Description of Dewey's Sword.

It will be remembered that Congress appropriated as much as $10,000 for the Dewey sword. The following description may appease the curiosity of some as to how such sword is made.

"The sword, except its steel blade and the body metal of its scabbard, is entirely 22-karat gold. On the pommel is carved the name of the battleship Olympia, which was Dewey's flagship at Manila, and the zodiacal sign for December, in which lucky month Dewey was born. Circumclinging these is a closely woven wreath of oak leaves, long employed to indicate and adorn rank.

Below these the pommel is embraced by a gold collar on the front of which are the arms of the United States with the blue field of shield in enamel. Below them are the arms of Vermont, Dewey's native state, with the motto, "Freedom and Unity," and the colors of the shield in enamel. The plain part of the gold collar is decorated with stars and a graceful finish is given to it by a narrow bank of oak leaves. The sword blade is Damascened, with the inscription:

"THE GIFT OF THE NATION TO REAR ADMIRAL GEORGE DEWEY, U. S. N., IN MEMORY OF THE VICTORY AT MANILA BAY, MAY 1, 1898."

The sword grip is covered with fine shark skin bound with gold wire and inlaid with gold stars. The guard is an eagle terminating in a claw which grasps the top in which the blade is set; the eagle's outstretched wings form the guard proper.

The scabbard is of this steel, Damascened in gold, with sprays of a delicate sea plant, the Ross Marinus, typical of fidelity, constancy and remembrance. These sprays are interlaced, stars fill the inner spaces, dolphins the outer spaces. Sprays of oak leaves and acorns secure the ring and trappings of the scabbard; above these on the front of the scabbard is a raised monogram in diamonds, entwining the letters "G. D., and immediately under them are the letters "U. S. N.," surrounded by sprays of the plant.

The ferrule, or lower end of the scabbard, terminates in entwined gold dolphins.

The sword box is of white oak inlaid with black velvet, and at the center of the cover a gold shield surmounted by an eagle and inscribed with a single star and the words, "Rear Admiral Dewey, U. S. N."

A Very Bold, Bad Robbery.

The Troutman correspondent of the Statesville Landmark says, Eli Hartsell, a young man 21 years old, was robbed of $25 and came near being killed on his way home Monday evening. He found himself suddenly seized and thrown down in his wagon by one man, while another robbed him. Then a pistol was placed at his head and fired. The ball passed through his hat without touching his head. He temporarily lost consciousness and when he came to he was alone in the wagon and the horse was running.

Now it is said they are storing electricity in a capsule. It should be taken with a grain of salt.—Philadelphia Times.
