A BATCH OF LOCAL NEWS.

Picked Upland Put in Shape By Our Hustling Pencil Pusher.

Mr. John Creech, of Cannonville, is quite sick with pneumonia.

After a week's holiday the white graded school opened up again this morning.

'Tis a funny sight to view the big aleeys under a common-sized umbrella this rainy weather.

Gray enameled stew pans, bread pans, dish pans, cake pans, coffee pots, etc., at W. J. Hill's. Open at night.

Don't pray "give us this day our daily bread," and then walk around waiting for the Lord to take it and put it in your mouth.

Cooking stoves, heating stoves, wood stoves, coal stoves, gasoline stoves, oil stoves, lamp stoves at W. J. Hill's. Open at night.

Forecast for tomorrow says: Tuesday fair and colder. Hoist cold wave signal; temperature will fall 25 degrees by Tuesday evening.

The city school board was not in regular monthly session this afternoon on account of the absence from town of several members. No important business was to have come up.

Mr. H. L. Fowler, for a long time night boss of the spinning rooms at the Cannon factories, has resigned his position here to accept one more lucrative at Winston. He will leave for that place Monday next.

The fancy finish on the top of the new smoke stack at Cannonville attracts no little attention—not only because it is a pretty piece of work but that there are four jags, one on each corner, which were placed there by the masons of their own accord.

The numerous cures of rheumatism by the use of the old standard blood-purifier, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, show conclusively that it is an effective remedy, if not indeed the specific, for the most painful and persistent of maladies. What has cured others will also cure you.

Mr. J. R. Ritchie, of China Grove, was in Concord for the first time in four years. He gave the WEEKLY STANDARD a tip that does its whole nature a deal of good. Mr. Ritchie's better half is like many others—she just couldn't do without THE STANDARD.

The soft, rich, glassy sheen, so much admired in hair, can be secured by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. All the assistance that nature requires to make the hair strong, beautiful, and abundant is supplied by this excellent preparation.

Gamblers in Town.

A reporter visited the tent on the Cruse lot, pitched by the Aerial Navigation Company, and there beheld a number of our people being gulled out of their hard-earned cash by the slick men with their own "tricks," while the Cedar Grove band played.

On the right as we entered stood an old man, who worked the "wheel of fortune" and his song was to "watch the indicator," and from all indications it cost all the way from 50 cents to $5 to watch it each time it revolved, while the band continued to play.

To the left of this was the man with the numbered "ten pins" and, for your money you got "dubs"—always with a double amount of experience, while the band played.

For the amusement of the "innocent" and the "trapped" a man played with snakes, while the band played and charmed its listeners.

The loose skin man did not do much of the skinning, although he was up to snuff in the business. A man walked on sharp edge swords, while the band played enchanting airs. A "Punch and Judy" performance took place just before the balloon ascended, while the band played.

All in all, it was a "gift show" just what the sheriff issued them license for. It is the biggest fraud and gambling scheme ever let come into this community, but then they had license and the band played.

The Organ of the Conference
Mr. Josephus Danniell writes to his Raleigh News and Observer as follows concerning the Christian Advocate:

There is some difference of opinion about the Advocate and its policy. The Trinity trustees are not satisfied with its course, that is some of them are not. Its criticism of the bankers on the money question and its explanations has critics and defenders. Rev. H. M. Blair will retire from the editorship and other changes are among the possibilities. Rev. R. B. John and Rev. John N. Cole, representing the Eastern Conference, were requested to meet the committee on books and periodicals and discuss the paper question. It is understood there is a strong sentiment in favor of the Conference electing an editor, and tendering him to the owners of the paper. But the probabilities are that there will be no change in the plan.

Will All Come Back Very Likely.
Rev. W. H. L. McLaurin has returned from Reidsville and reports conference business in full blast. Work will be finished by Tuesday, it is thought. Although the appointments have not yet been read out, it is very likely that our ministers will all be returned to us. This is good news and will be received most agreeably by everybody of all denominations.

Crowded Out.
The following from the Lutheran World tells us why a certain college president was turned out of his own institution: "For a man with his family to be turned out of house and home at this season of the year is a sight which ordinarily excites pity in human breasts. This is what happened to Prof. E. E. Campbell, president of Irving College, Mechanicsburg, Pa. The girls have kept crowding in until they positively crowded out the president, and he has been obliged to purchase a residence for himself outside of the college building, though immediately opposite and in full view of them."

[This is the institution which Misses Annie and Ora Hoyer of our town are attending, and the one of whose faculty Rev. W. G. Campbell is a member.]
