CONCORD, N. C., Sept. 29.

WILL BEAR PATIENT DELIBERATION.

Wayne McVeagh, the attorney for Capt. O M Carter, says with reference to the finding of the court martial against his client that, "a record so saturated with errors of law is impossible in a country governed by law to affirm findings." But few of us have the data from which to form a conclusion save from the the general principle that the court martial heard the evidence and so found. We heard a discriminating lawyer who read the evidence closely say that notwithstanding the finding of the court he always regarded Capt. Carter as innocent.

With the Dreyfus case fresh on our minds we think it well enough to suspend judgement and not feel too much outraged that the findings are not affirmed by the president without due care.

THE STANDARD rarely indulges in column love stories, letters, etc., but drops one in today clipped from the Monroe Enquirer and is probably the effusion of Brother Ashcraft who doubtless speaks whereof he knows. Our chief incentive, however, comes from a reply promised us next week by one of our wittiest correspondents.

DEWEY is a genius of war but he is a genius of discernment and discrimination who can separate the true from the false interviews with him.

Domestic Rates for Porto Rico.

An order has been issued from the department at Washington placing all first-class mail matter within Porto Rico and passing to and from the United States and Porto Rico on equal rates with domestic mail matter. Heretofore Porto Rican mail was subject to foreign rates.

The department has recently given notice that with the close of this year all periodical postage stamps will be destroyed and no more will be issued. These stamps have been sold in sets of 1, 2, 5, 30 and 50 cents and $2, $5, $10, $50 and $100. They have been sold at $5 per set and were bought by individuals largely for stamp collections. Those who have them can command fancy prices for them in time.

The soothing and healing properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a great favorite with the people everywhere. For sale by M. L. Marsh & Co., Druggists.

Will Buy American Stock.

British agents at New Orleans are authorized to buy American mules. The number could not be learned but the St. Louis market anticipates a supply of from 3,000 to 5,000 on the first order. No explanation looks so plausible as that Great Britain expects war in the Transvaal.

A Chicago dispatch of the 27th says a rush order was received by a firm of horse dealers there to purchase all the horses they can get weighing 1,200 pounds.

Dr. Grissom Insane.

The Raleigh correspondent to the Charlotte Observer says that Dr. Eugene Grissom is an inmate of a Colorado asylum. It is now recalled that when his troubles arose in our State and he was ousted from the superintendency of the insane asylum some claimed that he was not sane at the time.

During the civil war, as well as in our late war with Spain, diarrhoea was one of the most troublesome diseases the army had to contend with. In many instances it became chronic and the old soldiers still suffer from it. Mr. David Taylor, of Wind Ridge, Greene county, Pa., is one of these. He uses Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says he never found anything that would give him such quick relief. It is for sale by M. L. Marsh & Co., Druggist

Child Dies of Hydrophobia.

Dollie May Landreth, an 18-month-old child, died in Asheville Thursday afternoon of what is believed to have been a genuine case of hydrophobia. About a month ago while playing in the hall she fell down and screamed when a bull dog sprang on her and bit her fearfully. Hydrophobia was not suspected until the child's symptoms were far advanced. She died amid the most distressing convulsions.

You assume no risk when you buy Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. M. L. Marsh & Co. will refund your money if you are not satisfied after using it. It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel complaints and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and reliable.

Invention For Dimming Electric Lights.

The Times-Visitor says that William Bonner has invented a means of dimming electric lights at will. A very costly way has been found before but this promises to be a perfect success and quite profitable to the inventor.

Under the Apple Blossoms.

"How sweet, how pure they are," she said, breathing the fragrance of the apple blossoms on the branch he bent down to her.

"Like your—like a maiden's love," he added, with designed sentimentality.

"And how quickly they wither and come to naught another similarity," she said, with malice aforethought.

"Or turn hard and sour and fill us with pain and anguish, if, like silly little boys, we think we like them," he amended, grimly, aware of her object.

For half a second she looked into his scowling eyes with a relenting twinkle growing in her own.

"For if we have a little patience they grow sweet and wholesome again, and—delicious for domestic uses—pies, for instance," she whispered, between a laugh and a sigh.

The scowl turned into a bewildered stare. Then heaven sent him a spark of intelligence.

"Mabel," he cried, eagerly seizing her hands, "Mabel, I adore apple pies."

"And—and, Jack, I make very good ones," she murmured, demurely.

And then—all the apple blossoms flushed a delicate pink.

New York Is Painted Red.

New York had the grandest naval parade today according to program that America ever saw. The procession was estimated to be nine miles long, though the most important vessels were flanked by lighter craft. The naval pageant proceeded with the Olympia in the lead up the North River and turned around a steak boat, then took position fronting the mausoleum of Gen. Grant where a salute was fired. It is estimated that a half million spectators witnessed the imposing scene. Rear Admiral Sampson on the New York took second place by the courtesy of Rear Admiral Howison. The bunting used for decoration in the great city might be counted in miles rather than yards and it is estimated that New York has a million visitors to participate in the ceremonies of reception.

Earthquake Was Terrible.

Late advices say that in the recent earthquake in Smyrna one thousand people were killed and eight thousand injured. Two villages and two thousand houses were destroyed.
