THE TERRIFIC STORM.

A Hundred Vessels Go Ashore and Many More Lives Lost in the Blizzard of Saturday and Sunday.

While the dry winds were almost lifting us off our feet Saturday night that only made us draw up our wraps the closer and seek refuge in our good warm rooms, there was dire distress on our Northeastern coasts. From Penobscot, Maine, to New London, Conn., the storm was terrific, and it is estimated that at least 100 vessels of various sizes went ashore. The loss of life is estimated to be at least 140.

The steamer Portland is missing and it is greatly feared that she has gone down with 50 or 75 passengers.

In New York City the snow was ten inches deep and the wind was a hurricane. A number of lives were lost by exposure, chiefly those though afflicted with the drink habit.

The blizzard is said to be the worst on the New England coast since 1851. Business was greatly crippled.

Dispatches from Chicago say that even on the great lakes there was much damage to shipping.

His New Name.

Mr. W M Weddington called to say to THE STANDARD this (Tuesday) morning that an event transpired at his home during the night that locates a new centre of attraction about his home, and and sounds not essentially joyful and yet musical. Everybody wears the air of gladness. It even affects him in a way never before experienced in that it seems to put a crown on his gradually frosting locks and clothes him with a new sense of pride. It has even attached a new appellation to him.

He does not know just yet how he shall take being called grandpa, but any way he is prepared to retaliate by saying, grand-son.

SPAIN YIELDS

To Our Terms—Thinks the Terms Hard But Can't Resist—Minutia Yet to Adjust.

Spain has yielded to America's conditions, namely, the giving up of Cuba, Porto Rica and the Philippines and receives for the latter $20,000,000. Only the minutia of the treaty now remain to be adjusted, when the Paris treaty commission will adjourn. It will require probably two weeks.

The scene was quite pathetic when the Spanish Commissioners entered with depression depicted on their countenances and handed Spain's reply, which briefly summed, meant that Spain thinks the United States too severe on her helpless foe. She looks upon the terms as very hard but she is in no condition to do otherwise than accept them.

The document was short and the meeting brief. There was not, however, and further caveling or evading.

Thanksgiving Exercises at Mt. Pleasant.

Thanksgiving exercises were held in Holy Trinity Lutheran Church Thursday morning. After a beautiful anthem rendered by the choir, Rev. Lynn preached a very able and practicable sermon from the text, "He hath not dealt so with any nation," found in the first clause of the twentieth verse of the one hundred and forty-seventh Psalm.

Also at night the young people of the church rendered a public missionary exercise. The exercise was opened with solo by Miss Maggie Lynn, after which the address of welcome was delivered by Master Gordon Bowers. The exercise consisted of songs and recitations. The address of the evening was delivered by Rev. Prof. Scherer, of the college, who spoke for some time on "Why Children Engage in Missionary Work."

After President Scherer's address, which was very practicable and to the point, a very beautiful solo was rendered by Miss Maggie McAllister, also a recitation by Misses Agnes Cook and Lucile Lynn.

The collection amounted to about $12. Much credit is due the efficient manager and president of the society, Miss Blanche McAllister, for the excellent manner in which the children performed their parts. In a word, the large audience felt that it was good to have been present.

May this little band always prosper and be a shining light to its environments.

A VISITOR.

Concord's Census Taken Again.

To be handed in to the county commissioners, a census has been taken of the number of white and colored children in Concord, and the population of our city was also taken in addition. Mr. Christenbury Holshouser was appointed the census taker, and has completed his rounds. The population statistics show Concord to be gradually increasing each year. The whole number of school children, including white and colored, amounts to 2,498—1,989 whites and 509 colored. The whole population of Concord is shown to be 7,156—5,348 whites and 1,808 colored. Our population in 1896 did not reach 7,000, but we are now well started on the road to 8,000, which we will reach soon.

Some Very Shameful Conduct.

On Sunday afternoon three white men were seen on Spring street and afterwards found on the corner at the Lutaker building. Some one in their crowd was heard to curse a lady of our town after they had passed her. They afterwards came in sight of Rev. Logan (col.) and his wife. Then they commenced to curse and abuse them without any provocation in the least. The matter has partly been investigated, and the names of the three persons have been obtained. If possible the guilty one, whichever it is, will suffer a penalty, as such conduct should not be tolerated, making it unsafe for a lady to walk along upon our streets. As for their cursing Rev. Logan, we deem it nothing more than just to say that there is not a colored man in Concord who has the esteem of the best of our people more than this man, and when one acts as he does the people will be in favor of the prosecution of such characters as those that were on the streets Sunday afternoon.

The Pythians Have a Function Tonight.

Only the members of the Knights of Pythias will enjoy a banquet and addresses tonight. Grand Chancellor Franklin, of Charlotte, together with Messrs. Summey and Jordan, of that place, will address the members of the lodge. After this part of the program is finished, all will repair to the St. Cloud hotel where birds on toast and oysters will be served.

Two members will be taken through the first rank.
