HILEMAN'S HIGH HAND.

Mr. Julian Was Paid—The Treasurer Ruled Him Out for Double Office Holding and Took Him Back Into the Fold.

There was right much plotting at the recent meeting of the joint Legislative Committee appointed by the last Legislature to examine the State Treasurer's books. Mr. Worth's books were found to be in excellent condition, but the Populist members of the committee wanted to find more. They almost wanted to resolve themselves into a judiciary.

The Stewart Brothers, whose names are not unknown in North Carolina current history, and the same who have the State Printing done, notified their Populist brethren to keep a sharp and acute vigilance for the entry of any bills in State books for printing work done through any other than the Winston agency.

Ambrose Hileman, he of the false prophets, was chief among the watchmen. Hileman's Svengali eyes were always on the lookout and their vigilance was duly rewarded. Mr. Hileman found several items in favor of a Raleigh firm which he deemed were not given out in accordance with the law. It was the intention of these high muck-a-mucks to ignore the items above mentioned as well as others under the head of "contingencies," but Ambrose, the great, and his allies were induced to pass them over until the final report is made next year to the Legislature. Ambrose will probably recommend that the Legislature not recognize them.

The committee was not without its ups and downs. After adjournment had been taken, Mr. Julian presented his expense bill to Treasurer Worth.

This gentleman, who carefully guards the coffers of the Treasury, declined to cash the gentleman's bill until he had consulted the Attorney General on the subject. Mr Worth refused Mr. Julian the amount asked for, on the ground that he held two offices and was an illegal member of the committee. Mr. Julian holds the position of Deputy Collector.

Mr. Osborne sustained Mr. Worth. But he did more. He stated that if Mr. Worth raised the question, the work of the entire week would be null and void and the Governor would have to appoint his successor. Mr. Worth immediately decided that he would not raise the question, for there was the ashes in his fire place of hundreds of thousands of dollars in coupons, which could not be recounted.

While Mr. Julian is still a member of the committee, when the next annual meeting in '96 occurs, objection will likely be raised and his successor appointed.—Raleigh Press-Visitor.

Looking for the Needy.

Rev. J O Alderman, of the Baptist church, spent Christmas Day inquiring of physicians, ministers, policemen and others whether they knew of any needy families in Concord. He, himself, went in sections where sufferings were more likely to be found if in existence at all.

From all the information obtained and by his own personal search, only one family in actual need could be found. This family had no wood, no money, nothing to eat, and in addition two members of the family were down with sickness and none of them had employment.

This is a remarkable showing where 6000 souls are gathered together and where barrooms, too, do not exist—you know it was alleged that Local Option would ruin the business of the town.

A Pounding.

Mr. Editor—Please give us space in your excellent paper to express our gratitude to the good people of Mt. Pleasant and Cold Springs, for a most superb pounding. About fifty good looking, well dressed persons old and young composed the company.

They moved with stately step-pings in the charge they made, took possession of our dining room and crowned our table with bounties in great measure, and when the room was no longer to be found on the table they unloaded under it and even crowded the children's dining room bench with four sacks of flour. No such pounding ever happened in Christendom. They brought sugar, coffee, butter, apples, lard, sausage, ham, turkey, chickens, soda, turnips, potatoes, punkins, flour, soap, kraut, canned fruit, dried fruit, rice, apple butter, dried beans and cake of different kinds.

They also brought two fine rocking chairs and a beautiful lounge and several other things for parsonage. I never served a kinder people, the love of our hearts go out to them in gratitude. M. D. GILES.
