LAW AND ORDER AT DARIEN.

We suppose the end has come of the race troubles at Darien, Ga. The affair, it seems to us, should go a good way to redeeming the Georgians from the Sam Hose stigma. In this case Henry Delegal was charged with foul crime on a white lady. When officers went to arrest him his son, John Delegal, killed one of the officers. The negroes huddled together and refused to let the officers arrest the culprits.

Forty of the rioters were arrested. Twenty eight only were convicted and sentenced to various terms in the penitentiary.

Henry Delegal was acquitted of assault on the woman and John Delegal, who killed the officer, was found guilty of murder but was recommended to the mercy of the court. He was sentenced to life imprisonment. The same sentence was given Edward Delegal as an accomplice.

These negroes were at the mercy of the white people, who could have made it a bloody time, but it is evident that there was no disposition to do them injustice.

The course pursued by the negroes was provoking enough but the straight forward course followed shows them that they must be law-abiding and that being so they shall enjoy all the protection of the law.

BRYAN RINGS CLEAR ON TRUSTS.

In the conference on the Uses and Abuses of Trusts held last week in Chicago Hon. Wm. J. Bryan and Burke Cochrane were the central figures. Mr. Bryan seemed the lion of the occasion by a good lead. He has very strong convictions on the trust issue and stoutly maintains that they can be reached. He harmonizes with the Cleveland idea that they should and could be grappled with best by the individual states. A charter granted by a state should not extend privileges beyond that state except by a license from the national government which should lay the burden on the applicant to prove that it has none of the features of a monopoly or trust.

He declared that a monopoly in private hands is indefensible from any standpoint and is intolerable, nor are there exceptions to the rule.

Mr. Bryan made a masterly effort and fully sustained himself. Mr. Cochrane himself admitted that he agreed with very much that the Nebraskan said. It all points to Bryan for our Democratic national leader in 1900.

A VOICE.

By special requests we publish the following unique poetical expression of admiration for a voice heard in our midst for ten days:

(To Herman A. Wolfsohn.)

He is the angel Israfel
And his heartstrings a lute,
I heard it: my heart and my soul and my will
In a moment of exquisite joy stood still!
I seemed to float on a vast sea
unknown,
And the vastness was filled by
that voice alone.
The throbbing and thrilling went vibrating through
The whole of my being; my soul
onward flew
With the soul of that voice, so sweet and so grand
Till I almost touched on Immanuel's land.
Methinks of all things to mortals
here given
A voice of such power is likeliest to heaven.

MR. ALLISON'S PLAN.

We hope our cotton raisers and dealers will give careful study to the article copied from the Raleigh Post from the pen of our townsman, Mr. J P Allison. Whether or not the plan is feasible it is not ours to say and it can better be determined after an effort is made. We do not understand what the plan in detail would have that would free it from the idea of a trust for controlling prices but that would be one of the tasks for the organization and further developments of the plan. It is evident that the price of cotton is depressing to most raisers. Our hope for relief has been in the manufacture of our cotton crop largely in the South. This, however, is very problematical. It is easy to see that relief is needed but not so easy to see how it is to be effected.

If a genius of manipulation can make it to the interest of those planters or sellers who enter into the plan without extending equal benefits to those who stand aloof, a mountain of difficulties will have been removed. It will be well enough to give the plan due consideration and Mr. Allison's more definite ideas as to detail will be anxiously looked for.

Did the Molar Cause Paralysis.

A curious case is reported by a German dentist, Dr. Muhl Kuhner. One of his patients was a woman of 24, whose right arm and right side of the neck had been paralyzed for two years and a half as a result it was supposed, of a fall and broken arm, and he filled several of her teeth and extracted the much-decayed third molar or wisdom tooth of the right side. The patient returned next day to state that her paralysis had disappeared.—Anderson Intelligencer.

ROBBED THE GRAVE.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: I was in a most dread'ul condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters: and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50cts., guranteed, at Fetzer's Drug Store.

A Teacher's Value to the Public.

"What the teacher is counts for much more than what she knows. A love of children, unlimited tact and infinite patience are the necessary endowments."

"Of course, the ability to teach implies the possession of an education, though no amount of education alone can make a good teacher. While all teachers must know more than they teach, the power to impart to others is the important matter and the one in which tact or ingenuity is absolutely the prime requisite. Moreover, she should be personally a social, intellectual and moral force in the community. The physician and the clergyman have immense opportunities for this uplifting of humanity, yet their advantages are small when compared with those of the teacher, which are practically unlimited. Encouragement and satisfaction in this field of labor never can be dependent upon results, for it is seldom that the teacher is permitted to know what the years of maturity owe to faithful care of the youthful days. The teacher's time is always one of seed sowing, never of harvest."

Should Be Held In Check.

Very few persons have any idea of the immensity of the Southern lumber trade. A tabulated statement of the sales of Southern mills, principally yellow pine, during the past fiscal year amounts to the almost inconceivable quantity of 1,331,000,000 feet, valued at more than twenty-five million dollars. Prices are advancing as the demand increases, and lumber easy of access becomes scarce. The extravagant destruction of our valuable timber land should be prevented by law.—Windors Ledger.

Bids Wanted For Lumber.

Cabarrus wants about 11,000 feet of oak and pine lumber for bridge over Rocky River.

J P Allison, chairman of County Commissioners, will receive bids for it.

A MOTHER TELLS HOW SHE SAVED DAUGHTERS LIFE.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my little daughter much suffering.—Yours truly, Mrs. Geo. F. Burdick, Liberty, R. I. For Sale by M. L. Marsh & Co., Druggist.

NOTICE.

All persons are hereby notified not to haul sand off the lands of R. W. Allison, Ac'd. Those having hauled heretofore, without permission, will be prosecuted for trespass, if they do not report and settle for what they have taken. This notice covers old Mill street, now Cedar street, as that is private property.
