AMERICA CAN COMPETE.

Mr. Carnegie has closed a contract with Japan for 9,000 tons of steel rails. What becomes of the bugaboo about the "pauper labor" of Europe when Mr. Carnegie can underbid European steel rail makers on such a contract as this?—Greensboro Record.

America has passed the age of infant industries and needs no protection to compete. She is sending her various kinds of goods into all the leading countries of the world, while of course she receives goods from them. This forever seeking to turn trade from its natural channels into some artificial and forced way does not invite a ready current and works an abnormal condition. The protective tariff stimulates production at the expense of the consumer till production is overdone and the impoverished consumer is driven to new and even distressing methods of retrenchment till markets are glutted, mills closed down and men, women and children suffering for bread. Natural channels are safest and work least injury to all classes. Tariff for revenue or no tariff at all!

Although it is commonly supposed that the American Indians are rapidly disappearing, it is nevertheless a fact that 250,000 Indians, exclusive of those in Alaska, are still to be found in the western plains. "Between the various tribes," says the San Francisco Post, "there is a wide difference in language, dress, manners and temperament. For instance, the Apaches are degraded, ignorant, savage and war like, while the Flandrean Sioux are peaceful, progressive and frugal. The great mass of Indians are self-supporting and only about one-fourth receive assistance from the government. Probably one of the richest tribes in the world are the 1,500 Ojage Indians, who have, in addition to a large reservation, homes and cattle, more than $8,000,000 in the United States treasury, for which they receive $100,000 each quarter. There are about 20,000 Indians attending the public schools, and that the money expended on these institutions is not wasted is shown by the progress made in music, penmanship, art and mechanical pursuits."

Wise Words.

Turn a thinker loose, and you shake the world.
Don't form lifelong friendships in three days.
The smaller the soul the bigger a dollar looks.
Don't have "heart talks" with every man you know.
The road to poverty is easy to find, but hard to travel.
The truest end of life is to know that life never ends.
Fortune's wheel is always overloaded on the under side.
A good character is in all cases the fruit of personal exertion.
Doing good is the only certainly happy action of a man's life.
A lazy man is always going to do great things—after a while.
There's nothing agrees worse than a proud mind and a beggar's purse.
It takes a young man many years to distinguish himself from a genius.
If eyes are the windows of the soul, a good many people must have cross-eyed souls.
Most people will have very little use for the man who tells them a disagreeable truth.
If we would build on a sure foundation in friendship, we must love our friends for their sakes rather than for our own.—The South-West.

A Simple Disinfectant.

A simple disinfectant to use in a sick room is made by putting some ground coffee in a saucer and in the center a small piece of camphor gum. Light the gum with a match and as the gum burns allow the coffee to burn with it. The perfume is refreshing and healthful as well as inexpressive.—Winston Sentinel.

The fac-simile signature of Charles H. Ditcher is on every wrapper.

Fifty Years Ago.

This is the way it was bound to look when grandfather had his "pictur took." These were the shadows cast before the coming of Conjuror Daguerre and his art; like a girl in a pinafore some day to bloom to a goddess fair. Men certainly were not as black, we know as they pictured them, 50 years ago.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

began to make new men, just as the new pictures of men began to be made. Thousands of people fronted the camera with skins made clean from blotch and blemish, because they had purified the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is as powerful now as then. Its record proves it. Others imitate the remedy; they can't imitate the record:

We sell as good Tinware as any house in Concord. Our prices are the lowest to be had. Recently one of our customers tried to exchange produce for a gallon bucket. They asked 15c, and when he spoke of the Racket selling cheaper he was told they did not handle cheap shoddy stuff like the Racket handled. Theirs was triple plated besides. The man came to us; we gave him 15 cents to buy the bucket, wishing to vindicate ourselves. He brought us the bucket. It was the same size single plate and weighed 1 ounce less than our 10c one. The party took our bucket and left us the "15c" one. See our extra heavy stamped dish pans at 35c.

Granite Dippers 15c.
