Strange Friends.

Horses are nearly always gentle and so it is not surprising to find friendship between them and smaller animals, though once in a while the choice of their companions is not a little strange. Many are the cases of mutual affection existing between horses and cats, the most famous being that between the Godolphin Arab and a black cat, which on the death of the horse friend refused to leave the body, and when on being driven away went to the hayloft, refused food and died of a broken heart.

More strange, however, was a case in which a horse struck up an acquaintance with a hen and displayed immense satisfaction whenever she came into his stall and rubbed against his legs clucking greeting to her friend.

Dogs and horses generally get on well together, but the following story proves that in some cases the friendship is something more than a mere toleration of each other. A carriage horse accompanied by his stable companion, a retriever dog, to which he was exceedingly attached, was drinking at a trough near the exchange. While the dog was waiting for his friend to finish his draught a large mastiff picked a quarrel with him which ended in a fight. The mastiff, as may be supposed, had the better of the battle, and the retriever was severely bitten. The horse, the moment he heard his friend cry, broke from the man who was holding him, hurried to the rescue, and after kicking the mastiff across the street, returned to the trough and finished his drinking.—St. Louis Republic.

A LIFE AND DEATH FIGHT.

Mr. W. A. Hines of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost miraculous escape from death, says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in Consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even if it cost $5.00 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure Throat, Chest and Lung troubles." Regular size 50c and $1.00 Trial bottles free at Fetzer's Drug Store
