The Grumbling Habit.

Do not let your child acquire the habit of grumbling. Stop the first beginnings, and it will never become a habit. If there is just cause of complaint, try to remedy it; if there is not possibility of improvement, teach that silent endurance is the best way to meet the inevitable. It is never wise to stay in a place and grumble. If the things you dislike cannot be altered, change your environment. If, on reflection, you decide that, balancing one thing with another, you would rather bear the ills that you know than fly to others that you know not of, bear them in silence.—Home Journal.
