WHOLE NO. 1537

These Populist Speeches.

The people were entertained Wednesday by Messrs. Baily and Dockery. Mr. Baily spoke first and confined himself to the financial question. Most of his speech was not new to those who have heard the discussions during the campaign. We do not remember, though, to have heard any one say before that we had dropped from a $52 per capita to the present $21 per capita. He claimed for the Populists the credit for the free silver drift in the Democratic party, and claimed great credit for it. The speaker is young and vehement and is peculiar for his pronouncements rather than his logic.

DOCKERY'S SPEECH.

Mr. Dockery was introduced as the Old War Horse of the Pee Dee. After some words of greeting to the people of Cabarrus he referred to the great money question. He said it was not a political question at all, that it had been unwisely thrust into politics. He declared himself a Republican as ever. He only placed himself where he could wield the sword for free silver. He declared that the Republican party had been the real friend to silver as he could and would prove beyond the possibility of denial. He quoted extracts from speeches of many leading Republicans against the demonetization of silver in whose company he was in Congress and showed that Republicanism had changed and not himself.

He read from President Lincoln in 1865 that while the rebellion was being closed in upon he saw with dread that corporations were springing up and that the wealth of the land was being gathered into the hands of the few. It seemed prophecy then, it is reality now. It was asserted by good authority that 50 men in New York could in 24 hours stop the wheels of progress in every important industry in the land.

He ridiculed the assertion that in the days of greenback currency that inflation had reached a point that had rendered it a question. He asked who ever heard of too much inflation of money?

He strongly denounced the calling in of much of the greenbacks and of issuing bonds for them whose interest was to be paid in current money which was afterward changed to read coin.

He asserted emphatically that the act of '73 was surreptitiously gotten through unaware to President Grant, J G Blaine and James A Garfield as to its effects to demonetize silver.

He held up McKinley in the bad light of denouncing President Cleveland about lowering the price of everything but money and now McKinley is on the same line.

He said he knew McKinley personally and liked him, but that he did not have back-bone enough to roll over in a mud hole. He touched up "Jeter" and quoted him as saying I am in favor of silver and believe it should be restored to its former dignity. He had changed like if by miracle, but the speaker thought it was not by miracle but by an old cooter like Mark Hanna.

He said if free coinage is not good how was it good six months ago when Pritchard and his followers were setting the woods on fire for it in the Western part of the State.

He said he was in favor of a proective tariff but a reasonable rate. He was strongly against the McKinley idea of a tariff. He had been in the South American States and the islands of the West Indies, and he asked "Why don't you trade more with us" when they would say you charge us a tariff higher than the price of our goods."

He declared his aversion to the Republican national platform. He liked the money plank in the Democratic platform, but liked that of the Populist platform better, so he would roost on the Populist limb till free silver was realized, then he would return to the Republican ranks and work wherever they put him, but until they endorsed free silver confound them. He never wanted to be Governor, but when pressed he consented to run, and he hated like the devil to be cheated out of the election as the Democrats had done.

He addressed the few colored people who he said had been told not to go to hear him, and warned them against voting for Daniel Russell. He said he was a dangerous, evil designing man that would never forgive an injury, but would indulge his spite as he had done in calling the negroes savages and thieves and other vile names and declared they ought not to be allowed to vote. He was not surprised that Russell would not meet Guthrie or Watson or anybody else who would tell on him.

He did not see how building factories would help the colored man.

He said the first vote Guthrie cast was for Bishop Hood, whom he praised most highly and said whenever Bishop Hood was in his neighborhood he always kept him in his home.

Mr. Sims and the Resolution.

The resolution drawn up and adopted by the conference committees of the Populist and Republican parties of this county, which by the way is the most partisan, discriminating scheme that has ever been designed and presented to the public, has caused Mr. Sims and other members of his party to disagree, the Sheriff claiming the resolution as a direct thrust at him. The resolution reads: "The conference committee demands that no Populist or Republican can be elected to any office who will not enthusiastically work for the co-operation ticket and who will refuse to give employment to members of the Populist and Republican parties when he has it in his power to do so, but gives said employment to members of opposing parties." The resolution is signed by M H H Caldwell, J B White, M L Buchanan, J W Boger and W C Coleman.

At the district school house in No. 4 township Thursday a fiery discussion took place between Sheriff Sims and Morrison Caldwell. Sims says that the resolution was intended as a thrust at him because he employed Montgomery & Crowell, Democrats, as his attorneys, when a Populist lawyer was available, and that he gave employment to Mr. M M Gilloa, a Democrat, in preference to a populist of Republican. Caldwell made a miserable effort in trying to defend the resolution and his party, but Mr. Sims finally squeezed the admission from Caldwell that the resolution was strictly partisan.

Just what Mr. Sims means by his attack upon his party and the ones who designed the resolution, puzzles them very much. The fight is amusing and to the disinterested on-lookers and followers of the canyass the daily performance is amusing.

Mr. Sims was asked if he would not run as an independent candidate for Sheriff, and in answering he stated that he would let the public know what he intended doing on Friday next, October 30, in No. 11 township.

IN SOCIETY'S REALM.

Did You Ever See a Cake Walk? Those Young Folks Who Enjoyed the Unusual Sight.

At the palatial home of Judge and Mrs. W J Montgomery, on North Main street, their accomplished daughter, Miss Mary Montgomery, entertained a host of friends Thursday night, the occasion being a cake walk. The participants in this novel amusement were: Misses Calaway, Emma White, Lizzie Young, Fannie Young, Willie Richmond, Sallie Erwin, Isabelle Richmond, Mary Ramseur, Mollie Dodson, Janie Richmond, Nannie Cannon, Ida Dodson, Addie Cannon, Mary Montgomery; Messrs. Edgar B Sherrill, C A Pamplin, Walter Thompson, R K Black, Holland Thompson, R L Keesler, C L White, L M Marsh, Ed. F White and CR Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. J P Allison, Mr. H S Puryear and Mr. C A Pamplin were the judges, and at the conclusion of the walk it was decided that Mr. Walter R Thompson and Miss Sallie Erwin were the most graceful, and "took the cake." Prof. R L Keesler and Miss Mary Montgomery won the booby prize—a penny, and the ring fell to the lot of Mr. Ed. F White.

Dr. and Mrs. W C Houston, Mr. and Mrs. L D Coltrane and Mrs. J B Sherrill were also present.

The entertainment was a decided success and was highly enjoyable. Much praise is given Miss Montgomery as a hostess.

Dr. Miles' Pain Pills stop Headache.

Sometimes an apparently dead man may be revived—may be resuscitated. Sometimes it is often hard to tell whether the man is dead or alive. We hear of people who have been buried alive. A man must be completely dead before hope should be abandoned. It used to be true that when a man found he had consumption, he gave up immediately. Consumption was considered a necessarily fatal disease. It was considered incurable. As soon as it developed enough so that a physician could decide that it was really consumption the patient was considered as good as dead. Years ago, Dr. Pierce found out that consumption was not incurable, that it was not necessarily fatal. He not only found this out, but he found out a way to cure consumption. He introduced his "Golden Medical Discovery." The "Discovery" will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption if it is taken according to directions. Consumption is a disease of the blood, and by the existence of disease germs in the system. If the body is perfectly pure and healthy, and the blood perfectly pure, germs are easily thrown off. If the body is weak, if the tissues are incapable of much resistance, the germs find a resting place and develop. That's the way consumption begins.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" searches out the germs, forces them out of the system and cures consumption and other kindred diseases of the throat, bronchia and lungs. No doubt about it, no question about it. It has done it in hundreds and thousands of cases. The "Discovery" is sold at drug stores.

The Morgan & Wright Guarantee.

The guarantee of the "good tire" is broad enough to cover almost any kind of ailments and to satisfy the most exacting rider, but the line must be drawn somewhere, and Morgan & Wright are trying to make it known to riders everywhere that the guarantee does not cover damages resulting from the carrying of anti-leak preparations inside the tire. By having as much air as possible in the M. & W. quick-repair tire before putting the tool into the puncture, and following the few other simple instructions in the catalogue, a permanent repair can be made in two minutes, at the roadside, without removing the tire from the rim.

Dr. Miles' Pain Pills are guaranteed to stop Headache in 20 minutes. "One cent a dose."
