GLADSTONE TO THE RELIEF.

England's grand old man is not letting his talents rust, but is filling his lengthened day with noble efforts at philanthropic relief to needy humanity.

Mr. Gladstone cannot look on with indifference at the blood curdling atrocities of Turkey towards her Armenian defendants. The fact that Turkey can continue slaughtering those defenseless people and all the world stands off and looks on, is proof that civilization needs to be very much more developed till suffering humanity will not have to cry in vain for help because the greed of power and territorial acquisitions might suffer some neglect if human misery were looked after. The time honored counsels of the father of his country, that America avoid entangling alliance with European nations was hardly meant to go so far as to disregard the wailings of humanity, and if England needs the cooperation of America to stanch the flow of Christian blood in Armenia it is to be hoped that no hindrances exist.

Could America do a more noble thing than second the movement of England's grand old man?

PARASITES IN DOMESTIC ANIMALS.

The N. C. Agricultural Experiment station has sent out pamphlet on the subject of Parasites of Domestic Animals. It is full of the results of the most minute research into the causes of imperfect health in domestic animals and finds them to be largely due to parasites (that is little insects that feed on the animal) within and without the animal. The pamphlet is full of interesting matter and gives many causes of evil and the remedies of the same. The existence of these pests so often bewilder the owner of the animal and lead to discouragement in enterprise when probably the remedy is at hand if only known. We are sorry the supply of these pamphlets is so limited that we cannot place one in the hands of all our stock owners.

CONTRIBUTED.

The editorial in Friday mornings Charlotte Observer is well worth the perusal of any intelligent voter. Much of its space is given to answering charges made by the News and Observer. That it is logical, no one will deny. It sounds a warning in these very apt words: "Much more important to N. C., that Russell should be defeated than that Bryan or any Democrat—should be elected President."

As a people we know nothing of Russell in this part of the State, we have only heard of his villainy and perfidy, yet it does seem that the Eastern manhood has forgotten the Holden-Kirk war. This same fellow, then a young man, was a circuit Judge, using his high office to prostitute justice and terrorising and horrorising the more influential citizens of his district by acting on the information of his spies. If it is true that some Eastern Democrats will vote for him no more appropriate text could be quoted: "As a dog returns to his vomit; as a sow to her wallow, so an evil man returns to his folly."

The Burlington News has changed editors and proprietors and has also become a weekly instead of a daily. We are sorry to lose from the editorial circles brother Hunt, whom we had just learned to know, but from his own encomiums on the new regime we hope the News will be none the less a welcome factor in our group of exchanges, when edited by Mr. Crowson. Good wishes to the old and welcome to the new!

Banking Sweet Potatoes.

Last spring during the months of April and May the writer sold loads of sweet potatoes in Concord for 60 and 70 cents per bushel. Since then I have received inquiries about banking. Some of them I have answered, and will answer others through THE STANDARD if you will allow me space. Select a place where the water will not stand, elevate the earth about six inches, put wheat straw four inches on this, then put on your potatoes in a conical heap—40 to 60 bushels make a good sized bank—then cover with straw 4 inches thick; get boards that will just reach from bottom to top, stand these around the bank until the straw is covered so that the earth cannot get to the straw, leaving an opening on the south side 2x2 feet. If the boards are not too long there will be an opening on top about 2 feet in diameter. Next cover with earth 8 or 10 inches thick, leaving the openings at the south and top of bank uncovered for ventilation, until real freezing weather, then cover the openings the same as the rest of bank, but on warm days open out your ventilation; shut when cold. Now protect the entire bank with a good roof to keep perfectly dry—and your "taters" are safe.

Organ Church, N. C.

P. S.—Dig as soon as ripe, generally about the middle of October or as soon as leaves are yellow. Handle carefully, as a bruised potato will not keep, it matters not how put up.

Notes From the Organ.

The many little friends of Arthur Bost were glad to see him at home again, after an absence of six weeks. Arthur was visiting at his uncle's, W E Beaver, near China Grove, where he was taken with typhoid fever.

George Cox is attending school near Bethany church, Rev. L M L Lysterly principal.

Mr. Tom Rhinehart, who has been farming on what is known as the Cruse place, is going to move to Mt. Pleasant. Tom and his better half have been living with us for two years, and we are sorry to lose them. Mr. J M Hipp will take his place. Mr. Hipp is no stranger, having lived there three or four years before Mr. Rhinehart got possession.

WHIT

The Same...

Old Sarsaparilla.

That's Ayer's. The same old sarsaparilla as it was made and sold by Dr. J. C. Ayer 50 years ago. In the laboratory it is different. There modern appliances lend speed to skill and experience. But the sarsaparilla is the same old sarsaparilla that made the record—50 years of cures. Why don't we better it? Well, we're much in the condition of the Bishop and the raspberry: "Doubtless," he said, "God might have made a better berry. But doubtless, also, He never did." Why don't we better the sarsaparilla? We can't. We are using the same old plant that cured the Indians and the Spaniards. It has not been bettered. And since we make sarsaparilla compound out of sarsaparilla plant, we see no way of improvement. Of course, if we were making some secret chemical compound we might... But we're not. We're making the same old sarsaparilla to cure the same old diseases. You can tell it's the same old sarsaparilla because it works the same old cures. It's the sovereign blood purifier, and—It's Ayer's.
