OVER $500,000 TAKEN.

Many Millions Refused by the Treasury Because it Couldn't be Accepted at its Face Value.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Since Secretary Carlisle's offer to pay express charges both ways for gold deposited, in order to build up the gold reserve, slightly over $500,000 in gold has been deposited in conformity with the offer. Many million dollars of gold have been offered by national banks, but the conditions attached have been such that Secretary Carlisle has declined to receive it. For instance, $700,000 in gold was offered by Louisville, Ky., banks. The gold was light weight and the banks wanted it accepted at its face and not at its bullion value. Many banks in Western sub-Treasury cities offered to deposit gold if they were given a credit in New York. The terms of the original offer expressly precludes this being done as it was not the intent of the Treasury to assume the expense of exchange for national banks. The offer states that the gold must be deposited in the nearest sub-Treasury by the depositor and the currency would be forwarded in exchange, the Treasury paying express charges both ways. It did not contemplate the deposit of gold in one sub-Treasury city and the delivery of currency therefor in another sub-Treasury city at government expense. In the meantime, withdrawals of gold from the Treasury will continue and the gold reserve is now slightly below $79,000,000.

How Soon?

Not many nights ago a young suitor was pleading passionately to the woman of his choice, who was somewhat reluctant about accepting the proffered hand, when he exclaimed, "I would die for you," to which the practical girl calmly queried, "How soon?"

Her Wrapper Burned Off.

A woman in the upper part of the city came near burning up Thursday morning. She was working about a wash-pot, underneath which was a blazing fire and in switching around her skirt caught and almost instantly the woman was enveloped in flames. Her burns were slight, but the wrapper was almost entirely consumed.

A Fire Friday Morning.

Fire was discovered this morning about 4 o'clock on the fence in rear of the residence of Mr. Fred Beck. An old quilt was across the fence and in some way it caught fire. It was gaining considerable headway, when it arrested the attention of night watchman R. W. Johnston, who with the assistance of several campers, put it out without giving an alarm.

It May Do as Much for You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, N. C., writes that he had a Severe Kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called Kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure of all Kidney and Liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price 50c. and $1. At Fetzer's Drug Store.

A HEAD END COLLISION.

A Freight Wreck on the Air Line—Five Men More or Less Hurt, But None Fatally—Cause of the Accident Said to Be a "Dead" Freight Train on the Track.

At one o'clock this morning two freight trains on the Air Line road came together at a point five miles south of Spartanburg. There was a bad wreckage of engines and cars, and five men were hurt, though none fatally. The injured are:

Engineer George A. Link.
Engineer T. H. Hammond.
Conductor T. B. Sumner.
Fireman Alfred Carter.
Brakeman Sydney Wright.

The accident occurred 300 yards south of Fair Forest station, and the trains involved were No. 45, south-bound, Engineer T. H. Hammond and Conductor R. L. Gilmer; and the fourth section of No. 42, Charlotte bound, Engineer George A. Link and Conductor T. B. Sumner.

At railroad headquarters, it is said that the blame for the collision rests on the Charlotte bound train, which was over twelve hours late. The rule governing the running of trains is that when a train becomes over twelve hours late, it loses all right to run and is what is termed as a dead train. It can move only on orders. It is supposed that the conductor and engineer of 42 overlooked the fact that they were over 12 hours late, and continued to run on the former orders, when they should have remained "dead," and got in the way of 45. The collision was a terrific one, the engines coming together with great force. Engineer Hammond was injured by leaping from his engine. Engineer Link stood to his post. The news of the accident was at once telegraphed to Charlotte, and Capt. W. B. Ryder, superintendent, left on a special train for the scene, and began the work of clearing the wreckage in the prompt and expeditious manner for which he is noted.

Mr. Link is a son-in-law of Sergeant Joe Orr of the police force. His wife is in Atlanta. The track was cleared for the passage of trains about 10 o'clock. The train from Atlanta due here at 8 o'clock, did not arrive until 1:50.—Thursday's Charlotte News.

Lost Her Bonnet, But Didn't Know It

It is a very common occurrence for a man to lose or misplace his hat but a very singular thing for a woman to lose her bonnet, especially from her head. A lady recently called at a certain parsonage upon the sick wife of the minister, but did not tarry long, as she was on her way to church, which was a mile from the minister's house. Between the house and the church the bonnet became detached from the lady's head and was lost, the discovery not being made until after services, when some gentleman remarked that it was a new "fangle" for women to go entirely without a bonnet, although one variety of style is almost invisible. This happened in a little village not more than 15 miles from this city, and is told by a preacher.

Examination of County Treasurer's Books.

On Thursday Chairman J. Dove, assisted by Mr. Joseph Young, devoted their time in the examination of the books of the county treasurer, which they found in proper condition, all accounts straight, with plenty money on hand.

SOUTH CAROLINA INQUISITION.

The Poor Negroes Flayed to Death With Buggy Traces—Their Crime Only Petty Theft, and Not Proven.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 5.—The details of an ugly lynching which occurred in this State last Monday night came to light to-night. It took place down in Colleton county near the Barnwell and Hampton lines. The dead bodies of two of the victims, stripped of their clothing, were found, one being an old woman. They had been beaten to death with new buggy traces, the man's offense being that he was suspected of having stolen a Bible and some furniture from a church and the woman's offense being that she was supposed to know something of it. Liquor seems to be the only excuse for the deed, if excuse there can be.

A young negro, Isom Kearsse, who was suspected of stealing the Bible from St. Nicholas church, was taken by four or six Barnwell county men and tied behind their buggy. They drove so fast the negro sometimes lost his footing and was dragged along.

On the way two of the party were sent back to get the negro's aged mother "Old Matma Hannah," and his young wife, a girl about 17 years of age, who has a five months old infant. At the ferry the party held up. When the women arrived none of the three would or could tell anything about the church property. Upon their refusal they were all three stripped naked and beaten with a new buggy trace, which it is said was almost worn out. The man was given about 150 lashes and fell insensible, his body being in a terrible condition; the women were likewise severely beaten. The man several times pleaded with his tormentors to shoot him. The old woman broke away and dashed into the woods. The young woman did likewise, going in a different direction.

The men built a fire near the insensible negro, threw his old coat over him and left. On Wednesday morning his body was found where it was left, cold in death. It had been there one night and one day. About 100 yards away in the swamp, lying in a pool of water about knee deep, was found the old woman's body, cold and stiff. She had fallen face downward with her hands extended.

The young woman managed to find her way home, and is said to be in a critical condition. The coroner's jury has rendered a verdict charging directly four prominent men, one a physician, with the crime. Others, who tried to prevent the deed, gave the information.
