This lecture is highly entertaining, and it is hoped that the Professor will be greeted with a large audience. After his lecture he will examine two heads and phrenologize them. The place of holding this entertainment will be made known later.
