THE FOUST JURY.

Unable to Agree—out Since Saturday Morning.

Judge Starbuck finished his charge to the jury in the Foust case Saturday morning about 10 o'clock.

The jury took the case and spent all the day and night and yesterday debating over it. It was stated, with how much accuracy we are unable to say, that they stood seven for manslaughter and five for acquittal.

They were "guests" of the McAdoo and had a fine time. Some one suggested that they would probably never agree as long as they were so well fed—stopping at a swell hotel and feeding high.

Jurymen get queer notions in their heads. It is the opinion of all disinterested lawyers who heard the evidence, as well as everybody else, that it is a plain case of manslaughter at least. His Honor, Judge Starbuck, charged directly for murder in the second degree and that is really what the offence is; but all men don't see alike and it is perhaps well that they don't.

They came into court this morning and asked Judge Starbuck to tell them what manslaughter was—they could not agree as to what it was. He explained it fully again and they retired.

Nothing more has since been heard from them and as we go to press they are still debating.—Monday's Greensboro Record.

Not a Native of Cabarrus.

Mr. John P Allison was on the delayed train last Friday on which Commissioner Joe Foil, Esq. G E Ritchie and others were, returning from Atlanta.

Mr. Allison, all the time he was there, did not meet up with any Cabarrus people, though a large number were there. Even in the long ride from Atlanta he was not aware that anyone from God's country were on the train.

But on the Exposition grounds Mr. Allison met up with a former Cabarrus man, now of Arkansas. He was John Scott, son of Rufus Scott, late of Mt. Pleasant, this county. This family went west some 14 years ago.

HEAVY FAILURE.

James B. Pace of Richmond, Makes an Assignment—The Total Liabilities $1,000,000.

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 14.—The failure of Mr. James B. Pace, president of the Planters' National Bank, was announced this afternoon. He has made the bank secure by deeding to it $200,000 worth of real estate which will cover his liabilities to that institution. The total liabilities are about $1,000,000, and the creditors are in five classes. The Virginia Trust Company, of which Mr. Pace was also president, is preferred. His son is a creditor of third-class in the sum of $100,000. In the fifth and last class are northern creditors in sums aggregating $600,000.

Mr. Pace resigned as president of the bank and as a director. Mr. J J Montague succeeded him in the former position and Mr. T O Williams in the latter. The bank is made absolutely secure and has plenty of currency to meet all demands, besides all the other banks have pledged any assistance that may be needed.

Mr. Pace has been sick and his business suffered by his absence. The direct cause of the failure is inability of friends, whose paper he held, to meet their obligations. He has, too, been unfortunate in speculation in cotton.

The property transferred by Mr. Pace to secure the bank, includes his $100,000 mansion and the Pace block. Mr. Pace was looked upon as one of the wealthies and most solid business men in the city. Mr. Pace was interested in many concerns and is a large tobacco manufacturer. A few years ago he gave $60,000 to erect Park Place Methodist Church.

Mt. Pleasant's No North Pole.

The Organ church correspondent of the Salisbury Herald says: "Mr. O Brown Cox, who has been studying theology at Gettysburg, Pa., for the past five months, will be home on a visit in a few days and will stay about three weeks. The people of Rowan need not expect to have him with them much, for there is at the North Pole of Cabarrus, an object that attracts his attention very much."

Fire at Exposition.

Monday morning fire was discovered in the Mexican village of the Atlanta Exposition.

A large two story building was completely destroyed, with no insurance. The personal effects lost amount up in to the thousands.

One man lost his life, being suffocated, and others injured.

Hard to Manage Even a Church Paper.

The following is a report of what took place at the North Carolina Conference relative to the N. C. Christian Advocate: "Then came the contest over the paper. Conference decided on change of relationship with the Advocate, demanding the right to control the editorial management. The owners refused and claimed a perpetual obligation of unconditional support. The committee presented a compromise paper. The friends of the owners were in a minority. Eloquent speeches were made by Rev. R B John, against the owners' proposition, and Dr. Swindell for it. The Conference separated from the paper and appointed a committee to act with a Western North Carolina Conference committee if they will appoint one, to buy or establish a paper or, if necessary, to establish a paper separately. The Conference acted reluctantly but by 37 majority."

When a whole body has a knack at a newspaper, there will be no end to trouble. Every one will have his "say-so."

Delivered up His Prize.

A scheme has been on foot for several days in which William V Snider was to elope with one Zillie Griffin, both of Forest Hill, but their romantic career was interfered with and the girl returned to the humble roof of her parents. Zillie was an operative at Odell's mill, and went to her work as usual this morning, but her father and brother were suspecting something of the kind and watched the girl with attentive eyes. Shortly after the mill started up, her lover appeared in one of the doors of No. 4 mill, gave the signal for the girl and both left with hearts brim full of love to the great goal of life. They were pursued, however, by the girl's brother, who overtook the couple near the Reformed church on Church street and at the point of a pistol commanded Snider to dismiss the girl and let her return home, which the young girl did reluctantly, who is now in the confines of her own room downcast but not disheartened.

Snider intended going to South Carolina although he procured his license at the Register's office last night. All this happened just at day break this (Tuesday) morning.
