"My Uncle From Japan" Tonight.

The Murray-Hart Co. arrived here yesterday from Salisbury and will render their up-to-date laughing success, "My Uncle from Japan," in three acts.

This promises to be a highly entertaining play, being filled with popular songs, balads, etc., together with sayings of the most comical nature.

The troupe comprises twelve members, nine of which will be on the stage tonight.

You can not afford to miss this evening's amusement. The curtain will be drawn about 8.30 o'clock.

IN A HYPNOTIC SLEEP.

Thousands Gaze at Stanley Warde Sleeping in a Show Window.

The exhibition of Professor Lee's powers certainly attracted widespread attention in Atlanta yesterday. Hundreds flocked to the Lyceum theater to see the performances while thousands flocked to the show window on Peachtree street to gaze at Warde, who has never regained consciousness since the minute he was told to sleep by the hypnotist. So immense were the crowds that it was necessary to detail a special policeman to stand by the window and order the pedestrians to move on and not block the side walk.

Warde was put to sleep at the Lyceum last night and is to sleep two days and three nights without food or water, while all the functions of the body excepting the heart and lungs are suspended.

Warde slumbered as perfectly as an infant. He acted with perfect naturalness, exactly as a man would in a sleep. Occasionally he would move an arm or leg or turn over on his side. There is little doubt about the genuineness of his sleep. His every action tends to prove it perfectly.

Every since the man was borne away from the theatre on the couch upon which he is resting crowds have been watching him. Some are so thoroughly interested in the case that they have secured volunteer watchers to keep their eyes on the hypnotic subject every minute of the time that he is expected to sleep. These watchers have alternated in watching him and assert that he has not moved from his couch or touched food or drink since Wednesday evening. — Atlanta Constitution.

Thursday night at Caton's hall Prof. Lee will repeat the above experiment and place the subject in the window of the Cannon & Fetzer Co. Store.

Superior Court Convenes Next Month.

Representative Hartsell, at the recent Legislature, succeeded in having passed the act giving our county four terms of court during the year.

Our next term of court, then, will convene on Monday, the 24th day of April. Judge Shaw will preside at this term of court, this time having been vacant heretoforewith him.

Shooting in Court.

A serious shooting affair took place at Bristol, Va., last Saturday. Gen. Walker, Republican, was contesting with Judge Rhea for a seat in Congress. William A Hamilton is Republican but volunteered his services in behalf of Judge Rhea. A quarrel occurred between Gen. Walker and Hamilton while in court when Walker shot Hamilton and in turn Judge Rhea's private secretary shot Walker twice. Hamilton's wound is believed to be fatal. Gen. Walker's are not serious.
