THE STORMIEST DAY YET.

The Weather Too Bad for the Violet and the President; May Have to Go Home By Rail.

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 13.—President Cleveland and his party have succeeded today in thoroughly losing themselves to the outside world, for no one knows where he is at present. The Violet was to have left Hatters today, but whether she did so or not, is unknown, for a gale has been raging over the North Carolina sounds, and the wires between Kitty Hawk and Hatters are down. At Kitty Hawk, the wind blew at a rate of 68 miles an hour and was probably much heavier at Hatters. No vessels have arrived from North Carolina waters and it is the opinion of sailing masters that the Violet could not have made the run up Pamlico Sound under the heavy winds prevailing. The water in the Albemarle and Chesapeake canal through which the Violet must pass on her way to Norfolk, now measures only five and a half feet, the lowest ever known in the connecting link between Virginia and North Carolina. It is probable that the presidential party will have to go to Elizabeth City, N. C., and come to Norfolk by rail. The storm today around Hatters is the worst so far this season.

After a Woman.

The following correspondence, to the Statesville Landmark, from Yadkin county explains itself: Mr. B G Colvard, whose mill was burned some time ago, and who is rebuilding, always thought that the fire that destroyed his mill was incendiary. At last the secret is out, in consequence of which some of our heretofore honored citizens are in trouble. Mr. Colvard has been tracing this matter for some time but quietly, so other parties thought it had completely died away until last Friday, when papers were issued for the arrest of an aged lady by the name of Rhoda Shores, the wife of Nathan Shores, and mother of Eli Shores, the latter the great liquor dealer of this neighborhood. Mrs. Shores was given a preliminary hearing on Friday evening and bound over to the Superior Court of Yadkin. In default of bond she was committed to jail Friday night. Saturday she gave bond and was released until court. Eli, her son, it is thought started to run away and got as far as the railroad and heard of his mother's trouble and returned to aid her. It is not thought that she did the act herself, as there is good evidence as to others and other arrests will be made as soon as possible. The cause of the burning is thought to be on account of sickness, as the mill pond covered several acres and consequently caused chills and fever for several miles around. But burning the mill had no effect on the health of the community, for since the burning the pond has been there and still remains, and as the new mill is evident that the pond will remain for some time yet.

Cure for Headache.

As a remedy for all forms of Headache Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It effects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headaches yield to its influence. We urge all who are afflicted to procure a bottle, and give this remedy a fair trial. In cases of habitual constipation Electric Bitters cures by giving the needed tone to the bowels, and few cases long resist the use of this medicine. Try it once. Fifty cents and $1.00 at Fetzer's Drug Store.

One Finger Lost.

Madison Hall, a young white man working at Bradford's cotton gin, five miles southeast of this city, got a finger cut off in the gin by getting his hand in too close proximity with the saw. It occurred Friday.

Burned to Death.

A very distressing death occurred in Coleburg Friday afternoon about 4 o'clock. Caroline Barrier, a feeble colored woman 73 years of age, with two small children were gathered around the fireside, when a spark popped out and set fire to the old woman's clothes, who was too weak to extinguish it, and while the children ran out and screamed for assistance, the poor old soul was burned so terribly that she died within two hours afterward.

Put Them in Jail.

It seems that father and son were not living in Christian unity, from the conduct of Ben Burkhead and his son-in-law, Lucius Johnston, who lived together in Chapman town on Broad street. In an affray this (Saturday) morning both men were bruised and cut over their head by the use of rocks, an axe and clubs. They were put in jail to await court, having used deadly weapons. They quarrelled about the extravagance of a wife.

Damage Suit Against Revenue Officers.

Statesville Landmark: While on a business visit to Charlotte some time ago Mr. J Clark Sullivan, of Statesville, was arrested by Revenue Officers O I Gresham and R P King, of that place. The arrest took place on the public streets of Charlotte in open daylight, and the officers first made Mr. Sullivan hold up his hands while they searched him for weapons. They then made him pull off his shoes, hat, etc., while they searched him for cancelled revenue stamps, which they accused him of having.

As a result of this treatment Mr. Sullivan has entered suit in Iredell Superior Court for damages against King and Gresham for false arrest and the humiliation to which he was subjected. The complaint has not yet been filed and the amount of damages asked for has not yet been named. Mr. R B McLaughlin, of Statesville, and Congressman Linney are Mr. Sullivan's attorneys.

Quay Wouldn't Take It.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 12.—Recent stories have been set afloat, mainly in Washington, that Senator Quay was a candidate for the Republican nomination for the Presidency. Mr. Quay was asked today about the matter and he said:

"I would not take it on a gold plate."

When questioned for his reasons he said: "Well, for two reasons. The first is that I am not fit for it, and the second is that I would not live thirty days in the office. My only ambition is to take a rest and enjoy life after I complete my duties."

"Does this mean that you will not seek a re-election to the Senatorship?"

"That," answered he, "depends on circumstances."

In reply to queries as to a current story to the effect that he would be in the next Cabinet of the republic, Senator Quay said:

"There is not a word of truth in it."

Will Harrison Marry?

The most intimate friends of ex-President Harrison here are settling down to the belief that he intends to marry Mrs. Mary Dimmink. Those who were the most sceptical a few days ago now admit that the conduct of the general indicates there is a foundation for the story.

A score of newspaper men have called at the Harrison homestead since Sunday night to ask about the report. They have invariably been denied information. The general has firmly refused to discuss the subject at all.

This is not in keeping with the general's rule. His name has been coupled with this or that woman frequently during the last year, and when asked about it his answer invariably was, "There is not a word of truth in it."

One of the men who is closest to General Harrison said to me to-day: "The members of the family have been wondering for several months if such a thing would likely occur. The general's frequent trips to New York gave rise to the gossip. It is true that the general has been 'fixing up' his home in North Delaware street."—Indianapolis special, of 11th, to New York Herald.
