THE FIGHT RE OPENED.

Biblical Recorder's Significant Editorial Comment—"State Aid" Feeling Among Baptists Strong as Ever—Dr. Kilgo's Stand Puts a Strong Team Against the University.

That the anti-State aid, or as popularly called, the anti-University, fight has been opened again by the recent and repeated lectures of Dr. Kilgo, of Trinity College, on "Christian education," was significant; that the Biblical Recorder, the organ of the Baptist denomination and the leader in the anti-State aid fight, should thus early take occasion to again declare that the Baptists will stick up to the principle and again force their view to the front, is more significant still.

The following is an editorial which will be published in tomorrow's Recorder: "Speaking from a secular point of view, it is apparent from the action and the spirit of the Baptist State Convention at Greensboro that the Baptists in North Carolina are determined to persist in their opposition to State aid to higher education. Their principles are behind their opposition, and they will cling to them. It is worthy of note in this connection that a gentleman of Virginia declared to the convention that the same principles are finding lodgment in the minds of the people of Virginia; and also, that the recent Constitutional Convention of South Carolina emphatically refused, after a great struggle, to accept an amendment contrary to these principles. It is now a characteristic of the average Baptist in North Carolina that he is opposed to State aid to higher education; and misrepresented though he has been, as seeking the destruction of institutions, he is not the less sure of the justness of his contention or the ultimate prevalence of his principles."

So when the next Legislature meets it appears that President Winston will have to fight again with an almost united Baptist denomination; and in place of the late Dr. Durham, it looks as though the brilliant Methodist up at Durham will also take the field. Whether the latter can carry with him the Methodist denomination, which this spring was friendly to the University, is doubtful.

That, however, he will try to do so, does not seem in the least improbable. His recent speeches before the two Methodist conferences would certainly point that way.—Raleigh Press-Visitor.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
