A business man of the city had considerable trouble in getting his stove to draw, and after worrying with it for several weeks, last night cast it aside and placed in a new one, which has drawn the bottom entirely out of the stove.

If you are anxious to find the most reliable blood-purifier, read in Ayer's Almanac the testimonials of those who have been cured of such terrible diseases as catarrh, rheumatism, and scrofula, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Then govern yourself accordingly.

Rev. W O Alexander, who assisted Dr. Ruple in the communion services at the Presbyterian church, returned to his home in Concord this morning. Mr. Alexander's sermons were strong and convincing, and were listened to with interest. He has made warm friends here.—Salisbury Herald.

As an emergency medicine, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral takes the lead of all other remedies. For the relief and cure of croup, whoopingcough, sore throat, and the dangerous pulmonary troubles to which the young are so liable, it is invaluable, being prompt to act, sure to cure.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Gowan Dusenbury died Monday night at their home in Oxford. Dr. J C Davis has gone to Lexington to arrange for the funeral and interment, which will take place there to-morrow. Mrs. M Dusenbury will meet the corpse and its attendants in Lexington to-night.

By Their Fruits.

A chaplain in the army during the war was passing over the field when he saw a soldier who had been wounded lying upon the ground. He happened to have his Bible under his arm, and he stooped down and said to the man:

"Would you like me to read you something that is in the Bible?"

The wounded man said: "I'm so thirsty, I would rather have a drink of water."

The chaplain hurried off, and as quickly as possible brought the water. After the man had drunk the water he said:

"Could you lift my head and put something under it?"

The chaplain removed his light overcoat, rolled it up, and tenderly lifting the head, put it as a pillow for the tired head to rest on.

"Now," said the man, "if I only had something over me. I am so cold."

There was only one thing the chaplain could do, and that was to take off his coat and cover the man. As he did so, the wounded man looked up in his face, and said:

"For God's sake, if there is anything in that book that makes a man do for another what you have for me, let me hear it."

There is a world of meaning, to my mind, in this incident. The need of today is acting the object lesson the book teaches.

Yes there is such teachings in the Bible, and he, who fails to live the deeds this chaplain did, and pretends to be a Christian, is a liar and the truth is not in him.

To Enjoy Charlotte's Treat.

The famous Sousa's band and Bob and Alf Taylor, in "Yankee Doodle and Dixie" are the attractions that took a number of our people to Charlotte today, among whom were C B Wagoner, H M Barrow, J E Hamilton, R S Harris, George W Means, B E Harris, Ed F White and others. Sousa gave a concert this afternoon and the Taylor brothers will produce their Southern scenes of long ago tonight.

Molasses Pavement.

E Fincke, the head chemist of a sugar refinery at Ch. no. Cal., has invented a queer pavement. It is made mostly of molasses, the kind used having been a refuse product hitherto believed to be utterly worthless. It is simply mixed with a certain kind of sand to about the consistency of asphalt and laid like an asphalt pavement. The heat of the sun, instead of softening it, makes the pavement harder and drier. A block of the composition successfully withstood repeated blows of a machine hammer and showed no signs of cracking or bending.—New York Tribune.

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being "wisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphia. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful torments, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 145 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."
